PREFACE

Though this list represents a rather broad selection care has been taken to include nothing not valuable or that would disappoint the interested reader. Few periodical references have been given. To cite all articles in Poole's Index would needlessly add to the bulk of the list, since the Index, either complete or abridged, is in nearly every library. Therefore articles indexed there have been included only when similar material could not be found elsewhere.

Call numbers (i. e. class and book numbers) are given for all books examined in the New York State Library, even though the edition differs from that described in the list; but class number only is given for books in the traveling collection. When books have been examined in other libraries, the name of that library has been substituted for the call number. Books marked e have been personally examined, while e shows that the edition examined differs from that entered in the list. Volume and page numbers are separated by a colon; e. g. 12:95 means volume 12, page 95.

Unsigned notes are by the compiler; sources of other notes are given.

Arrangement under each subject is alphabetic by authors, except in Biography, where it is alphabetic by biographees.

Adams — Adams, C: K. Manual of Historical Literature
Sturgis — Sturgis, Russell & Krehbiel, H: E. Annotated Bibliography of Fine Art
Worcester — Worcester (Mass.) Free Public Library

READING LIST

Renaissance

Burckhardt, Jacob. Civilization of the Renaissance in Italy; authorized translation by S. G. C. Middlemore. 559p. O. Lond. 1892. Sonnenschein 10/6 945.05 B89 e

Published also by Macmillan, $4.

Probably best comprehensive description in one volume of all sides of the renaissance. Book contains many valuable references to Florentine life, literature and art.

Grimm, Herman. Life of Michael Angelo. 1900 927.5 B88 e

See full entry and notes under Painting, p. 27.

Symonds, John Addington. Age of the Despots. 637p. O. N. Y. 1888. Holt $2 945.05 Sy6 e

The author's method is dignified and even severe, but his style is graceful and at times brilliant. Each chapter is a monograph, little dependent for its history on what precedes or follows. Adams, p. 244

One of the best books for a general view of the political, social and religious condition of Italy during the renaissance.

—— Short History of the Renaissance. 354p. por. O. N. Y. 1893. Scribner $3.75 945.05 Sy61 e

An abridgment, approved by the author, of Symonds' works on the renaissance, but giving essentials.

Florence

Duffy, Bella. Tuscan Republics; Florence, Siena, Pisa, and Lucca, with Genoa. 456p. illus. O. N. Y. 1892. Putnam $1.50 (Story of the Nations) 945.5 D87 e

Merits praise for care in compilation and readableness, but lacks the insight and power of historical perspective to suit it to popular use. Chiefly devoted to Florence.

Larned, Josephus Nelson. Florence. (see his History for Ready Reference. 1894. 2:1129–47) 903 qL32 e

Published by C. A. Nichols Co., Springfield, Mass. 6v. Q, $5 each.

Machiavelli, Niccolo. History of Florence; The Prince. N. Y. 1891. Macmillan $1 (Bohn's Lib.) 945.5 M13 e

Written at the command of the pope, who as head of the Medici family, was also ruler of Florence; but it treats of this house with fairness and impartiality. Though not a book of much research or accuracy, it is a work of genius and the most spirited and picturesque history of Italy. Adams, p. 255

The principles and maxims of government laid down in The Prince are the cause of the unsavory reputation attached to Machiavelli. Yet close study of it by modern scholars shows him not to be as black as generally painted.

Napier, Henry Edward. Florentine History, from the earliest authentic records to the accession of Ferdinand 3, grand duke of Tuscany. 6v. D. Lond. 1847. Moxon 54/ 945.5 N16 e

By no means a great book, but one that shows impartiality of judgment, rough energy of expression and honest independence of opinion. Adams, p. 257

Oliphant, Mrs Margaret Oliphant (Wilson). Makers of Florence; Dante, Giotto, Savonarola and their City. 422p. illus. D. N. Y. 1892. Macmillan $2.50 920.0455 O13 e

Weaves in much contemporary history and personal observation, accurate but not profound. It gives all the old traditions which have gathered about the names of famous artists and buildings. Style simple and straightforward. A standard work and good for a beginner in art who has never visited Florence.

Perrens, Francois Tommy. Histoire de Florence. 6v. O. Par. 1877–84. Hatchette 45fr Worcester e

Of the first importance. The author has long been recognized as one of the most learned and judicious students of the middle ages. His style is vivacious and interesting. The chapters on the institutions of Florence are specially worthy of commendation. Adams, p. 259

—— History of Florence from the Domination of the Medici to the Fall of the Republic, 1434–1531; tr. from the French by Hannah Lynch. v.1, 475p. O. Lond. 1892. Methuen 12/6 Worcester e

Complete in three volumes. See note under his Histoire de Florence. This continues the Histoire, which has not been translated.

Symonds, John Addington. Florence and the Medici. (see his Sketches and Studies in Southern Europe. 1880. 1:46–100) 914.5 Sy6 e

Published by Harper, 2v. sq. D, $4.

Also in the Fortnightly Review, Dec. 1, 1877, 28:827 and Jan. 1, 1878, 29:277; and in Living Age, Jan. 12, 1878, 136:67 and Ap. 6, 1878, 137:3.

The most satisfactory short account of the Florentine state, laying special emphasis on the period of greatest glory under the Medici. Scholarly, unusually clear, intensely interesting.

Trollope, Thomas Adolphus. Filippo Strozzi; a history of the last days of Italian liberty. 410p. por. O. Lond. 1860. Chapman 12/ Worcester e Pictures the times more interestingly for general readers than a formal history could.

—— History of the Commonwealth of Florence, from the earliest independence of the commune to the fall of the republic in 1531. 4v. O. Lond. 1865. Chapman 60/ Worcester e

Published also by Macmillan, $12.

The most satisfactory history of Florence written in English, though in some respects much inferior to the work of Perrens and Reumont. It is correct, but somewhat dull, and its most obvious fault is lack of historical perspective. Adams, p. 259

Yriarte, Charles Emile. Florence: its history, the Medici, the Humanists, letters, arts; rev. by M. H. Lansdale. 476p. illus. O. Phil. 1897. Coates $3 Worcester e

Contents: History; The Medici; The renaissance; Illustrious Florentines; Etruscan art; Christian art; Architecture; Sculpture; Painting

Deals but little with general principles of intellectual and artistic movements of the time, consisting chiefly of able biographic sketches of the great Florentines, with some account of their most important works. Comparatively little space is devoted to painters, sculptors and writers. Illustrations are numerous and mostly well executed. There is also a large folio edition with excellent plates.

Biography

General

Symonds, John Addington. Florentine Historians. (see his Age of the Despots. 1888. p.246–333) 945.05 Sy6 e

Cellini

Cellini, Benvenuto. Life of Cellini; newly tr. into English by J: A. Symonds. Ed. 4. 2v. illus. D. N. Y. 1896. Scribner $2.50 927.3 C33 e

Now issued in 1v. $2.

This celebrated book is not valuable as a guide to the immediate intelligent knowledge of fine art, but gives a truthful picture of times of violence and individual independence of law and authority, in which times the great art of the 15th and 16th centuries came into being. Sturgis, p. 3

Cosimo de' Medici

Ewart, K. Dorothea. Cosimo de' Medici. 240p. D. N. Y. 1899. Macmillan 75c (Foreign Statesmen Ser.) 923.245 M46 e

A scholarly, carefully written monograph, showing the better side of Cosimo's character. Specially good for its clear tracing of his foreign policy and the pains taken in portraying the man.

Galileo

Fahie, J. J. Galileo, his life and work. 451p. illus. O. N. Y. 1903. Pott $5 925.2 G134 e

Story of the almost superhuman struggles of a great genius who, amid severe trials, domestic, physical and religious, made a multitude of epoch-making discoveries, any one of which would nowadays command the instant admiration and applause of the world. Such a genius was Galileo, a satisfactory biography of whom, in the English tongue, has now first appeared. Dial, 35:307

Galilei, Galileo. Private Life of Galileo, comp. principally from his correspondence and that of his eldest daughter, sister Maria Celeste, nun in the Franciscan convent of S. Matthew in Arcetri. 307p. por. D. Lond. 1870. Macmillan 7/6 925.2 G13 e

Published also by Macmillan, $1.50.

Very interesting for general readers. Presents Galileo in the most favorable light. Incidentally pictures convent life in the 17th century.

Guicciardini

Lorenzo de' Medici

Armstrong, Edward. Lorenzo de' Medici and Florence in the Fifteenth Century. 449p. illus. map, O. N. Y. 1896. Putnam $1.50 (Heroes of the Nations Ser.) 923.1455 M4a e

A careful, thorough and interesting piece of biographic work, written in a graphic and delightful style, and condensing into one volume whole libraries of charges, explanations, refutations and accusations. Literary World, May 16, 1896, 27:150

Carpenter, Edith. Lorenzo de' Medici; an historical portrait. 216p. D. N. Y. 1893. Putnam $1 923.1455 M4c e

An admirable short study, discriminating between the overzealous admiration of Roscoe and the undue severity of Reumont. The author pictures Lorenzo as the typical figure of that many-sided and brilliant age. Literary World, Oct. 21, 1893, 24:353

Reumont, Alfred von. Lorenzo de' Medici, the Magnificent; tr. from the German by Robert Harrison. 2v. O. Lond. 1876. Smith, Elder 30/ 923.1455 e

Not so much a biography of Lorenzo as a history of Italy at the time when Lorenzo was its most important figure. The most striking merits of the work are its industry, accuracy and rigid impartiality. Adams, p.259

Roscoe, William. Life of Lorenzo de' Medici, called the Magnificent. Ed. 8, rev. by his son, Thomas Roscoe. 564p. D. Lond. 1846. Bohn 3/6 (Bohn's Illus. Lib.) 923.1455 M4 e

Published also by Macmillan, $1 n.

Highly entertaining in style, but inaccurate and unreliable. Some mistakes have been corrected in the later editions. Adams, p.259

Machiavelli

Dyer, Louis. Machiavelli and the modern state; chapters on his "Prince," his use of history and his idea of morals. 163p. D. Bost. 1904. Ginn $1 854.31 D e

Greene, George Washington. Machiavelli. (see his Historical Studies. 1850. p.46–81) 814.39 G83 e

Published by Putnam, 467p. D, $1.25.

Macaulay, Thomas Babington. Machiavelli. (see his Essays and Lays of Ancient Rome. 1896. p.28–51) 824.83 L1l2 e

Published by Longmans, 898p. D, 3/6.

Gives a sketch of the times which he thinks necessary for the understanding of Machiavelli's character, defends him against various charges, and reviews his writings at some length. Style vivid and scholarly.

Morley, John. Machiavelli; the Romanes lecture delivered in the Sheldonian theatre, June 2, 1897. 63p. O. N. Y. 1897. Macmillan 50c n 923.245 M131 e

Superior in grace and moderation to Macaulay's admirable study, and besides being the latest is much the best word said about Machiavelli and his survival. Graceful and scholarly. Critic, Oct. 2, 1897, 31:185

The statesman of the renaissance who best illustrates the effect of its religious, philosophic and humanistic influences.

Symonds, John Addington. The "Prince" of Machiavelli. (see his Age of the Despots. 1888. p.334–70) 945.05 Sy6 e

Villari, Pasquale. Life and Times of Niccolo Machiavelli; tr. by Madame Linda Villari. Ed. 3. 2v. O. Lond. 1892. Unwin 32/ 923.245 e

Revised ed. 1v. 7/6. Published also by Scribner, $10; Popular ed. $2.50.

The most satisfactory work. The theory of the author is that an adequate explanation of Machiavelli's character can only be found in a study of the man and his times as revealed specially in his unpublished writings. To this task he has applied himself with unusual assiduity and success. Adams, p.247

Savonarola

Creighton, Mandell. [Savonarola] (see his History of the Papacy during the Reformation. 1887. 3:146–51, 184–88, 215–48) 282 e

Published by Longmans, 5v. O, v. 1–4, o.p. v. 5, $5.

Lucas, Herbert. Fra Girolamo Savonarola; a biographical study based on contemporary documents. 474p. O. Lond. 1899. Sands 7/6 n 922.245 Sa93 e

Published also by Herder, St Louis, 1899, $2 n.
Savonarola has never been studied with greater impartiality than by Father Lucas. He has no prepossessions, is master of the best ancient and modern authorities, deals plentifully in citations from both and writes alluringly. Academy, Aug. 5, 1899, 57:127

Milman, Henry Hart. Savonarola. (see his Savonarola, Erasmus and Other Essays. 1870. p.1–75) 204 e

Published by Murray, 500p. O, 15/.

Villari, Pasquale. Life and Times of Girolamo Savonarola; tr. by Linda Villari. 2v. illus. O. Lond. 1888. Unwin 21/ Worcester e

New ed. 1v. 7/6. Published also by Scribner, $6; Popular ed. $2.50.
This work is based on much original research and on new documents of great importance. It may be considered the only one which does full justice to the life and public services of Savonarola. The work of an eminent scholar who has made a special study of the period of the renaissance. Adams, p. 248

GOVERNMENT AND SOCIETY

Biagi, Guido. Private Life of the Renaissance Florentines. (see Blackwood's Mag. March 1893, 153:327–51) e

Published separately by Unwin, 1896, 3/6 n.

Bianciardi, Mrs Elizabeth D. R. Florentine Family in the Fifteenth Century. (see her At Home in Italy. 1884. p.234–64) Worcester e

Published by Houghton, 300p. D, $1.25.
Also in the Atlantic Monthly, Nov. 1881, 48:672–81.
Tells of the domestic life of the Strozzi family, specially that of the women.

Burckhardt, Jacob. Civilization of the Renaissance. 1892 945.05 B89 e

[Florence] p.73–87

Society and Festivals, p.359–428

Discusses equalization of classes, outward refinement of life, language as the basis of social intercourse, higher forms of society, perfect man of society, position of women, domestic economy, the festivals.

Duffy, Bella. Commerce, Manufactures and Finance. (see her Tuscan Republics. 1892. p.236–48) 945.5 D87 e

Florentine Tradesman's Diary. (see Saturday Review, Nov. 24, 1883, 56:655, 730, 829) e

A review of the diary of Luca Landucci, from 1450 to 1516, covering the most momentous epoch of Florentine history. Lacks grace of style, but records what he saw and thought from day to day.

James, Edmund Janes. History of Mechanical Labor. (see McNeill, G: E. ed. Labor Movement. 1886. p.21–44) 331 M23 e

Published by A. M. Bridgman, New York, 615 p. O, $3.75.
Describes medieval gilds.

May, Sir Thomas Erskine. [Democracy in Florence] (see his Democracy in Europe. 1877. 1:297–99, 303–12, 323–29) 342 M45 e

Published by Longmans, 2v. O, 32/; also by Armstrong, New York, 2v. $2.50.
Traces vicissitudes of popular government in Florence.

Oliphant, Mrs Margaret Oliphant (Wilson). A Peaceful Citizen. (see her Makers of Florence. 1892. p.164–93) 920.0455 Ol3 e

Piozzi, Mrs Hester Lynch Thrale. Florence. (see her Glimpses of Italian Society in the Eighteenth Century. 1892. p.150–78) 914.5 P65 e

Published by Seeley, 327p. O, 6/; also by Scribner, $2.
Shrewd observations of a visit to Florence in 1785.

Scaife, Walter Bell. Florentine Life during the Renaissance. 248p. O. Baltimore 1893. Johns Hopkins Press $1.50 (Johns Hopkins University Studies in Historical and Political Science) 945.5 Sca3 e

Scholarly and fascinating. Discusses in condensed diction all phases of Florentine life, and compresses into 250 pages enough material for three volumes; yet the style is by no means dry. Its broad scope and accurate detail make it permanently valuable. Critic, Dec. 23, 1893, 23:411

[Florentine Guilds] p.152–60

Describes each gild separately.

The Government, p.21–52

Compact and clear presentation.

Private Life, p.75–99

Best article on the subject. Treats of position of women, family life, marriage customs etc.

Scott, Leader, pseud. Florentine Lodge. (see her Cathedral Builders. 1899. p.308–44) 723 B33 e

Published by Scribner, 435p. O, $6.
The Florentine gild of architects and some of its members.

Trollope, Thomas Adolphus. [Taxation in Florence] (see his History of the Commonwealth of Florence. 1865. 2:462–86) Worcester e

Tuckerman, Henry Theodore. Old Bankers of Florence. (see Atlantic Mo. Nov. 1869, 24:629–37) e

Villari, Pasquale. Two First Centuries of Florentine History: the republic and parties at the time of Dante; tr. by Linda Villari. 2v. illus. O. N. Y. 1894–95. Scribner $3.75 Worcester e

New ed. 1901, 1v. $2.50.

Valuable and brilliant essays, to be prized not only for their learned analysis and accurate reconstruction, but also because they are marred neither by political rancor nor religious prejudice, nor by pride. Like Hallam's work, they are marked by sober patriotism and judicial eloquence of statement. The author's aim has been to elucidate the beginnings of the Florentine constitution. Period 1113–1313. Academy, July 6, 1895, 48:3

Enactments of justice, 2:72–124

Family and the state in Italian communes, 2:1–71

Books

Jameson, Mrs Anna Brownell (Murphy). Legends of the Madonna; ed. with additional notes by Estelle M. Hurll. 372p. illus. O. Bost. 1896. Houghton $3 755 J231 e

—— Sacred and Legendary Art; ed. with additional notes by Estelle M. Hurll. 2v. illus. O. Bost. 1894. Houghton $2.50 or $6 755 J233 e

These works are excellent for reference in the matter of recognizing a sacred personage by attributes as given in a picture, and as to the proper way of representing each personage. The historical part, the record of the growth in the legends and the changes in them, is very imperfect, but no better book is readily accessible. The author had no great knowledge of art and her criticisms are of little value. Sturgis, p.26

Pater, Walter. The Renaissance; studies in art and poetry. 252p. D. Lond. 1890. Macmillan 10/6 824.89 e

Published also by Macmillan, New York, $2 n.

Chapters on Pico della Mirandola, Sandro Botticelli, Luca della Robbia, Poetry of Michael Angelo, Leonardo da Vinci.

It would be hard to find art criticism more just and illuminating than Pater's, or presented in more attractive form.

Ruskin, John. Mornings in Florence; ed. with introduction, notes and illustrations from the old masters of painting and sculpture, by Margaret Baker. 244p. illus. D. N. Y. 1902. Abbey Press $2 701 R894 e

Not a good guide for beginners in the study of art; indeed, the untrained student in ancient art is misled when any attempt is made to visit and study paintings with this book in hand. After one has become familiar with the pictures it may be useful in suggesting an ideal of art which is certainly not the artist's view, but may still be defended by those who seek in pictures something which is not their pictorial quality. Sturgis, p.34

After all, the book accomplishes the main purpose of making the reader love art. Ruskin's enthusiasm is catching.

Scott, Leader, pseud. Renaissance of Art in Italy. New ed. 384p. illus. Q. Lond. 1888. Chapman 18/ 709.45 qB33 e

A practical and homely view of the renaissance treated compactly and materially, with the aim of being useful to a large class of readers in tracing the many ramifications of art from their common parent stock and in bringing to a focus the different elements composing that complex movement which we call the Renaissance. Not a history, but a pictorial guide. Preface

Stillman, William James & Cole, Timothy. Old Italian Masters, engraved by Cole; with historical notes by Stillman. 282p. illus. Q. N. Y. 1892. Century $10 927.5 qSt e

The woodcuts are unique in two ways; they are among the very highest achievements of wood engraving; they render the original with a sympathy and an essential truthfulness hardly ever reached in reproduction of any sort. Mr Stillman's notes are the work of a man familiar with Italian painting; they were prepared with care and with a knowledge of the best and most recent authorities. Sturgis, p.19

Symonds, John Addington. Renaissance in Italy; the Fine Arts. 534p. O. N. Y. 1888. Holt $2 709.45 Sy6 e

This remains the best history in English of the artistic renaissance in Italy; its value is increased for the general student by the treatment of fine art as one of the many manifestations of the renaissance. Sturgis, p.13

Full of valuable references to Florentine artists.

Van Dyke, John Charles. Art for Art's Sake; seven university lectures on the technical beauties of painting. Ed. 10. 249p. illus. D. N. Y. 1898. Scribner $1.50 750 e

Of much value, because it explains in very simple language and in detail how a painter conceives a picture and goes to work at it, and how he looks at the pictures which he and other artists have produced. Should be read with care as if a textbook of the painter's trade. Sturgis, p.36

Vasari, Giorgio. Lives of Seventy of the most Eminent Painters, Sculptors and Architects; ed. and annotated in the light of recent discoveries by E. H. and E. W. Blashfield and A. A. New Library ed. O, Scribner, $8.

These biographies are the groundwork of our knowledge of the great Italian artists of the 15th and 16th centuries. They are extremely interesting, full of anecdote and picturesque narrative, and give brilliant pictures of Italy during the epoch. In this edition many of the author's erroneous statements have been corrected and it forms one of the most important art contributions in many years. The criticism is of a high quality, and many difficult historical and biographic points have been elucidated. Sturgis, p.14

Waters, Mrs Clara (Erskine) Clement. Handbook of Legendary and Mythological art. 575p. illus. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $3 703 W311 e

Intended to explain to those who study paintings representing Christian legends the meaning of the symbols employed and the traditional history of the sainted personages represented. Not exhaustive, but fairly trustworthy. Sturgis, p.19

PAINTING

Books

Ady, Mrs Julia (Cartwright). Painters of Florence from the Thirteenth to the Sixteenth Century. 373p. illus. D. N. Y. 1901. Dutton $2.50 Worcester e

Published also by Murray, 6/n.
A workmanlike little book which may be safely recommended to students and beginners who wish for a concise account of the Florentine painters from Giotto to Buonarrotti with what is definitely known of their lives and some appreciation of their special achievement and their position in the history of art. Sixteen well executed halftones. Nation. May 9. 1901, 72:378

Berenson, Bernhard. Central Italian Painters of the Renaissance. Ed. 2. 205p. 1 illus. D. N. Y. 1899. Putnam $1

759.5 B452 e

Shows ingenuity, subtlety of reasoning and wide range of knowledge. Mr Berenson's main contention is that the painters of central Italy from Duccio to Raphael were, above all, illustrators, and drew or colored only as well as was absolutely necessary to their ends, or as well as taught by outside influences. Nation, Dec. 9, 1897, 65:462

Contains an index to the works of the principal Italian painters and mentions the place where each can be found.

—— Florentines Painters of the Renaissance; with an index to their works. 141p. 1 illus. D. N. Y. 1896. Putnam $1

759.5 B451 e

Mr Berenson's works on art have made a remarkable impression on thinking people. This one contains a classified list of Florentine painters, the place where each picture can be found being mentioned. The text itself is not at all of the nature of a catalogue. It is a sympathetic examination into the history and true nature of Florentine painting. Sturgis, p.17

The brief descriptions of the artists are unexcelled and worth reading by one who never expects to see Italy. It has been used for years as a guidebook of the higher class by studious travelers in Italy.

Clement, Charles. Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci and Raphael; with a preliminary chapter on art in Italy before the sixteenth century; tr. by Louisa Corkran. 374p. illus. O. Lond. 1880. Seeley 10/6 927.5 B886 e

Remarkable not only for the beautiful spirit in which it is written, but for the justice with which the three characters are compared and analyzed. The literary style is sparkling, even florid, and yet the big-sounding sentences are usually sustained by solid thought. Saturday Review, Feb. 14, 1880, 49:226

Crowe, Joseph Archer & Cavalcaselle, G. B. History of Painting in Italy from the Second to the Fourteenth Century. 3v. illus. O. Lond. 1864. Murray 63/ o.p. Worcester e

An invaluable work of reference for all painters of central Italy, the painters of northern Italy being treated in their History of Painting in North Italy. The Florentine school as the most important receives the largest consideration. Scholarly, based on extensive research and inspection of many paintings.

Harwood, Edith. Notable pictures in Florence. 312p. illus. D. N. Y. 1905. Dutton $1.50 n 708.5 e

Brief descriptions of the principal pictures in the Accademia delle Belle Arti, the Uffizi and the Pitti, also of the principal frescos in the churches. Short accounts of the 89 artists represented precede the descriptions of their paintings. The illustrations are small reproductions of paintings.

Originally of little value. The changes made in this new edition are improvements in general; the book is one of a number which serve a certain purpose in relating the better known facts about a famous body of men. Sturgis, p.26

Karoly, Karl, pseud. Guide to the Paintings of Florence, being a complete historical and critical account of all the pictures and frescoes in Florence, with quotations from the best authorities; short notices of the legends and stories connected with them or their subjects; and lives of the saints and chief personages represented. 344p. S. N. Y. 1895. Macmillan $1.50 708.5 K18 e

Its obvious fault is the use of criticisms by writers taking absolutely contrary views of art, and by some writers who have given no attention to art at all, so that the comparative criticism obtained is not valuable. Historically and as a work of reference the book is of great worth and complete in its scope. Sturgis, p.26

Rose, George B. Renaissance Masters, the Art of Raphael, Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci, Titian, Correggio and Botticelli. 189p. D. N. Y. 1898. Putnam $1 759.5 R72 e

The purpose is to give in brief compass the essential characteristics of these great masters of painting. Though necessarily slight in treatment, the chapters are full of delicate perception and acute criticism. Literary World, Dec. 24, 1898, 29:451

Scholarly and well considered appreciations of these great artists. Mr Stearns plainly is in love with his subject and his work throughout bears the impress of delicate observation and analysis. Dial, Feb. 16, 1896, 20:118

Biography

Angelico

Douglas, Langton. Fra Angelico. 206p. illus. O. Lond. 1900. Bell 12/6 n Worcester e

Published also by Macmillan, $5.

An attempt to reconstruct the artist's personality by an examination of his paintings in chronologic order. Mr Douglas believes him to be a true child of the renaissance, imbued with a lofty and pure spirit, but not the kind of over-good man that he is commonly pictured owing to Vasari's interpretation. In general the book is marked by clearness, acuteness and sympathy; admirable in marshaling of evidence, cogency of reasoning and fulness of illustration, and careful and convincing in the study of the paintings.

Published also by Scribner, 1901, $1.25.

In reality a popular account of the artists of the early period of the Italian renaissance. Gives the results of the latest investigation and is reliable in statement of fact.

Quite satisfactory and comprehensive for so brief a treatment, containing not only a life of the painter, but a study of his style, chronologic table of the most important events in his history, list of works, bibliography and illustrations reproducing his most famous canvasses.

A sympathetic and careful biographic study, in which is pointed out the relations of these two painters to other contemporary artists, specially Albertinelli. The whole forms two interesting and valuable chapters on the renaissance, one dealing with the later years of the 15th century and the other with the earlier years of the 16th. Sturgis, p.34

Botticelli

Ady, Mrs Julia (Cartwright). Life and Art of Sandro Botticelli. 205p. illus. F. N. Y. 1904. Dutton $4 n 927.5 qB653

The briefer biography of which this is an enlargement was published in 1903, 206p. illus. S, Dutton 75c n.

An account of the painter and the man, his relations with the Medici and the Florentine humanists on the one hand and of his connection with Savonarola and the Piagnone revival on the other. Follows the course of his artistic training and development and describes the works which may be attributed to him with certainty. Preface

Published also by Macmillan, $12.50.

The works of Botticelli and his school have never been so well and fully illustrated as in this sumptuous volume. Unfortunately the letter press which accompanies the plates is distinctly inferior in quality. Count Plunkett writes with enthusiasm and evident love of his subject, but he apparently lacks both the knowledge and the critical insight necessary for a work of this description. Literature, Nov. 3, 1900, 7:345

Steinman, Ernst. Botticelli; tr. by Campbell Dodgson. 112p. illus. Q. N. Y. 1901. Lemcke $1.50 (Monographs on Artists) 927.5 qB652 e

The author shows sound knowledge, which makes his statements explicit, and sympathy. He fails only when he tries to interpret Botticelli's art as a whole. The man is kept in the foreground and the paintings are discussed chiefly as an index to his character. Very fully illustrated.

Orcagna and Fra Angelico.

The result of learning, knowledge of art, extensive travel, and an ardent feeling, more akin to love or devotion than to enthusiasm. The general subject Lord Lindsay touches upon is the principles of art and the artistic nature of man. In his estimates of individuals he is informing, just and characteristic, but inclined to be hazy. Spectator, Jan. 2, 1847, 20:14

Perugino

Williamson, George Charles. Pietro Vannucci, called Perugino. illus. O. Lond. 1900. Bell 5/n (Great Masters in Painting and Sculpture) 927.5 e

A satisfactory treatment within its limits. The author is of the school of Morelli, a diligent student of technic, and much occupied with periods and questions of authenticity. This sort of scientific study is valuable, but he who desires to come at a final summing up of the esthetic value of Perugino's work will not find Dr Williamson's work quite so discriminating or helpful as he could wish. Academy, Nov. 17, 1900, 59:465

Raphael

Ady, Mrs Julia (Cartwright). Raphael. 80+80p. illus .Q. N. Y. 1895. Macmillan $3.50 927.5 qR122 e

Made up of the Portfolio monographs for January and August 1895; contains a brief record of Raphael's career, in which the attribution of paintings to himself and to others is based upon the best authorities; the general estimate is just. The needed illustrated work upon Raphael has not yet appeared; in the meantime the illustrations in this book and in Karoly's Madonnas, taken with the text of this volume, serve a temporary purpose.

Published also by Scribner, $12.60 n.

Very voluminous and containing the result of much labor and a large, personal and immediate knowledge of the paintings themselves. Valuable as an analysis of Raphael's art and as an account of the art of his time. A most interesting piece of work, at once a romance and a bit of history.

More than usually good. The "real estimate" is here so high that even great enthusiasm could not go far wrong; but Mr Strachey is no blind enthusiast. His criticism is sound and sensible and his analysis of the talent of Raphael is excellent. Common sense is predominant also in the treatment of the biographic part of the volume. Nation, Feb. 1, 1900, 70: 93

He has brought to the study a judicial and impartial mind and real intelligence. He begins by an account of the painter's life, in which he relates virtually everything of importance that is known. Wherever he introduces hypotheses to explain the documents or fill up the gaps in our knowledge he does so with becoming caution and modesty. In treating of the pictures the same cautious deliberation is apparent. Athenaeum, Oct. 8, 1904, 2:488

Muentz, Eugene. Leonardo da Vinci, Artist, Thinker and Man of Science. 2v. illus. Q. N. Y. 1898. Scribner $15 n

927.5 qV741 e

The author writes out of the resources of great learning, a patient laboriousness, a wise judgment, and the fine volumes are enriched with a wealth of illustration. It were impossible from the point of view of artist, critic or historian, to demand a more complete and worthy setting forth of the magnificent and multiform Leonardo. Academy, Feb. 4, 1899, 56:149

Richter, Jean Paul. Leonardo. 136p. illus. D. Lond. 1884. Low 2/6 (Illus. Biog. of the Great Artists) 927.5 V741 e

Published also by Scribner, 1894, $1.25.

Intelligent account of the life and what little is known of the work of a wholly exceptional genius. It is impossible to study Leonardo too closely, because unfortunate traits of the man have destroyed nearly all his important works of art; because, moreover, as a painter, Leonardo is one of the most faulty of masters, while also one of the greatest. Sturgis, p.33

Books

Freeman, Lucy Jane. Italian Sculpture of the Renaissance. 212p. illus. O. N. Y. 1901. Macmillan $3 n Worcester e

The author's attitude is irreproachable; she studiously avoids history and archeology, except in so far as necessary to her aim, which is the purely esthetic enjoyment of Italian sculpture. Style clear, straightforward and unaffected.

Liberally and well illustrated by etchings and woodcuts. These assist in giving a not incorrect, though necessarily imperfect notion of the sculptors. Besides this, the book professes to describe also their times, but this part has not been satisfactorily done. The object, indeed, is beyond the scope of such a work as Mr Perkins', and the imperfect attempt to do this gives the book an air of incompleteness, which had been complete enough without. Spectator, Feb. 18, 1865, 38:185

The author shows great familiarity with her subject, and her industry partly compensates for a rather poor command of English. She lacks true appreciation of the charm and distinction of Luca's art and the biographic sketch is somewhat meager, but there are few separate books in English on Luca della Robbia.

Not an exhaustive study, but readable and well adapted to needs of general readers. A vivid picture of Dante and his times, and a vigorous and penetrating exposition of the Divine Comedy.

Church, Richard William. Dante. (see his Dante and Other Essays. 1893. p.1–191) 851.15 e

Published by Macmillan, 260p. D, $1.50.

Dante Alighieri. Divine Comedy; tr. by H: W. Longfellow. 3v. 1 por. D. Bost. 1891. Houghton $4.50 (Riverside ed.) 851.15 P2 e

—— New Life of Dante Alighieri; tr. by C: E. Norton. Ed. 5. 168p. D. Bost. 1898. Houghton $1.25 Worcester e

Hare, Christopher. Dante the wayfarer. 355p. illus. O. N. Y. 1905. Scribner $3

Follows the poet step by step, telling in his own words the story of all the men and women he met by the way, and gathering together the legends which sprang up like flowers wherever his footsteps passed. Prelude

Harris, William Torrey. Spiritual Sense of Dante's Divina commedia. 193p. D. Bost. 1896. Houghton $1.25 851.15 Q1h e

Lowell, James Russell. Dante. (see his Among my Books. 1891. 2:1–124) 814.39 L95a e

Published by Houghton, 2v. D, $1.50 each.

Owen, John. Dante. (see his Skeptics of the Italian Renaissance. 1893. p.96–107) 190 Ow2 e

While admitting that Dante was essentially a dogmatist, points out in what respects he was a skeptic.

Rossetti, Dante Gabriel. Dante and his Circle, with the Italian Poets preceding Him. 301p. D. Bost. 1893. Roberts $2 (now Little $1.50) 851.1 e

A collection of lyrics in the original meters, translated with great care. They give a good view of Italian poetry up to Dante's time, but are perhaps more valuable as a contribution to the study of Dante. Includes La vita nuova and poems which Dante addressed to his fellow poets.

Rossetti, Maria Francesca. A Shadow of Dante; being an essay towards studying himself, his world and his pilgrimage. Ed. 5. 294p. por. plan, D. Bost. 1889. Roberts (now Little) $1.50 851.15 e Chiefly a study of the Divine Comedy. Most useful in following and understanding the narrative of the poem; not a detailed commentary.

Symonds, John Addington. Introduction to the Study of Dante. Ed. 3. 288p. illus. D. Lond. 1893. Adam & Charles Black 7/6 851.15 e

Published also by Macmillan, $2.

The author knows his subject thoroughly, has a refined and sensitive appreciation of literary and poetic art, and combines his knowledge and taste with an intellectual grasp. Spectator, Dec. 28, 1872, 45:1667

Villani, Giovanni. Selections from the First Nine Books of the Croniche Fiorentine of Villani; tr. for the use of students of Dante and others by R. E. Selfe; ed. by P. H. Wicksted. 461p. D. Westminster 1897. Constable 6/ 945.5 V711 e

Published also by Macmillan, $2.

The editors emphasize the fact that the selection has been made to aid in a study of Dante, certain parts reading almost like a commentary. That Villani was a contemporary adds value to his work.

Ficino

Villari, Pasquale. Marsilio Ficino and the Platonic Academy. (see his Life and Times of Girolamo Savonarola. 1888. 1:50–69) Worcester e

Michael Angelo

Symonds, John Addington. Sonnets of Michael Angelo Buonarroti. (see his Sonnets of Michael Angelo Buonarroti and Tommaso Campanella. 1878. p.29–115) Worcester e

Petrarch

Petrarch, Francesco. Sonnets, Triumphs and other Poems of Petrarch, now first completely translated into English verse by various hands; with a life of the poet by Thomas Campbell. 416p. illus. D. N. Y. 1893. Macmillan $1.50 n (Bohn's Illus. Lib.) Worcester e

Everett, William. Petrarch. (see his Italian Poets since Dante. 1904. p.9–31) 851 Ev2

Published by Scribner, 251p. D, $1.50 n.

Brief sketch of him as an Italian patriot, one of the revivers of learning, an Italian poet, with translations of several sonnets.

Hueffer, Francis. Literary Friendship of the Fourteenth Century. (see his Italian and Other Studies. 1883. p.31–61) 824.89 e

Published by Stock, London, 304p. O, 7/6.

Sketch of the friendship of Petrarch and Boccaccio.

Macaulay, Thomas Babington. Petrarch. (see his Miscellaneous Works. 1899. 4:397–412) Worcester e

Published by Harper, 5v. O, $10.

Owen, John. Petrarca. (see his Skeptics of the Italian Renaissance. 1893 p.107–28) 190 Ow2 e

Robinson, James Harvey, & Rolfe, H: W. Petrarch, the first Modern Scholar and Man of Letters. 436p. por. O. N. Y. 1898. Putnam $2 928.51 P444 e

Three fifths of this volume is made up of selections from Petrarch's letters, while the rest consists of introduction and comment by the editors. Petrarch's life, views and character, his friends and the political and literary conditions of his day are so vividly set before us and the letters and explanations are so skilfully fitted together, that the work forms a complete and homogeneous picture of the poet and his times. Specially good for general readers.
Nation, Nov. 24, 1898, 67:397

Pico

Pater, Walter. Pico della Mirandola. (see his Renaissance; studies in art and poetry. 1890. p. 31–51) 824.89 e

Politian

Stebbing, Rev. Henry. Life of Angiolo Poliziano. (see his Lives of the Italian Poets. 1832. 1:323–41) 928.51 St3 e

Pulci

Owen, John. Luigi Pulci. (see his Skeptics of the Italian Renaissance. 1893. p.147–60) 190 Ow2 e

Claims that Pulci represents the humorous and satirical aspect of the renaissance.

Stebbing, Rev. Henry. [Luigi Pulci] (see his Lives of the Italian Poets. 1832. 1:341–83) 928.51 St3 e

FICTION AND POETRY

Alfieri, Vittorio. Conspiracy of the Pazzi. (see his Tragedies. 1876. 2:1–55) Worcester e

Published by Bell 2v. D, 3/6 each.

A drama founded on the historical attempted assassination of Lorenzo de' Medici by the "Conspiracy of the Pazzi."

Austin, Alfred. Savonarola; a tragedy. 306p. D. N. Y. 1891. Macmillan $1.75 822.8 e

The action of the drama extends from the death of Lorenzo to the execution of Savonarola. A good picture of Florence at this most important epoch in her history.

Browning, Mrs Elizabeth (Barrett) & Robert. Florence in the Poetry of the Brownings; a selection of the poems which have to do with the history, the scenery and the art of Florence; ed. by Anna B. McMahan. 230p. illus. D. Chic. 1904. McClurg $1.40 n 821.83 L1m1

Contents: Introduction. By E. B. Browning: Casa Guidi Windows; The Dance. By Robert Browning: Old Pictures in Florence; Fra Lippo Lippi; Andrea del Sarto; The Statue and the Bust; The Ring and the Book, book 1; One Word More

The complete works contain other poems having reference to Florence; e. g. "King Victor Emanuel entering Florence, April 1860", by Mrs Browning, and "Luria" and "Sordello", by Robert Browning.

Eliot, George, pseud. Romola. illus. O. N. Y. 1897. Crowell $1.50 Worcester e

Any comment on this masterpiece is superfluous. In spite of being fiction, probably the most valuable single book on Florence. It describes all classes from the lowest to the highest, from the peasant girl to the reigning prince, and weaves into the tragic love story much of the history and politics of the time. Savonarola, if not the central character, is the controlling one of the novel.

Farrington, Margaret Vere. Fra Lippo Lippi; a romance. 225p. illus. O. N. Y. 1890. Putnam $1.50 Worcester e

Gives the traditional facts of his life in the romantic setting of a love story.

Haygood, Atticus Green. Monk and the Prince. 371p. D. Nashville Tenn. 1895. Foote $1 945.5

Hunt, Leigh. Legend of Florence, a play. O. Lond. 1840. Moxon 3/6

Landor, Walter Savage. Imaginary Conversations. 1881. 828.7 e

Fra Filippo Lippi and Pope Eugenius the Fourth, 2:222–44

Machiavelli and Michel-Angelo Buonarroti, 3:422–39

These "imaginary conversations" are valuable for their characterizations, and are frequently highly amusing in their caricature of famous persons.

Leland, Charles Godfrey, comp. Legends of Florence, collected from the people and retold. 2v. D. N. Y. 1895. Macmillan $1.75 each 398.2 L531 e Consists almost entirely of legends or traditions of varied character referring to places and buildings in Florence, retold in a way to interest general readers and students of folklore. They bring many new associations to Florentine history.

Longfellow, Henry Wadsworth. Florence. (see his Poems of Places; Italy. 1877. 11:129–68) 808.8 e

Published by Houghton, 31v. S, $1 each.

Poems by famous authors on Florence or directly associated with Florence.

—— Michael Angelo; a fragment. (see his Poetical Works. 1891. 6:45–176) 811.34 J e

Published by Houghton, 6v. D, $1.50 each.

An unfinished poetical drama, having for characters such persons as Michael Angelo, Vittoria Colonna, Vasari and Cellini.

Scott, Leader, pseud. Echoes of Old Florence; her palaces and those who have lived in them. 326p. S. Lond. 1894. Unwin 5/
Worcester e

A series of stories attempting to repeople and revivify some of the old palaces and streets of Florence. Told to the author by an old Italian story-teller, and by her anglicized and set in historical form.

Trollope, Thomas Adolphus. La Beata, a novel. Ed. 2. O. Lond. 1862. Chapman 5/

One feels a breath from the Val d'Arno rustling amid the pages, and a sense of Florentine life such as one rarely gets out of books. The critical objection I should make to it is, that you often spoil the artistic attitude by presenting your characters critically, with an eye to the opinions likely to be formed by certain readers, instead of being totally engrossed with your subject. George Eliot, in Trollope's What I Remember, 1:476

—— Marietta, a novel. Ed. 2. 2v. O. Lond. 1862. Chapman 7/6

Hon. A. S. Draper
Commissioner of Education

DEAR SIR: I beg to transmit herewith and recommend for publication a Reading list on Scotland, submitted for graduation by Miss Alice Lyman, New York State Library School, class of 1901. The list includes the best popular modern works in English, and should have a wider field of usefulness than it can have in manuscript.

Very respectfully

READING LIST ON SCOTLAND

PREFACE

This list is intended for the reader who desires general information on Scotland. It aims to include popular modern works in English on history, description, religion, literature and art.

The student will find material of great value in the publications of such learned societies as the Spalding Club, in Chalmers's Caledonia and in histories such as Tytler, written in the early part of the 19th century.

After the union, the record of Scottish history must be looked for almost entirely with that of England. In the field of religion there is much material written in stilted, old-fashioned style, while popular modern works are not numerous. In literature, only the works of the four best known authors have been included. A list of historical fiction on Scotland may be found in E. A. Baker's Descriptive guide to the best fiction, 1903.

No special division has been made for biography, the lives of Scotsmen eminent in various fields being given in their respective places under each subject. Attention is directed to a series of brief, popular biographies published by Scribner at 75c a volume, called the Famous Scots series, including authors, statesmen, churchmen, etc. The contents are as follows:

Balladists
Blackwood group
James Boswell
King Robert Bruce
George Buchanan
Robert Burns
Principal Cairnes
Richard Cameron
Thomas Campbell
Thomas Carlyle

Thomas Chalmers
Henry Drummond
William Dunbar
Viscount Dundee

HISTORY

General histories

Brown, P. H. History of Scotland. 2v. maps, D. N. Y. 1899–1902. Macmillan v.1 $1.75 n, v.2 $1.50 n (Cambridge historical ser.) 941 B811 e

From earliest times through 1689. One of the best short histories, the result of deep research, it is clear, accurate and impartial though somewhat lacking in enthusiasm. Primarily a political history, it also gives a brief survey of the literature and social life of each epoch.

Reviewed in Nation, Sep. 1899, 69:247, July 1902, 75:33; Athenaeum, Ap. 1889, 1:490, May 1902, 1:554; Spectator, June 1899, 82:891, June 1902, 88:986.

Burton, J. H. History of Scotland from Agricola's invasion to the extinction of the latest Jacobite insurrection. New ed. 8v. D. Edin. 1899. Blackwood 3/6 each 941 B95 e

Has superseded in value all other histories of Scotland. As a complete record of one of the most turbulent of all histories, it is eminently successful. To the preparation of the work the author has devoted many industrious years and on several disputed questions he has thrown welcome light. Clear in style, admirable perspective. Adams

A SELECTION FROM THE

BEST BOOKS OF 1906

PREFATORY NOTE

To the Librarian:

This is an annotated list of 250 books published in 1906, selected by the book board of the New York State Library and recommended to the public libraries of the State. To aid in choosing small collections of new books three classes are indicated: books marked a, of which there are 20, are suggested to libraries which must confine their additions within narrow limits; 30 others marked b are also proposed to libraries that can buy 50 books; and 50 marked c may be added to a and b to make up 100 books. The remaining 150, including some reference books and a few more costly publications, are worthy careful consideration by libraries that can buy more than 100 books and by those wishing to enlarge resources in special subjects. Many of the unmarked works are of the highest merit.

It is of course impossible for any board to determine which 100 or 200 books are absolutely the best; still less could it make a selection which would fit the needs of every small library in the State. Books marked c may be a in value in certain cases: Reid's Story of Old Fort Johnson, which is given no distinguishing letter in this list and is not of wide interest either on account of subject or skilful handling of material, is a book for first purchase in the Mohawk valley towns. Circumstances might make it wise for one library to buy Waugh's Dwarf Fruit Trees or Lawton's Anthology of French Poetry among the first 20, while another would find neither of them of practical value. In a word, the best general advice may, and sometimes should, be rejected in view of actual needs. It is thought best to inform the smaller libraries about some books which would be of high practical value to them, though probably too expensive to be bought from the ordinary fund. Special circumstances may sometimes justify buying such a work at the sacrifice of several cheaper ones. Occasionally, too, some generous friend or local club expresses a wish to make the town library a substantial gift. If the librarian can make prompt and definite suggestions it is an advantage to the community and the satisfaction of the benefactor is materially increased.

We can not too strongly emphasize the advice which we have for several years quoted in full from the Journal of New Jersey Libraries, October 1903: Do not buy subscription books; avoid books issued in parts; ask advice before purchasing expensive reprints.

Finest Orations, Noblest Essays, Royal Flim Flams, Huge Anthologies, and the like all come to the secondhand man. Get them of him, if you must. In a small library they are generally almost useless. In subscription books, cases like this are not uncommon. Maspero wrote several large and learned volumes, in French, on Egypt and Chaldea. They were translated and published in three or four volumes in England, costing libraries in this country about $5 each. An American publisher reprints them in 12 small volumes with a few additional colored cuts, on heavier paper and in larger type and offers them through agents for $84 — and libraries buy them!

Do not buy "sets" or complete editions of authors. Buy the volumes you need and as you need them. A complete set always includes several volumes you do not need. Specify the edition you wish of standard books when you can, unless you find a bookseller able and willing to select them wisely for you.

While this list has been prepared with special reference to smaller public libraries it will also be of much service to schools. Not all the books listed, however, are recommended for school use. There are some books in fiction which have not enough positive value either as literature or as a spur to historical study, to justify their purchase for a school, yet which serve a legitimate purpose in the public library by providing wholesome entertainment for a very different class of readers. All titles under the heading "Juvenile" are recommended for those school libraries which undertake to provide wholesome entertainment as well as useful information.

Beginning with the first issue in 1897 these lists have been prepared under the general direction of Martha T. Wheeler, of the State Library staff. Her work in book selection and annotation has specially qualified her to deal cautiously and wisely with the vagaries of literary opinion. It is high time that her invaluable services should be publicly recognized.

6–14021 Jaurès, Studies in socialism (Putnam $1 n), comprises well written, disconnected essays by a prominent French socialist. According to Annals of Amer. Acad. 29:217, the presentation of the subject is able and its spirit tolerant. The writer is the foremost exponent of the group which aims at reorganization of society through gradual reforms rather than by revolution.

Spargo, Charities, 17:464; Dial, 42:110; Jour. of Polit. Econ. 15:122; Polit. Sci. Q. 22:166. Jaurès, Dial, 42:110; Annals of Amer. Acad. 29:217; Polit. Sci. Q. 21:564.

338 Leroy-Beaulieu, Pierre. The United States in the 20th century. Funk $2 n

6-1544 Study by a Frenchman, of resources, industries, commerce and possibilities, discussing immigration, race problem, trusts, railway system, merchant marine, etc. Based partly on personal observation, but largely on census of 1900 and other official publications.

One of the three or four most important books yet written (1906) by Europeans to give fellow citizens an idea of the United States and its possibilities. Annals of Amer. Acad. 27:422.

Atlantic, 97:849.

338.1 c Thompson, Holland. From the cotton field to the cotton mill: a study of the industrial transition in North Carolina. Macmillan $1.50 n

6-20350 Study of the mill town and its people in North Carolina Author finds reports of unwholesome and immoral conditions unfounded or exaggerated. Appendix compares wages and cost of living in North Carolina and New England.

Nation, 83:242.

342.43 Howard, B. E. The German empire. Macmillan $2 n

6-34863 Treatise on the Constitution of the new Germany, describing organization of government and division of administrative, financial and judicial functions between central power and individual states.

Eltzbacher's Modern Germany (Dutton $2.50 n) considers expansion of Germany in relation to Austria-Hungary, Russia and Anglo-Saxon countries, holding that paternal governmental methods are responsible for her naval, military, commercial and industrial successes.

Eltzbacher, Dial, 40:333; Nation, 82:513; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 11:469 (Wolf von Schierbrand); Spec. 96:22.

Howard, Dial, 42:105; Nation, 83:371; Spec. 98:141.

343.1 Train, Arthur. The prisoner at the bar: sidelights on the administration of criminal justice. Scribner $2 n

6-43223 Author, assistant district attorney of New York (1906), describes interestingly the processes of criminal justice as administered in large cities.

Annals of Amer. Acad. 29:235; Dial, 42:291.

352 a Anderson, W. L. The country town: a study of rural evolution. Baker & T. $1 n

6-6767 An optimistic social and economic study of rural degeneration in the United States, its causes and its remedies.

Critic, 48:478; Dial, 41:21; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 11:142.

352 Fairlie, J. A. Local government in counties, towns and villages. (Amer. state ser.) Century $1.25 n

6-23708 Deals mainly with present local institutions, treating of county officers, justices and police, town government, public education, charities, local finance, etc. Bibliography.

Careful and businesslike presentation for the general reader or the young person who wants to get the subject up for a college course. Nation, 83:241.
Annals of Amer. Acad. 29:294; Polit. Sci. Q. 22:153.

352.2 McAdoo, William. Guarding a great city.
Harper $2 n

6–24158 An "Old Chester" story of the awakening of a woman's moral nature through her love for a child. Dr Lavendar's wholesome personality pervades, and the boy David is an abiding joy.
Ath. 1906, 2:153; Bookman, 24:57; Dial, 41:115; Nation, 83:83.

De la Pasture, Mrs E. B. The man from America: a sentimental comedy. Dutton $1.50

6–9622 A delightful old Irish-French vicomte, two charming granddaughters and some rich Americans play out a fresh and diverting comedy in Devonshire and London.

Critic, 49:190; Dial, 41:241.

a De Morgan, W. F. Joseph Vance: an ill written autobiography. Holt $1.50

6–25695 Life story of a middle-class English scholar and inventor; told leisurely and with relish, as an elderly man would talk. Its humor, pathos and abundant detail suggest Dickens in his less exuberant moods.

Ath. 1906, 2:97; Dial, 42:13; Nation, 83:287; Sat. R. 102:117.

Ewald, Carl. My little boy. Scribner $1 n

6–14548 Hardly to be called a story, being rather a loving father's study of his little son. Written with simplicity, quiet humor and many delicate touches.

Putnam's, 1:128.

c Fogazzaro, Antonio. The saint (Il santo); tr. from the Italian by M. Prichard-Agnetti. Putnam $1.50

6–30924 Story of a modern Catholic reformer whose teachings embody the program of the progressive Church party. The author, a loyal Catholic, arraigns the church so sharply for dogmatism and immobility that the book has been placed on the Index.

Acad. 71:38; Ath. 1906, 2:395; Dial, 41:281; Nation, 82:69, 367.

Goodrich, Arthur. The balance of power. Outing $1.50

6–31388 Combines politics, finance and labor troubles in a Connecticut factory town with some excellent character work and a pretty love story.

Bookman, 24:249; Lit. Digest, 33:473; Outlook, 84:335.

Grundy, Mabel Barnes-. Hazel of Heatherland. Baker & T. $1.50

6–10643 Lively story of innocent pranks, escapades and love affairs of a young English girl who considers herself misunderstood by her mother and prim older sister.

Sat. R. 99:601.

Harker, Mrs L. A. Concerning Paul and Fiammetta. Scribner $1.25

6–10642 Adventures and opinions of some lively and natural, but well bred children. About, rather than for children, and thoroughly English in tone.

Acad. Mar. 1906, p. 288; Bookman, 23:488; Nation, 83:484.

Hopkins, W. J. The clammer. Houghton $1.25

6–8312 Idyllic love story of a recluse and a "daughter of the rich," quaintly and whimsically told. Appeared in the Atlantic.

Atlantic, 99:125; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 11:181.

Hopper, James. Caybigan. McClure $1.50

6–33591 Fifteen short stories dealing with the Filipinos from the point of view of a "maestro" (government schoolmaster). Combines close-range observation with a strong and graphic gift of story-telling.

Lancaster, G. B. The spur: or, The bondage of Kin Severne. Doubleday $1.50
6-11312 Vivid, tragic story of the after life of a New Zealand sheep shearer who, conscious of literary genius, mortgages his life, early in his career, to prove it.
Acad. 69:1177.

Lee, Jennette (Mrs G. S. Lee). Uncle William, the man who was shif'less. Century $1 n
6-7774 Story of a big hearted, slow moving Nova Scotia fisherman, "gen'ally considered shif'less," but radiating helpfulness and cheer.
Ath. 1906, 2:767.

b Locke, W. J. The beloved vagabond. Lane $1.50
6-37606 A narrative of the travels of a vagabond, who is at the same time a gentleman and something of a philosopher. He adopts a little boy from the street and the two wander all over Europe. The story is told with delightful humor, but also with a realism in squalid details not altogether pleasing.
Acad. 71:445; Ath. 1906, 2:613; Atlantic, 99:119; Dial, 42:142; Nation, 83:375.

London, Jack. White Fang. Macmillan $1.50
5-37586 Fascinating story of a wolf with a strain of tame blood. His birth in the wild and his final submission to the mastery of man are in direct antithesis to the Call of the Wild. Appeared in Outing.
Ath. 1907, 1:161; Dial, 41:391; Nation, 83:440; Spec. 98:219.

b Lucas, E. V. Listener's lure: a Kensington comedy. Macmillan $1.50
6-32676 A slight love story told in the form of letters, "all delightful and all different."
Acad. 71:286; Ath. 1906, 2:472; Nation, 83:353; Sat. R. 102:432.

b Lynde, Francis. The quickening. Bobbs-Merrill $1.50
6-5140 Spiritual development and fortunes in business and in love of a young Tennessean. Intended for a minister, he rebels, and as a mining expert proves his mettle by protecting newly developed local iron industries against encroaching northern capital.
Dial, 40:262.

c McCall, Sidney, pseud. (Mrs M. M. Fenollosa). The dragon painter. Little $1.50 6-37204 Japanese story of the last of a line of great artists, his daughter, and a wild mountain genius, the dragon painter. Presumably true to the spirit of Japanese life, it is artistic in construction and poetic in expression.
Arena, 36:686; Nation, 83:396; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 11:812.

c Macnaughton, S. A lame dog's diary. Dodd $1.50
6-6931 Leisurely story of the daily doings of English village gentlefolk, told through the humorous but kindly diary of a crippled army officer.
Acad. 69:1289; Bookman, 24:119; Spec. 95:984.

O'Higgins, H. J. Don-a-Dreams: a story of love and youth. Century $1.50

6–29530 A young Canadian, dreamy and an incorrigible idealist, after pitiable struggles in the sordid underworld of New York, stumbles into success with ideals uncontaminated.

Atlantic, 99:125; Nation, 83:333; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 11:623.

Orczy, Baroness. I will repay: a romance. Lippincott $1.50

6–41710 Romantic story of Revolutionary Paris. Revenge, love and mob violence are the familiar elements of a plot developed with much dramatic power.

Ath. 1906, 2:579; Nation, 83:539; Sat. R. 102:648.

Paine, R. D. Praying skipper and other stories. Outing $1.50

6–11303 Vigorous, straight-ahead stories, whose settings are the sea, a college boat race and the siege of Peking.

Putnam's, 1:127; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 11:388.

Payne, Will. When love speaks. Macmillan $1.50

6–40589 Struggle between abstract right and loyalty to old and tried friends, as it affects the relations between a young husband and wife. Depicts the life of a raw, striving, middle-western town.

Dial, 42:228; Nation, 83:441.

Phillpotts, Eden & Arnold, Bennett. Doubloons. McClure $1.50

6–39024 Intricate story of detected crime, quite impossible, but told in a manner (somewhat burlesque) to silence incredulity. Rapid in movement, full of surprises, not at all like former work of either author.

Dial, 42:144; Nation, 83:441; Spec. 97:938; Acad. 71:503; Ath. 1906, 2:687.

Rideout, H. M. Beached keels. Houghton $1.50

6–38551 Stories dealing with both the sordid and romantic in the shore life of seamen on the northeast coast. Striking, marked by tragic or pathetic episodes, and well told.

Nation, 83:485.

c Roach, A. M. Some successful marriages. Harper $1.25

6–37923 Delicate and subtle stories showing some of the necessary adjustments, disillusionments, differences and reconciliations of married life.

Outlook, 84:895.

6–43781 Eight stories which catch the exuberant spirit of clean-minded healthy youth. Republished from Outing, Colliers and other magazines.

Independent, 62:738; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:141.

Sienkiewicz, Henryk. On the field of glory: a historical novel of the time of King John Sobieski. Little $1.50

6-2341 Polish story of strange manners and exciting adventures in the cause of love and honor, on the eve of the second seige of Vienna by the Turks.
Acad. 71:112; Dial, 40:153; Nation, 82:183; Sat. R. 102:274; Spec. 97:336.

c Spearman, F. H. Whispering Smith. Scribner $1.50
6-31385 The "fight to a finish" between the railroad men of a mountain division in the Northwest and a gang of desperadoes who are terrorizing the country and demoralizing traffic. A series of dramatic incidents rather than a connected story.
Bookman, 24:160; Putnam's, 1:225.

Viaud, L. M. J. "Pierre Loti," pseud. Disenchanted (Les désenchantées). Macmillan $1.50
6-32677 Realistic, yet delicate picture of life in a Turkish harem, showing the pathetic condition of eastern women of rank and education, emancipated intellectually but still fettered by traditional oriental custom.
Acad. 71:421; Outlook, 84:709; Putnam's 1:718.

Ward, Mrs M. A. (Mrs Humphry Ward). Fenwick's career. Harper $1.50
6-15108 Study of the career of a Westmoreland artist who goes to London to win recognition, leaving his wife behind. Plot hinges on the concealment of his marriage and his relations with the daughter of his titled London patron.
Dial, 41:36; Nation, 83:15; Acad. 70:422; Ath. 1906, 1:572; Spec. 96:757; Sat. R. 101:725.

Weyman, S. J. Chippinge borough. McClure $1.50
6-37198 A careful study of the political and social upheaval in England at the time of the passage of the Reform Bill of 1831 forms the background for some excellent character drawing and a pretty love story.
Ath. 1906, 2:613; Dial, 42:144; Sat. R. 102:585; Spec. 97:731.

Whiteing, Richard. Ring in the new. Century $1.50
6-34801 Prudence Meryon at 20 casts herself into the maelstrom of London in a pitiful attempt to earn a living. The awful problem of unskilled labor and poverty is the theme, but a hopeful spirit predominates.
Arena, 36:682; Ath. 1906, 1:633; Spec. 96:717.

a Wister, Owen. Lady Baltimore. Macmillan $1.50
6-10312 A charming comedy, skilfully combining its sketch of a society full of delicate, old-fashioned flavors with a cutting arraignment of modern rich and fashionable types. Scene, Charleston, S. C.
Bookman, 23:296; Dial, 40:365; Nation, 82:390; Ath. 1906, 1:603; Outlook, 83:111; Spec. 96:675; Sat. R. 101:794.

Wright, Mrs Mabel (Osgood) "Barbara," pseud. The garden, you and I. Macmillan $1.50
6-19007 Mostly garden talk in the form of bright but alarmingly long letters between Barbara and her friend. There is a thread of story and a little romance.
Bookman, 23:631; Dial, 41:70.

JUVENILE FICTION

Alden, R. M. The knights of the silver shield. Bobbs-Merrill $1.25

6-30467 Unusually successful modern fairy tales, each with its allegory and not too obtrusive moral. Many illustrations in tint and black and white.

Barbour, R. H. The crimson sweater. Century $1.50

6-34684 The conventional school story, in which athletics, particularly football, play an important part. Well written and in general wholesome in tone.

Nation, 83:484.

Clarke, Mrs Mary Cowden. Little Paulina: Christmas in Russia; adapted by Anna Robinson. (Christmas in many lands) Estes 50c

a Dix, B. M. Merrylips. Macmillan $1.50

6-34081 A little English girl's adventures when Cromwell's army was fighting against Charles I. Well founded historically and excellent in characterization.

Outlook, 84:531.

c Duncan, Norman. Adventures of Billy Topsail: a story for boys. Revell $1.50

6-16512 Thrilling adventures of a daring and self-reliant boy, son of a Newfoundland fisherman. Reprinted in part from Youth's Companion.

Nation, 83:484; Acad. 71:548.

c Ewald, Carl. Two-legs. Scribner $1

6-32364 Fairy tale, describing how the first man made use of the animals, one after another, till he became master of them all.

b Grinnell, G. B. Jack the young canoeman. Stokes $1.25

6-36045 An account of a trip in a Chinook canoe along the coast of British Columbia. Both information and descriptions of scenery are good. Wholesome, interesting, as are the first three books of this series of Jacks. A. L. A. Booklist.

Hopkins, W. J. The airship "Dragon-fly." Doubleday $1.25 n

6-31658 The interesting and impossible adventures of two boys and a girl who are permitted to take excursions in an airship. Combines wildly impossible and sometimes melodramatic adventures, wholesome moral attitudes and excellent literary style with a success which suggests Treasure island. It is a pity that it is marred by unnatural relations between one of the boys and his parents, quite unnecessary to the story.

b Kipling, Rudyard. Puck of Pook's Hill.
Doubleday $1.50

6–35734 Ten stories in a new vein — a cross between fairy tales and historical romances of old England, with ballads and songs interspersed. They are told in a "fairy ring" to two children, by the worthies whom Puck summons from the past. Will delight the exceptional child.
Ath. 1906, 2:404; Nation, 83:286; Spec. 97:538.

a Pier, A. S. Harding of St Timothy's. Houghton $1.50

PREFATORY NOTE

To the Librarian:

This is an annotated list of 250 books published in 1907, selected by the book board of the New York State Library and recommended to the public libraries of the State. To aid in choosing small collections of new books three classes are indicated: books marked a, of which there are 20, are suggested to libraries which must confine their additions within narrow limits; 30 others marked b are also proposed to libraries that can buy 50 books; and 50 marked c may be added to a and b to make up 100 books. The remaining 150, including some reference books and a few more costly publications, are worthy careful consideration by libraries that can buy more than 100 books and by those wishing to enlarge resources in special subjects. Many of the unmarked works are of the highest merit.

It is of course impossible for any board to determine which 100 or 200 books are absolutely the best; still less could it make a selection which would fit the needs of every small library in the State. Books marked c may be a in value in certain cases. The best general advice may, and sometimes should, be rejected in view of actual needs, and the librarian should of course be better able to determine such needs than a distant board of advisers. It is thought best to inform the smaller libraries about some books which would be of high practical value to them, though probably too expensive to be bought from the ordinary fund. Special circumstances may sometimes justify buying such a work at the sacrifice of several cheaper ones. Occasionally, too, some generous friend or local club expresses a wish to make a town library a substantial gift. If the librarian can make prompt and definite suggestions it is an advantage to the community and the satisfaction of the benefactor is materially increased.

We can not too strongly emphasize the advice which we have for several years quoted in full from the Journal of New Jersey Libraries, October 1903: Do not buy subscription books; avoid books issued in parts; ask advice before purchasing expensive reprints.

Finest Orations, Noblest Essays, Royal Flim Flams, Huge Anthologies, and the like all come to the secondhand man. Get them of him, if you must. In a small library they are generally almost useless. In subscription books, cases like this are not uncommon. Maspero wrote several large and learned volumes, in French, on Egypt and Chaldea. They were translated and published in three or four volumes in England, costing libraries in this country about $5 each. An American publisher reprints them in 12 small volumes with a few additional colored cuts, on heavier paper and in larger type and offers them through agents for $84 — and libraries buy them!

Do not buy "sets" or complete editions of authors. Buy the volumes you need and as you need them. A complete set always includes several volumes you do not need. Specify the edition you wish of standard books when you can, unless you find a bookseller able and willing to select them wisely for you.

While this list has been prepared with special reference to smaller public libraries it will also be of much service to schools. Not all the books listed, however, are recommended for school use. There are some books in fiction which have not enough positive value either as literature or as a spur to historical study, to justify their purchase for a school, yet which serve a legitimate purpose in the public library by providing wholesome entertainment for a very different class of readers. All titles under the heading "Juvenile" are recommended for those school libraries which undertake to provide wholesome entertainment as well as useful information.

This list, like its predecessors since 1897, has been prepared under the general direction of Martha T. Wheeler of the State Library staff.

CLASSIFIED LIST

The source of a critical note is indicated, if taken from a review, whether quoted exactly or slightly condensed. Additional references are given to the best reviews.

Decimal classification numbers, as used in the State Library, and Library of Congress printed catalogue card serial numbers are added, in the left margin, for convenience of libraries using them.

Abbreviations: n is used for net and the sign / for shillings; e. g. 12/6 means 12s 6d.

745 Holland, Charles. Design for schools: a handbook for teachers for use in secondary schools, the upper standards of elementary schools, and elementary classes of schools of art. Macmillan $1.90 n

E8-7 Monthly lessons, each fully illustrated, for a four years course. Beginning with elementary principles, makes gradual applications to wall papers, embroidery, lace, carpets, wrought iron, etc., imparting much valuable technical information.
Ath. 1908, 1:167.

749 Shackleton, Robert & Elizabeth. Quest of the colonial. Century $2.40 n

7-30414 Pleasant narrative of experiences of two enthusiastic collectors of old furniture. Describes searches in old towns of Eastern and Southern States, distinguishes various styles, and offers suggestions to prospective collectors. Over 50 halftones.
Dial, 43:383.

750 b Cox, Kenyon. Painters and sculptors: a second series of "Old masters and new." Duffield $2.50 n

7-31410 A practical artist's critical appreciations of The Pollaiuoli, Holbein, Rembrandt, Rodin, Lord Leighton, Painters of the mode, The education of an artist. Revised from magazine articles.
Nation, 85:525; Putnam's, 3:957.

750 Van Dyke, J. C. Studies in pictures: an introduction to the famous galleries. Scribner $1.25 n

7-9576 Points out some of the elements that may be looked for in various kinds of painting — landscapes, portraits, etc. Chapters on the restoration of old masters and on copies and forgeries. 39 halftones of celebrated paintings.
Acad. 73:726; Dial, 43:95; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:300.

759.1 c Caffin, C. H. Story of American painting. Stokes $2.50 n

7-36959 Traces various influences from colonial times to present, with much suggestive criticism. The physical makeup of the book is unfortunate and its 143 halftones, though helpful, are disappointing. Of special value to libraries which have not Isham's History of American painting, 1905, Macmillan $5.

7-30413 J. W. McSpadden's Famous painters of America (Crowell $2.50 n 927.5) makes no pretense at art criticism but gives anecdotal sketches of West, Copley, Stuart, Inness, Vedder, Homer, La Farge, Whistler, Sargent, Abbey and Chase. 38 halftones; bibliography.
Caffin, Nation, 86:21; Putnam's, 3:359 (E. L. Cary). McSpadden, Dial, 43:379; Nation, 85:383.

759.2 Phythian, J. E. George Frederick Watts. (Famous artists and their work) Stokes $1

8-35589 Popular little handbook, grouping work by subjects, as Myth and legend, Chivalry, Faith, hope and charity, Landscape, Portraiture, etc. and interpreting paintings as symbolic expressions of Watts's philosophy of life and nature. Illustrated.

W7-158 Bayes's Landscapes of George Frederick Watts (Warne $1.25 n), the second volume on Watts in the Newnes' art library, consists of a 13 page essay, 18 excellent reproductions tipped on tinted backgrounds, and a portrait of Watts.

759.6 Bensusan, S. L. Velasquez. (Masterpieces in color) (Jack 1/6 n) Stokes 65c n

W8-31 A short biographic and critical essay, printed in wide-leaded, black face type and illustrated by eight colored plates. The series follows this plan, and the four volumes already issued have unusually satisfactory color prints.

Independent, 63:1466; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:835.

759.6 Cole, Timothy. Old Spanish masters. Century $6 n

7-32152 Thirty-one wood engravings interesting as reproductions of the originals, and still more valuable as masterpieces of the engraver's art. The accompanying historical survey of Spanish art by C. H. Caffin is less illuminating than the engraver's admirable descriptive notes.

Ath. 1907, 2:775; Dial, 43:371; Nation, 85:574; Putnam's, 3:360.

760 b Hayden, Arthur. Chats on old prints. Stokes $2 n

7-6391 Describes processes and qualities of etching, wood, steel and copper engraving, mezzotint, aquatint, lithograph, giving brief characterizations of principal engravers and hints to collectors of limited means. 110 halftone reproductions add greatly to practical value. Deals mainly with art in England.

6-33516 Lippmann's Engraving and etching (Scribner $3.50 n), a translation of the handbook of the Royal Museum, Berlin, is called by the Nation "The best concise treatise . . . about the history of intaglio prints . . . to the beginning of the 19th century." Sala-
7-6389 man's Old engravers of England (Lippincott $2 n) gives lives of engravers (1540–1800) and reviews their work as mirroring con-
6-28210 temporary social life. Hardie's English coloured books (Connois-
6-18076 seur's lib. Putnam $6.75 n 765) is a clear, concise treatment, handsomely illustrated in color. Julia Frankau's Eighteenth century colour prints (Macmillan $1.40 n 765) is a reprint of text only of the sumptuous work published in 1900 in editions costing from $55 to $175.

Hayden, Ath. 1906, 2:742; Sat. R. 103:150. Lippmann, Acad. 71:499; Ath. 1906, 2:279; Bookman, 24:640; Dial, 42:346. Salaman, Acad. 72:117; Ath. 1906, 2:742; Dial, 43:60; Nation, 85:268; Sat. R. 103:19; Spec. 97:938; Hardie, Ath. 1906, 2:555; Nation, 83:492. Frankau, Ath. 1906, 2:838.

770 Guest, Antony. Art and the camera. Macmillan $2 n

7-35390 Clear and suggestive study of nature, genre and figure photography as a creative rather than a mechanical reproductive art, setting forth the principles underlying selection, composition and lighting and indicating the treatment of the negative and print to secure results resembling the beautiful photographs reproduced.

7–19429 Beck's Art principles in portrait photography (Baker & T. $3 n) is a similar treatise devoted exclusively to portraits, emphasizing composition and treatment of backgrounds and using photographs and line drawing to demonstrate the argument of the text.
Guest, Acad. 73:794; Internat. Studio, 32:337. Beck, Dial, 43:68; Nation, 85:241; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:446.

GARDENING

712 Barron, Leonard. Lawns and how to make them, together with the proper keeping of putting greens. (Garden lib.) Doubleday $1.10 n

6–39021 Practical little book dealing with selection of site, grading, seeding and seed mixtures, turfing, mowing, enriching, rolling, watering, the weed problem, etc. 32 instructive halftones from photographs. Indexed.

716 c Rexford, E. E. Four seasons in the garden. Lippincott $1.50 n

7–16936 Not a guide to the seasons in order, but a haphazard collection of papers containing valuable hints for simple gardening, indoors and out. 27 halftone plates, decorations and ornamental initials.

7–15329 Sedgwick's Garden month by month (Stokes $4) is a reference book with tabular arrangement indicating appearance, color, method of cultivation and date of bloom of hardy plants for formal or wild gardens, with additional lists of aquatics, vines, etc. Folding color chart, full index of names, over 200 halftones.

Ath. 1907, 2:547; Forum, 39:118; Independent, 63:101; Nation, 84:478; North Amer. R. 185:328.

a Fraulein Schmidt and Mr Anstruther: by the author of "Elizabeth and her German garden." Scribner $1.50

7–21365 Letters from a piquant, brilliant German girl in Jena to a young Englishman, a renegade lover. Clever character sketches, frank comments on life and literature, and unfailing humor reveal a delightful personality.
Ath. 1907, 1:630; Dial, 43:65; Nation, 84:591; Spec. 98:763.

Freeman, Mrs M. E. (Wilkins). The fair Lavinia and others. Harper $1.25

7–34778 Modern and 18th century stories, three of which, The pink shawls, The secret, and The gold, are in Mrs Freeman's earlier and more characteristic manner.
Nation, 86:39; Outlook, 87:745.

Gale, Zona. The loves of Pelleas and Etarre. Macmillan $1.50

7–30832 Sentimental story, told with quaint, dainty humor, of two "young-old married folk" who have never ceased to be lovers and to love young lovers.
Nation, 86:38; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:380; Outlook, 87:622.

Gorki, Maxim, pseud. (A. M. Pieshkov). Mother. Appleton $1.50

7-16750 A middle-aged Russian peasant, brutalized by abuse, awakens to emotional and intelligent life through her efforts to understand and aid in her son's revolutionary activities.

A public which connects . . . Gorky with squalid realism and moral laxity should read this moving and human story. Hardly elsewhere has socialism spoken with a voice at once so deep and so gentle. Nation, 84:544.

Cath. World, 85:677; North Amer. R. 85:661; Putnam's, 3:111.

a Hall, E. C. Aunt Jane of Kentucky. Little $1.50

7-12978 An old lady's reminiscences of her youth, full of quaint humor, wholesome sentiment and homely philosophy, giving a pleasant picture of rural life.

Cath. World, 85:688; Outlook, 86:117; Putnam's, 2:749.

c Harrison, Mrs M. St L. (Kingsley) "Lucas Malet," pseud. The far horizon. Dodd $1.50

7-983 London story of a superannuated bank clerk's friendship with a fascinating actress. Interest lies in the character and spiritual development of the chivalrous and unworldly hero.

Bookman, 24:595; Cath. World, 85:538; Dial, 42:225; Nation, 84:39; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:202 (Madison Cawein); Putnam's, 2:183; Sat. R. 102:744; Spec. 97:937.

b Hawthorne, Julian, ed. Library of the world's best mystery and detective stories. 6v. Sold only in sets. Review of Reviews $3 n

8-35588 One hundred and one stories of mystery, magic and the supernatural, from American, English, Scotch, Irish, German, Scandinavian, Russian, French, Italian, Spanish and oriental sources and including extracts from personal memoirs and scientific papers explaining the wonders of modern magic and "psychic" manifestations. Mostly by well known authors, many translated for the first time.

c Howells, W. D. Through the eye of the needle. Harper $1.50

7-15545 The first part is a view of modern New York as seen by a traveler from the ideal commonwealth of Altruria; the second an account of Altruria as seen by the American wife whom he takes home with him and who has a difficult time adjusting her ideas to those of Altruria.

Nation, 84:434; North Amer. R. 186:127; Spec. 98:836.

b Lancaster, G. B. The tracks we tread. Doubleday $1.50

7-28459 Terse, vivid expression and a grim humor characterize this unconventional story of life on a New Zealand cattle ranch, where elemental passions predominate and love works its leavening influence.

Bookman, 27:102; Nation, 85:545.

c Laughlin, C. E. Felicity: the making of a comédienne. Scribner $1.50

7–10619 Human and winsome story of a theatrical star. Pictures stage life without glamor or prejudice and shows the pathetic loneliness of publicity.
Atlantic, 100:133; Bookman, 25:284; Dial, 42:315; Nation, 84:291.

Le Blond, Mrs Aubrey. Story of an Alpine winter. Macmillan $1.50

8–12971 As a story quite negligible but most interesting in its descriptions of winter sports in the Engadine Alps.
7–7196 In A. E. W. Mason's Running water (Century $1.50) also, the dominating interest is high Alpine climbing and its influences on character, and this redeems a story not otherwise very successfully developed.
Le Blond, Sat. R. 105:52. Mason, Acad. 72:205; Ath. 1907, 1:349; Dial, 43:376; Outlook, 85:717.

Lincoln, J. C. The "Old Home House." Barnes $1.25

Nation, 85:235.

Lynde, Francis. Empire builders. Bobbs-Merrill $1.50

7–26019 A slight love story scarcely interrupts the rapid action of this stirring tale of the financing and building of a Rocky mountain railroad through the grit, foresight and push of its young chief engineer.
Bookman, 26:164; Outlook, 87:45.

Martin, Mrs Helen (Riemensnyder). Betrothal of Elypholate, and other tales of the Pennsylvania Dutch. Century $1.50

7–30437 Short stories humorously and sympathetically interpreting characteristic traits of the New Mennonites of Pennsylvania. Decidedly more interesting than Mrs Martin's longer stories.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:676; Outlook, 87:450.

c Mason, A. E. W. The broken road. Scribner $1.50

7–37552 An intense, swift-moving story of life in India, in which a young English engineer and an Indian prince, educated in England, are chief characters, and the building of a road across the northern frontier furnishes the principal incidents.
A. L. A. Booklist.
Ath. 1907, 2:682; Outlook, 87:827.

Montrésor, F. F. The burning torch. Dutton $1.50

*N*7–204 The "burning torch" is a young girl's fatal gift of second sight. A somewhat eerie supernaturalism is offset by quiet humor and interesting characterization.
Acad. 73:731; Ath. 1907, 1:786; Nation, 85:286; Putnam's, 3:239; Spec. 99:159.

Moody, W. S. The Pickwick ladle, and other collector's stories. Scribner $1.50

7-35226 Six quietly humorous stories relating the experiences of a young married couple of limited means and excellent taste, in their search for antiques.
Nation, 84:523.

Mosenthal, S. H. Stories of Jewish home life. Jewish Pub. Soc. $1.25

7-40796 Five stories of character development in girls or women, projected against a background of Jewish customs and traditions.

7-12639 Simeon Eichelkatz (Jewish Pub. Soc. $1.50) by Ulrich Frank (pseud. for Frau Ulla Hirschfeld Wolff), translated from the German, contains two excellent studies in race temperament, almost without plot, the first emphasizing the older and the second the modern type of Judaism.
Mosenthal, N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:206. Frank, N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:432.

Oxenham, John. The long road. Macmillan $1.50

7-10620 Painful but restrained and inspiring story of Siberian exile. A young Russian, condemned to perpetual wandering by a tyrant official, is overwhelmed by the sorrows of his lot, but finds solace in the service of his fellows.
Acad. 72:345; Bookman, 25:501; Dial, 42:376; Nation, 84:314.

7-37269 Six studies of human nature in story form which get at the real man and woman "under the crust" of convention, habit or pretense. Also a one act play of the Civil War.
Nation, 86:83; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:826; Outlook, 87:742.

a Parker, Sir Gilbert. The weavers: a tale of England and Egypt of fifty years ago. Harper $1.50

7-30167 Egypt's picturesque cities and desert, an English Quaker town and London high life offer strong contrasts of background for the well drawn characters of a compelling tale of politics, intrigue and love. A. L. A. Booklist.
Acad. 73:116; Bookman, 26:169; Dial, 43:319; Nation, 85:306.

Porter, Mrs Gene Stratton-. At the foot of the rainbow. Outing $1.50

8-978 Story of Indiana country life, blending humor and pathos and pervaded by a breezy, out-of-doors atmosphere, in which a rough, lovable Scotchman and a dissipated Irishman and his wife are the only characters.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:95.

Quaint courtships. (Harper's novelettes) Harper $1

6-28455 Ten stories by Margaret Deland, Norman Duncan, Mary Wilkins Freeman, Elia W. Peattie, Annie Donnell and others. The series to which it belongs, edited by W. D. Howells and H. M. Alden, brings together much widely scattered good material.

Rideout, H. M. The Siamese cat. McClure $1.25

7-15114 Narrates the lightning series of mysterious mishaps which follow the purchase of the Siamese cat by a young American traveling in the East with her maiden aunt. Combines humor, picturesque adventure and a spontaneous little romance.
Nation, 84:544.

Robins, Elizabeth, "C. E. Raimond," pseud. Under the Southern Cross. Stokes $1.50 n

7-36093 A shipboard love affair between an impetuous Peruvian baron and a charming, self-possessed New Yorker. Piquant comedy with a genuinely pathetic note.
Bookman, 27:104.

Sherwood, M. P. The Princess Pourquoi. Houghton $1.50

7-31285 Five stories presenting in allegory such social problems as the education of woman, the accumulation of wealth, etc. Very well written but limited in appeal. Reprinted from magazines.
Nation, 85:474; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:661.

b Smith, F. H. Romance of an old-fashioned gentleman. Scribner $1.50

7-31210 Charming story of an artist's high standards of honor, exemplified in his love and renunciation, and years later in his influence on the business career of a protégé.
Nation, 85:446; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:764; Outlook, 87:496.

c Stewart, C. D. Partners of Providence. Century $1.50

7-12003 Story of Missouri and Mississippi steamboat life, humorously told in boy language, and, like the river, running a long and devious course.

b Vachell, H. A. Her son. Dodd $1.50

7-31481 Sacrificing her reputation, Dorothy Fairfax adopts and brings up as her own the illegitimate son of the lover she has dismissed but still loves. A consistent record of superlative self-sacrifice.
Acad. 72:415; Ath. 1907, 1:501; Bookman, 26:278; Nation, 85:519; Spec. 98:721.

Wallace, Dillon. Ungava Bob: a winter's tale. Revell $1.50

7-29093 Adventures of a plucky 16 year old boy while fur hunting in Labrador. Author's recent explorations in country lend authority to descriptions of life, customs and scenery.

Wharton, Mrs E. N. (Jones). Fruit of the tree. Scribner $1.50

7-32842 Story of a young social reformer who thwarts his own happiness and that of the two women who love him by his implacable devotion to his ideals. Subtle, artistic and acutely analytical but lacking in geniality and personal appeal.
Acad. 74:345; Bookman, 26:273; Dial, 43:317; Nation, 85:514; Spec. 99:1057.

Wiggin, Mrs K. D. (Smith) (Mrs Riggs). New chronicles of Rebecca. Houghton $1.25

7–11587 The reader will welcome the reappearance of the clever, sensitive and appreciative child — Rebecca, and regret that in the last two of these 11 stories, she seems to be developing into an everyday young woman.

Ath. 1907, 2:179; Atlantic, 100:133; Bookman, 25:304; Nation, 84:362; Sat. R. 104:86; Spec. 98:1037.

Zangwill, Israel. Ghetto comedies. Macmillan $1.50

394 a Stevenson, B. E. & Butler, Mrs E. S. comp. Days and deeds: prose for children's reading and speaking. Baker & T. $1 n

7–36391 Supplements their Days and deeds: poetry with selections from a wide range of writers, on American holidays, special days, great Americans and the seasons.

398.2 Buxton, E. M. Wilmot-. Stories of early England. (Children's favorite classics) Crowell 60c

6–22318 Hero tales and myths, pleasingly rendered from Beowulf, Cynewulf and Cynehcrd, the Mabinogion, Fight of Brihtnoth, Saxon chronicle, Lay of Havelock, etc., including a few old English poems translated by Stopford Brooke.

398.2 Darton, F. J. H. Wonder book of old romance. Stokes $1.50

8–35256 Thirteen tales, including William and the Werewolf, King Robert of Sicily, Sir Gawaine and the Green Knight, Guy of Warwick, Havelock the Dane, etc. 40 plates from drawings, and interesting initials.

398.2 b Lang, Andrew. Tales of Troy and Greece. Longmans $1.50 n

7–34175 Adventures of Greek heroes, Ulysses, Perseus and Theseus. In these stirring tales the atmosphere of the Homeric age, rich in color, downright in action, is recreated.

7–30639 Church's Iliad for boys and girls (Macmillan $1.50) tells the story of Troy in simpler but equally unaffected style. Both are beautifully printed and delightfully illustrated, the latter in delicate colors.

Lang, Acad. 74:370; Ath. 1907, 1:514; Sat. R. 104, 7 Dec. '07 sup. p. 5; Spec. 99:713. Church, Ath. 1907, 2:514; Sat. R. 104, 7 Dec. '07 sup. p.5; Spec. 99:713.

398.2 Marshall, H. E. Stories of William Tell and his friends. (Told to the children ser.) Dutton 50c

7-25666 Tells simply the brave legends surrounding the Swiss struggle for liberty. Eight colored illustrations.

398.2 Pyle, Howard. Story of Sir Launcelot and his companions. Scribner $2.50 n

7-34314 Uniform with his King Arthur and his knights and Champions of the Round Table. Like them follows Mallory in spirit and archaic language, altering some incidents to suit a children's version. Author's illustrations.
Nation, 85:496.

398.2 Wiggin, Mrs K. D. (Smith) & Smith, N. A. ed. Magic casements: a second fairy book. (McClure's lib. of children's classics) McClure $1.50

7-39995 Fairy tales from Scandinavian, French, Italian, Russian, African, Japanese, English and other sources.

7-35196 Ernest Rhys's Fairy gold, published in attractive, illustrated form at $2.50 and more modestly in Everyman's lib. (Dutton 50c), is made up chiefly of old English tales and romances.

523 Mitton, G. E. Children's book of stars. (Color bk ser.) (Black 6/) Macmillan $2 n

W7-170 Comes nearer success than any predecessor in an attempt to make astronomical facts clear and interesting to children. Uncommonly well illustrated.
Spec. 99:638.

537 a Adams, J. H. Harper's electricity book for boys. (Harper's practical bks for boys) Harper $1.75

7-37737 Clear directions for manufacturing everyday electrical appliances with homemade apparatus at small cost. Includes chapter explaining electric light, heat, power and traction and a dictionary of electrical terms. Illustrated by drawings.

7-33979 Will be used by somewhat younger boys than Tudor Jenks's Electricity for young people (Stokes $1.50 n), an historical account of the development of knowledge and control of electricity. E. J.

7-36998 Houston's Boy electrician (Lippincott $1.50) gives much authoritative information in a story so wooden and perfunctory that it is difficult not to condemn without qualification, but at least one boy has been delighted with it.
Adams, Elec. World, 50:1128; Nation, 85:519. Jenks, Nation, 85:519.

598.2 c Wright, Mrs Mabel (Osgood), "Barbara," pseud. Gray Lady and the birds: stories of the bird year for home and school. Macmillan $1.75 n

7-7517 Neltie Blanchan's Birds that every child should know: the East (Doubleday $1.20 n) describes the appearance, nest, eggs and songs of our eastern birds and photographs them at home.

613 c Jewett, F. G. Good health. (Gulick hygiene ser. bk 1) Ginn 50c n

6-39010 Readable and sensible little book on personal hygiene, designed for elementary textbook. Discusses cleanliness, ventilation, care of eyes, ears, finger nails, hair, teeth, skin, importance of exercise, correct breathing, sleep, etc.

614 ——— Town and city. (Gulick hygiene ser. bk 3) Ginn 60c n

7-3113 Points out the physical evils attendant on crowded town life, shows how city departments are trying to meet them and encourages children to do their part in the good work.
Lib. Jour. 33:139.

614.84 a Downes, A. M. Fire fighters and their pets. Harper $1.50

7-38206 Interesting accounts of heroism, perils, discipline and pastimes of New York firemen, descriptions of fire-fighting apparatus and anecdotes of engine-house pets. By secretary of New York fire department. Binding flimsy and inartistic but 85 halftones good.

621.13 Howden, J. R. Boys' book of locomotives. McClure $2

W7-215 For those who are intelligently interested in machinery and want to know "how" and "why." Probably few boys under 18 will fully understand the explanations of principles and construction, but over 100 photographs will attract younger enthusiasts.
Nation, 85:520.

630 Keffer, C. A. Nature studies on the farm: soils and plants. (Eclectic readings) Amer. Bk Co. 40c

7-8528 Simple lessons on the way plants grow. The following is quoted from a farmer: "A good book to put in the hands of a child to open his eyes to what is going on in the nature world around him. To be commended for what it leaves out as well as for what it puts in."

793 Pearson, A. C. ed. Twentieth century standard puzzle book. 3 pt in 1 v. (Routledge 3/6) Dutton $1.50

8-35591 Contains magic squares, tricks, charades, conundrums, optical illusions, freaks of figures, chess cameos, curious calculations, anagrams, palindromes, etc. with solutions.

7-34781 E. H. Glover's "Dame Curtsey's" book of novel entertainments for every day in the year (McClurg $1 n) is arranged by months and furnishes suggestions for holidays, special days and social
7-36217 affairs in home, church and club. What shall we do now? (Stokes $1.50) "by Dorothy Canfield and others" is an Americanized reprint of an English book with the same title by E. V. and Elizabeth Lucas, Grant Richards, 1900. The material in Carolyn Wells's
7-28641 Rainy day diversions (Moffat $1 n) is divided into three parts: pt 1, a description, in story form, of tricks, games and indoor amusements; pt 2, suggestions for celebrating holidays; pt 3, two short Christmas plays.
Canfield, Nation, 85:519. Wells, Nation, 85:519.

796 Adams, J. H. Harper's outdoor book for boys. (Harper's practical bks for boys) Harper $1.75

7–21249 Simple, practical directions for making all sorts of things for outdoor enjoyment — windmills, aeroplanes, ice boats, skees, tree huts, equipment for camp life, trapping, hunting and fishing. Illustrated with working diagrams.
Nation, 85:100.

821.08 Lucas, E. V. ed. Another book of verses for children. Macmillan $1.50 n

7–32337 Admirable selections, chosen partly with view to reading aloud, a large proportion not being found in other children's anthologies. They range from Shakspere, Blake, Tennyson to modern nonsense rhymes. Attractively illustrated.

W7–200 Attention should be called to Louey Chisholm's compilation The golden staircase (Putnam $2.50 n; Jack 7/6 n) a charmingly printed, bound and illustrated quarto in which selections are so arranged that the child may make a progress from simple verse 7–30444 to more mature poetry. Pinafore palace, compiled by Kate Douglas Wiggin and Nora Archibald Smith (McClure $1.50 398.8), is a collection for the youngest children similar in arrangement and execution to their Posy ring.
Chisholm, Ath. 1906, 2:827; Nation, 85:495; Outlook, 87:358; Spec. 98:627. Wiggin & Smith, Nation, 85:495.

822.33 Shakspere, William. Midsummer-night's dream for young people. (Dandelion ser.) Stokes $1.50

7–27351 Introduced by a little story about the play's first production before Queen Elizabeth. Adapted from Cambridge text, with graceful, imaginative colored illustrations and black and white decorations by Lucy Fitch Perkins.

910 Bonawitz, George & Coleman, Helen. Little travelers around the world: visits to people of other lands. Barnes $1

7–37551 Useful in children's room for its 24 attractive halftone plates and many drawings in text, illustrating scenery and customs. Letterpress, plainly written to fit pictures, has no further value.

JUVENILE FICTION

b Aanrud, Hans. Lisbeth Longfrock. ("Once upon a time" ser.) Ginn 65c

7-21362 Story of a young Norwegian peasant girl, reproducing faithfully the poetic and commonplace of farm life. Six illustrations by a Norwegian add to the interest.

N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:493.

c Altsheler, J. A. Young trailers: a story of early Kentucky. Appleton $1.50

7-29578 Above the average story for boys in its faithful descriptions of out-of-door life and pioneer conditions in Kentucky.

Outlook, 87:311.

Baylor, Mrs E. M. H. A little prospector. Lothrop $1

7-23301 Though this eight year old Nevada pioneer has some unusual experiences, they are quite possible, and he meets them like a real little boy. The photographs are also genuine and the book should prove popular.

Brown, A. F. Friends and cousins. Houghton $1

7-30835 A sequel to Brothers and sisters, in which the children spend another summer in the country by the sea, play Indian, dig for Captain Kidd's treasure, and make new friends. A. L. A. Booklist.
Independent, 63:1483; Nation, 85:520.

c Garland, Hamlin. The long trail: a story of the Northwest wilderness. Harper $1.25

7-15590 Develops from a conventional and unpromising opening into a vivid, realistic story of an ambitious youth's perilous journey to the Klondike. Author writes from personal experience of the overland route, and principal characters reveal qualities of unselfishness, perseverance and pluck.

Grinnell, G. B. Jack, the young trapper: an eastern boy's fur-hunting in the Rocky Mountains. ("Jack" bks) Stokes $1.25

c Haines, A. C. Luck of the Dudley Grahams. Holt $1.50

7-32036 Relates the plucky struggles of a family left suddenly with insufficient income. The plot is familiar but there is considerable freshness of characterization and style.

Hopkins, W. J. The sandman: his ship stories. (Sandman stories) Page $1.50

7-28963 Bedtime stories for little children, about the building of a ship and what happened on its voyages. Like the earlier Sandman stories, employs the kind of repetition dear to children.

a Lagerlöf, S. O. L. Wonderful adventures of Nils; tr. from the Swedish by Velma S. Howard. Doubleday $1.50

7-33213 An idle, cruel boy, reduced to elfin size for malicious mischief, migrates north with the wild geese and learns lessons of love and helpfulness. Combines Swedish natural history and travel with a charming fairy story.
Independent, 63:1479; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 12:749.

a Richards, Rosalind. Two children in the woods. Estes $1.25

7-34174 A little girl tells the story of an eventful summer in a Maine camp with a boy friend and some lively older people. Excellent in description of out-of-door life, and of pleasant relations between old and young.

Roberts, G. E. T. Red feathers: a story of remarkable adventures when the world was young. Page $1.50

7-26602 Fairy tale and Indian tale and a little manual of kindly and ripe philosophy in one. Told with a fine simplicity of style that marks it as literature of a high order. Nation, 86:219.

Smith, N. A. Adventures of a doll. McClure $1

8–277 Simple story of a little girl in the Scotch Highlands, her doll and her dog. Nothing happens, but book is pleasantly written and will please little girls.

b Ward, Mrs M. A. (Mrs Humphry Ward). Milly and Olly. Doubleday $1.20 n

7–37712 Delightfully natural story of the good times of a little English boy and girl during a summer holiday in the mountains near Windermere. First published in England 27 years ago.

A SELECTION FROM THE

PREFATORY NOTE

To the Librarian:

This is an annotated list of 250 books published in 1908, selected by the book board of the New York State Library and recommended to the public libraries of the State. To aid in choosing small collections of new books three classes are indicated: books marked a, of which there are 20, are suggested to libraries which must confine their additions within narrow limits; 30 others marked b are also proposed to libraries that can buy 50 books; and 50 marked c may be added to a and b to make up 100 books. The remaining 150, including some reference books and a few more costly publications, are worthy careful consideration by libraries that can buy more than 100 books and by those wishing to enlarge resources in special subjects. Many of the unmarked works are of the highest merit.

It is of course impossible for any board to determine which 100 or 200 books are absolutely the best; still less could it make a selection which would fit the needs of every small library in the State. Books marked c may be a in value in certain cases. The best general advice may, and sometimes should, be rejected in view of actual needs, and the librarian should of course be better able to determine such needs than a distant board of advisers. It is thought best to inform the smaller libraries about some books which would be of high practical value to them, though probably too expensive to be bought from the ordinary fund. Special circumstances may sometimes justify buying such a work at the sacrifice of several cheaper ones. Occasionally, too, some generous friend or local club expresses a wish to make a town library a substantial gift. If the librarian can make prompt and definite suggestions it is an advantage to the community and the satisfaction of the benefactor is materially increased.

We can not too strongly emphasize the advice which we have for several years quoted in full from the Journal of New Jersey Libraries, October 1903: Do not buy subscription books; avoid books issued in parts; ask advice before purchasing expensive reprints.

Finest Orations, Noblest Essays, Royal Flim Flams, Huge Anthologies, and the like all come to the secondhand man. Get them of him, if you must. In a small library they are generally almost useless. In subscription books, cases like this are not uncommon. Maspero wrote several large and learned volumes, in French, on Egypt and Chaldea. They were translated and published in three or four volumes in England, costing libraries in this country about $5 each. An American publisher reprints them in 12 small volumes with a few additional colored cuts, on heavier paper and in larger type and offers them through agents for $84 — and libraries buy them!

Do not buy "sets" or complete editions of authors. Buy the volumes you need and as you need them. A complete set always includes several volumes you do not need. Specify the edition you wish of standard books when you can, unless you find a bookseller able and willing to select them wisely for you.

While this list has been prepared with special reference to smaller public libraries it will also be of much service to schools. Not all the books listed, however, are recommended for school use. There are some books in fiction which have not enough positive value either as literature or as a spur to historical study to justify their purchase for a school, yet which serve a legitimate purpose in the public library by providing wholesome entertainment for a very different class of readers. All titles under the heading "Juvenile" are recommended for those school libraries which undertake to provide wholesome entertainment as well as useful information.

In accordance with the statement in the preface of the Tentative selection, only the more popular type of book dealing with technical subjects has been recommended here. Libraries in need of more advanced technical literature will find the annual list prepared by the applied science department of Pratt Institute Free Library, Brooklyn, entitled Technical Books of 1908, sent free on application, a most valuable aid.

This list, like its predecessors since 1897, has been prepared under the general direction of Martha T. Wheeler of the State Library staff.

8-31695 Saleeby's Health, strength and happiness (Stokes $1.50n 614.32) is a survey of the essentials of personal hygiene from the viewpoint of the "new asceticism": the body important only as it serves the mind. Chary of definite recommendation, and offers no panaceas, but suggestive and stimulating on broad lines.

Gulick, Nation, 87:584. Saleeby, Dial, 46:142; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:680, Nov. 14, '08.

152 a Keller, H. A. The world I live in. Century $1.20
Fifteen brief essays and a poem reprinted from the Century.
8–30582 A wonder story no less for its short and simple account of how she has reconstructed for herself in her dark and silent isolation the world of her fellow men, than by reason of her optimism, which leads her to find in her fate such marvelous blessings.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:688, Nov. 21, '08
Dial, 45:346.

ETHICS

170 Carman, Bliss. The making of personality.

Dial, 44:277.

RELIGION

204 Zueblin, Charles. The religion of a democrat.
Huebsch $1 n
8–12540 Six earnest essays, constructively socialistic in essence, making social efficiency the measure of both religion and morality.
Amer. Jour. of Sociol. 14:267; Arena, 40:117; Dial, 45:67; Econ. Bul. 1:333.

215 c Lodge, Sir O. J. Science and immortality. Moffat $2 n
8–28409 Based on articles in Hibbert Journal and Contemporary Review, dealing with science and faith ritual and the church essential, immortality, science and Christian doctrine. Helpful in tone and interesting as the personal views of a distinguished scientist inclining to spiritualistic beliefs.
Dial, 46:22; Nation, 87:659; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:659, Oct. 17, '08; North Amer. R. 189:458; Outlook, 91:151.

240 c King, H. C. The seeming unreality of the spiritual life. (Nathaniel William Taylor lectures, Yale Univ. 1907) Macmillan $1.50 n
8–18361 Frank, straightforward discussion, examining causes and nature of the seeming unreality and outlining arguments which offer a basis for faith in Christianity as a "real, rational and vital" religion.
Atlantic, 103:557; Independent, 65:789.

244 Lagerlöf, Selma. Christ legends. Holt $1.25 n
8–31488 Eleven legends, seven being of the Christ child, told with a poetic imagination and simplicity hardly less than art. Scarcely suited to the children's room, but of special value to the story-teller.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:762, Dec. 5, '08.

251 Faunce, W. H. P. The educational ideal in the ministry. (Lyman Beecher lectures, Yale Univ. 1908) Macmillan $1.25 n
8–32415 Vigorous broad-minded addresses discussing the minister's relation to modern life and thought, and defining his most important function today as that of Christian teacher.
Educ. R. 38:99; Rev. of Rev. 39:254.

261 c Gladden, Washington. The church and modern life. Houghton $1.25 n
8–9795 Frank, fair-minded examination of the relation of Christianity to life, concluding that the real work of the church is the redemption of society and appealing to young people to enlist in a campaign of practical service.
Nation, 87:10; Outlook, 89:131.

266 b Barton, J. L. Daybreak in Turkey. Pilgrim Press $1.50 n
8–37732 Timely presentation of historical, political, social, racial, religious, missionary and educational conditions which have led up to constitutionalism and are concerned in the present (1909) revolution. Author seven years missionary in country and 14 years foreign secretary of American board.
Nation, 88:222; Outlook, 91:583.

282 Sabatier, Paul. Modernism. (Jowett lectures, 1908) Scribner $1.50
W9–3 Defense of the movement within the Roman Catholic church for greater freedom of religious thought and life, by an eminent French Protestant imbued with Catholic tradition and feeling. Appendixes include two encyclicals by Pius 10. Another appreciation of the modernist point of view by a Protestant is found in A. L. Lilley's Modernism (Scribner $1.75 n), which consists of magazine articles (1902–7), constituting in a sense a chronological record of W8–175 developments. Medievalism (Longmans $1.25 n) by George Tyrrell, is also an apologia for modernism, in the form of a polemic against Cardinal Mercier's Pastoral which denounced modernist errors and branded Father Tyrrell as a typical representative of the movement. Basing its arguments on the Pope's encyclical 8–17779 John Godrycz's Doctrine of modernism and its refutation (McVey 75c) is evidently intended to confirm the allegiance of loyal Catholics.
Sabatier, Hibbert Jour. 7:69; Nation, 88:385; Spec. 102:449. Lilley, Nation, 87:16; Sat. R. 105:376. Tyrrell. Sat. R. 106:426; Spec. 101:329. Godrycz. Cath. World, 87:686; Outlook, 89:351.

289.6 Stephen, C. E. Light arising: thoughts on the central radiance. Winston 90c n Thoughtful, mature presentation of the Quaker doctrine of the inner light, written with well balanced enthusiasm. Edward Grubb's Authority and the light within (Winston 80c n) is also primarily an apologetic for Quakerism, but is of wider scope as an earnest attempt to reconcile individualism and Christian dogma.

SOCIOLOGY

See also Juvenile, p. 37.

301 Ross, E. A. Social psychology: an outline and source book. Macmillan $1.50 n

8–21601 Studies the phenomena of suggestion, imitation, custom and convention: those uniformities of feeling, belief and action which are the result of human association and reaction. Textbook arrangement, but of general interest by reason of its spicy style.

Arena, 40:467; Bookman, 27:593; Educ. R. 36:517; Outlook, 90:41; Philos. 17:666; Psychological Bul. 5:381; Science, 51:54.

304 Royce, Josiah. Race questions, provincialism and other American problems. Macmillan $1.25 n

8–31148 Five not very closely related addresses on topics that appeal to thoughtful readers. The ideas are fresh, the judgments sound, and the style forcible and attractive. A. L. A. Booklist

Dial, 46:19; Educ. R. 37:69; Jour. of Philos. 6:163; Nation, 87:547.

304 Wendell, Barrett. The privileged classes. Scribner $1.25 n

8–28840 Four gently ironical, brilliantly phrased essays; the first two in reactionary vein, showing the dangers of socialistic encroachment on time-honored rights of privilege and property, the other two arraigning the American educational system as chaotic and ineffectual.

Amer. Jour. of Sociol. 14:539; Annals of Amer. Acad. 23:478; Bookman, 28:357; Nation, 88:69.

308 Hughes, C. E. Addresses and papers. Putnam $1.50

N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:448, Aug. 15, '08; Outlook, 89:776.

320.1 Dickinson, G. L. Justice and liberty: a political dialogue. Doubleday $1.20 n

8–31838 Lucid, fair-minded, at times eloquent discussion of marriage, property and government, in the course of which a democratic idealist outlines his suggestions for the betterment of society to two friends who represent aristocratic and laissez-faire viewpoints.

Ath. 1909, 1:93; Dial, 46:15; Nation, 88:354; Sat. R. 106:643.

324.73 c Merriam, C. E. Primary elections. Univ. of Chic. $1.25 n

8–33814 Valuable history of the movement for the legal regulation of primaries, studying the features and practical workings of various state laws and indicating future developments. Appendixes give texts and summaries of the laws and bibliography.

Amer. Hist. R. 14:626; Nation, 88:21; Yale R. 17:456.

325.26 Stone, A. H. Studies in the American race problem. Doubleday $2 n

8–28321 Nine fair-minded essays, by-products of investigations for an exhaustive study of race relations in America, supplemented by three statistical studies by W. F. Wilcox. Author, a southerner, has conducted agricultural experiments with negro labor and speaks authoritatively of industrial and economic conditions. Better

8-24845 suited to the general reader is Race adjustment (Neale $2), 19 essays by Prof. Kelly Miller of Howard University. Himself a negro, he writes sanely and with tempered optimism on such practical matters as the status of the city negro, the movement for industrial education, contrasted opportunities in North and 8-31180 South, etc. R. S. Baker's Following the color line (Doubleday $2 n) attempts to show facts and causes of race discrimination and to explain the southern attitude toward open manifestations of race antipathy. Attitude, that of newspaper reporter, skilled in choosing relevant or illustrative material, but without the student's perspective. Illustrated.

Stone, Annals of Amer. Acad. 33:217; Dial, 46:20; Economic Bul. 2:60; Jour. of Polit. Econ. 17:307; Nation, 88:92. Miller, Annals of Amer. Acad. 32:212; Nation, 88:91. Baker, Annals of Amer. Acad. 33:466; Independent, 66:484; Nation, 88:92.

Macmillan $1.50 n

8-31144 Based on Hyde lectures, Harvard 1908, reviewing French foreign politics since 1871, especially those events which have led to the readjustment of the balance of power in Europe and the recovery of France's position among nations.

Annals of Amer. Acad. 33:218; Ath. 1908, 2:785; Outlook, 91:864; Spec. 102:223.

327.73 c Coolidge, A. C. The United States as a world power.
Macmillan $2 n

8-19878 Hyde lectures at the Sorbonne, 1906–7, reviewing American foreign policy and diplomatic history since 1789, discussing at length events since the Spanish-American War and present relations with other powers.

Amer. Hist. R. 14:372; Annals of Amer. Acad. 32:620; Dial, 46:43; Nation, 87:606; Outlook, 91:796; Polit. Sci. Q. 23:719.

335 c Hunter, Robert. Socialists at work.
Macmillan $1.50 n

8-11815 Brief review of history, description of actual conditions as seen by the author in Germany, Italy, France, Great Britain and Belgium, reforms already accomplished and program for future, parliamentary work and achievements in art and literature. A chapter on other countries by Charles Lapworth. Brief bibliog-
8-8150 raphy. H. G. Wells's New worlds for old (Macmillan $1.50 n), a reasonable and entertaining conception of socialism as a process of moral and intellectual expansion, outlines the fundamentals of the movement and sets forth the author's constructive and oppor-
8-21561 tunist creed. The London Municipal Society's Case against socialism (Macmillan $1.50 n) is a handbook for candidates and speakers compiled for campaign purposes and consisting of quotations from socialist writers with arguments and statistics in 8-33324 refutation. John Spargo's Spiritual significance of modern socialism (Huebsch 50c n) is a popular exposition, briefly describing its nonmaterial and vital aims and correcting impressions as to radical theories which were but incidents in its growth. A primer
9-6005 of socialism by Thomas Kirkup is a brief survey of the economic basis, development and present aims of socialism, a simple and eminently fair presentation from the standpoint of an "evolutionary" socialist rejecting Marxian theories.

338 b Cronau, Rudolf. Our wasteful nation. Kennerley $1

9–145 Timely and readable account of American prodigality and abuse of natural resources. Discusses waste of forests, soil, land, minerals, birds, fish and human life and cites pertinent statistics.

342.423 c Lowell, A. L. The government of England. 2 v. Macmillan $4 n

8–16501 Suggests comparison with Bryce's American commonwealth. Lowell's work is to a greater extent a careful and scholarly presentation of facts and to a less extent a critical interpretation. Not so great or so brilliant as Bryce's work but more thorough and will be at least equally useful. Polit. Sci. Q. 23:712

Acad. 74:924; Amer. Hist. R. 14:140; Eng. Hist. R. 23:809; Forum, 40:123; Nation, 87:37; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:403, July 18, '08 (Edward Cary).

347.94 Munsterburg, Hugo. On the witness stand: essays on psychology and crime. Doubleday $2.50 n

8–13667 Seven interesting if not particularly conclusive essays explaining the application of certain methods of experimental psychology and psychotherapy to judicial procedure, as the testing of the validity of evidence and the detection of crime. The final paper discusses the part played by counter suggestion in the prevention of crime.

Acad. 76:57; Annals of Amer. Acad. 32:627; Bookman, 27:406; Dial, 45:38; Nation, 86:472.

353 Finley, J. H. & Sanderson, J. F. The American executive and executive methods. (Amer. state ser.) Century $1.25 n

8–33813 Comprehensive study of legal powers of governors and president, of their relations to each other and to other branches of government. Cites important judicial decisions. Written from strictly legal standpoint.

Amer. Hist. R. 14:619; Nation, 87:627; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:37, Jan. 23, '09.

353.7 Three years behind the guns: the true chronicles of a "diddy-box"; by L. G. T. Century $1.50 n

8–25121 Personal experiences and impressions of a young sailor aboard the United States ship Olympia during three years' service, in which he visited Japan and China and took part in the Battle of Manila. Breezy and unconventional, but gives excellent insight into life on a battleship.

364 Travis, Thomas. The young malefactor: a study in juvenile delinquency, its causes and treatment. Crowell $1.50 n

8–12983 Rejecting Lombroso's theory of the congenital criminal, the author believes that all normal and some abnormal child offenses are due to wrong environment, and the curative influence is a real home. Appendix contains photographs and drawings of defective development. Bibliography. Judge Lindsay, who introduces both

8–11441 books, characterizes Winning the boy (Revell 75c n, 372.1) by his sometime assistant, Dr Lilburn Merrill, as "entertaining and instructive . . . stories and essays on boy life, that every parent, teacher and other individual interested in children should read."

9–35171 Russell and Rigby's Working lads' clubs (Macmillan $1.50 n, 372.1) is a full study, valuable to social workers of boys clubs in English industrial centers. Covers organization, furnishing, management, financing and discipline and has general chapters on influence on character and conduct of life.

NATURAL SCIENCE

504 a Gibson, C. R. Scientific ideas of to-day. (Popular scientific ser.) Lippincott $1.50 n

9-35170 Account of the nature of matter, electricity, light, gravitation etc. for adult readers wishing elementary information. The chapters are logically arranged and should be read in order.

Ath. 1909, 1:350; Engin. Digest, 5:176.

507 c Schmucker, S. C. The study of nature. (Lippincott's educ. ser.) Lippincott $1.25

8-20551 Suggestions to teachers, covering purpose, preparation, suitable subjects, schoolroom work and equipment, with numerous exercises for training pupils to appreciative interpretation of familiar objects, and a course for first four grades. Brief bibliography. 4 colored plates and 54 drawings in text. A more formal and comprehensive, but perhaps less stimulating treatment following 8-13354 same general arrangement, is Holtz's Nature study (Scribner $1.50 n), which provides a course for the eight grades, list of nature readers, and general list of books grouped by subjects. 171 halftones and drawings.

Schmucker, Holtz, N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:449, Aug. 15, '08.

This series (see note under Jungman's Holland, Best books, 1907, p. 44) maintains fairly well its evident aim of offering children information that informs and illustrations that illustrate, with little sugar coating. Dudley Kidd writes authoritatively as well as interestingly on South Africa and Finnemore's volumes on England, the Holy Land, Morocco and Switzerland, and Talbot Kelly's Egypt are useful and attractive.

916.8 c Kidd, Dudley. The bull of the Kraal and the heavenly maidens; a tale of black children. (Color books for boys and girls) (Black 6/) Macmillan $2 n

W9–181 Story of the doings of the little son and heir of an African chief, embodying a trustworthy account of Kafir child life, its games, adventures with lions and hippopotamuses, fairy tales, etc. An excellent collection of 20 Kafir folklore tales gathered from original sources and reflecting South African life, ideas and scenery, is entitled Fairy tales from South Africa by Bourhill and Drake (Macmillan $1.50 398.2).

Kidd, Ath. 1908, 2:717. Bourhill & Drake, Ath. 1908, 2:759; Spec. 101:918.

917.1 Plummer, M. W. Roy and Ray in Canada. Holt $1.75 n

8–26881 The same children who visited Mexico (see Best Books, 1907, p. 44) spend a summer in eastern Canada. Athirst for knowledge, their ready father satisfies them with much information about history, government, Indians, Jesuit missionaries, etc. Well written, accurate, attractively illustrated.

938 Tappan, E. M. The story of the Greek people: an elementary history of Greece. Houghton 65c n

8–30942 Though designed for a textbook, this brief history is admirable for home reading. With the chief events, the customs, manner of living and thinking, and achievements in art and literature are portrayed. Abundant illustrations, carefully chosen.

970.2 c Howard O. T. Famous Indian chiefs I have known. Century $1.50 n

8–24869 Short, straightforward narratives of Indian leaders from Osceola the Seminole to Geronimo, the last Apache chief on the warpath. Includes Navajo, Modoc, Alaskan and Nez Percés chiefs and such noted characters as Red Cloud and Sitting Bull.

N. Y. Times Sat. R. 13:513, Sept. 19, '08.

973.2 Tappan, E. M. Letters from Colonial children. Houghton $1.50

8–23916 Descriptions of life in the settlements of Jamestown, St Mary's, Savannah, Plymouth, Salem, Newbury, Providence, New Amsterdam, Philadelphia and Quebec, in the form of fictitious letters. Illustrated.

Nation, 87:523.

JUVENILE BIOGRAPHY

920 Lang, Mrs Andrew. The book of princes and princesses. Longmans $1.60 n

8–28404 Will meet the demands of older children, especially the girls who revel in pictures of the life of royal personages. Colored plates and black and white text illustrations.

Ath. 1908, 2:505.

JUVENILE FICTION

c Camp, Walter. The substitute: a football story. Appleton $1.50

8–26678 The freshman hero wins the game for Yale but the story is secondary to the discussion of football tactics and strategy. By a trainer in athletics and advocate of clean sport. Another story of school athletics, clean and quite well written, if somewhat mechanical and hackneyed in plot, is Arthur Pier's The new boy (Houghton $1.50).

Canfield, Mrs F. A. C. (Mrs James H. Canfield). The kidnapped campers. Harper $1.25

8–28985 An enforced camping trip changes the sickly, spoiled son of millionaire parents into a lad of pluck and resource. A land version of Captains courageous.

Ellis, K. R. The Wide Awake girls. (Wide-awake girls ser.) Little $1.50

8–32649 Story for older girls, of home and school life and travel in Germany and in the West. There is so much that is exceptionally fresh and wholesome that some false notes and the threat of a sequel may be forgiven.

c Finnemore, John. Wolf patrol: a tale of Baden-Powell's boy scouts. (Black 3/6) Macmillan $1.50

W9–178 The Wolf patrol is a band of boys organized in accordance with the rules laid down by Sir Baden-Powell in his Scouting for boys. Will interest, inspire a fine spirit and train boys to practical methods, merits which overtop such obvious features as English slang and a possibly too quick succession of adventures.

Sat. R. v. 106, sup. Dec. 12, '08, p. 8; Spec. 101:917.

Gould, E. L. Felicia. Penn Pub. Co. $1

8–19571 The little daughter of a country minister undertakes to keep house and "meet the people" in the necessary absence of her mother. Though she is perhaps a trifle too capable to be entirely convincing, her earnest, childlike efforts and natural sweetness ring true.

Hamp, S. F. The trail of the badger. Wilde $1.50

8–31469 Story of three boys' hunt for treasure and ingenious scheme for reclaiming an arid area in southern Colorado in the 70's. While the exciting events are improbably numerous, the story is wholesome and manly in tone, well told, free from slang, and suggested by author's own experiences. Adventure of a quieter sort is sup-
8–24299 plied in Grinnell's Jack, the young explorer (Stokes $1.25), a story of a summer's mountain climbing, hunting and observation of nature in northern Montana, similar in treatment to the earlier Jack books.

Hopkins, W. J. The sandman: his sea stories. (Sandman stories) Page $1.50

8–29740 Follows plan of earlier Sandman books, telling simple stories about sharks, flying fish, a tropical Christmas, privateers and other interesting matters encountered by the brig Industry, to the listening child.

a Hough, Emerson. The young Alaskans. Harper $1.25

9–560 The perils incurred by three boys among wild waters and uncivilized natives provide both entertainment and information of a wholesome kind.

b Lucas, E. V. Anne's terrible good nature, and other stories for children. Macmillan $1.75

W8-177 Eleven stories about children, told to children with a certain buttonholing familiarity and directness, which both captures their attention and diverts it from the story-teller's evident enjoyment of child nature. Illustrated with drawings and delightful end papers.

Acad. 75:343; Ath. 1908, 2:505; Spec. 101:913.

a Montgomery, L. M. Anne of Green Gables. Page $1.50

8-18572 Chronicle of the daily doings and dreams from her 10th to 17th year of a lively, imaginative child, adopted by an elderly brother and sister on a Prince Edward island farm. Has called forth enthusiastic praise from Mark Twain and from children under 12.

Roberts, C. G. D. The house in the water: a book of animal stories. Page $1.50

8-17808 Vivid wilderness dramas in which beavers, bears, lynxes, moose and other wood folk are the principal actors. Excellent drawings in harmony with text.

Ath. 1908, 2:642; Nation, 87:187.

Seawell, M. E. The imprisoned midshipmen. Appleton $1.25

8-21618 Story of a 13 year old boy's experiences as a midshipman under Commodore Bainbridge, of his captivity with the crew in Tripoli and the burning of the Philadelphia.

a Wheelwright, J. T. War children. Dodd $1.50

8-23547 Reflects very truthfully the feelings and daily life of children from 1861-65 in a story of two little New England boys whose father went to the front.

Hon. Andrew S. Draper
Commissioner of Education

DEAR SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith and to recommend for publication as Bibliography bulletin 46, a report prepared by Mr A. J. F. van Laer, touching the present condition of the manuscript Dutch records of the government of New Netherland, 1638–74, and dwelling especially upon the inadequate and wholly unsatisfactory nature of previous partial translations of these, the earliest official documents of what is now the State of New York.

Through age and frequent use the condition of these documents is each year less favorable for translation. None of the earlier partial translations have any value for exact historical work without competent comparison with the originals. The matter has enlisted the interest and concern of such men as Aaron Burr, De Witt Clinton and John V. L. Pruyn, and the meager and untrustworthy results of the several enterprises inaugurated by them are due to the fact that in the past no translator was found who was at once a competent Dutch scholar, a master of correct and easy English, thoroughly acquainted with the history of the period, and experienced in work with its manuscript memorials. These qualifications must be combined in one man before the work may be begun with assurance of creditable and final performance. After having vainly sought him for more than a century, and after spending $40,000 for poor work, such a man is now in the State's employ. It would seem that he should be invited to do this work. This report is sent to you with the hope that its publication may help to secure suitable interest in and appropriation for the purpose.

Very respectfully

COMMISSIONER'S ROOM

This report of Mr A. J. F. van Laer, the State Archivist, upon the condition and dangers of the Dutch records of the State, suggests very convincingly the desirability of perfect and complete translations and of the publication of all such records. Publication is approved in order to make the same available to the Legislature and the Governor, in the hope that such work may be authorized.

THE TRANSLATION AND PUBLICATION

OF THE

MANUSCRIPT DUTCH RECORDS OF NEW NETHERLAND

WITH AN ACCOUNT OF PREVIOUS ATTEMPTS AT TRANSLATION

To the Director of the State Library

At your request, I submit the following report on the nature and extent of the Dutch records preserved in the manuscript section of the State Library, the history, relative extent and value of the existing translations, the advisability of retranslating and publishing part or the whole of the said records, and the probable extent of such publication in octavo volumes.

The records in question embrace all that has been preserved of the archives of the government established by the Dutch West India Company over the province of New Netherland, which extended from Cape Cod to the Delaware river. They accumulated for a period of over 30 years in the office of the provincial secretary and were turned over to the British on the capture of New Netherland in 1664; they were restored to Governor Colve on the reoccupancy of the province by the Dutch in 1673 and, with the papers of Colve's administration, were again delivered to the British in 1674. The records remained in the office of the secretary of the colony of New York till the outbreak of the Revolution, when they were removed to the house of Nicholas Bayard, alderman of the out ward of the city of New York. In June 1776, by order of the Provincial Congress, the records were removed to Kingston and after the war they were deposited in the office of the Secretary of State, first located at New York and later at Albany. They remained in the custody of the Secretary of State till 1881 when, under authority of chapter 120 of the laws of 1881, they were transferred to the State Library.

The Dutch records were originally bound in 48 volumes, lettered A-Z and AA-PP, but about 1850 they were rearranged by Dr E. B. O'Callaghan and, with the exception of two volumes of land patents which retained their former lettering, rebound in 20 volumes as part of the series of New York colonial manuscripts, as follows:

Together these records contain 10,121 written folio pages, with an average of over 200 words per page, or a total of at least 2,024,200 words. They constitute the oldest public documents of the State and form the most important source of material for the history of organized society on this continent under Dutch régime.

Unfortunately, they do not embrace all the records of the government established by the Dutch West India Company. The most important gaps are as follows:

Council minutes, prior to 1638; Aug. 2, 1649–Jan. 1652; June 10–Sept. 2, 1652; May 30–Nov. 1653 with the exception of a few entries in August; June 19, 1657– Jan. 1, 1658; the whole of the year 1659.

Correspondence, prior to 1646.

Accounts, 1626–64.

Report of Director Stuyvesant's voyage to, and transactions in, the West Indies, submitted to the Council, July 14, 1655.

Letters and papers respecting the negotiations at Hartford with the English, preliminary to the boundary treaty of 1650.

Various letter books and a record of petitions, to which reference is made in the Council minutes.

The honor of having first appreciated the value of the existing records for an accurate history of the State from its first settlement seems to belong to the Rev. Samuel Miller D.D., for many years pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in New York city and from 1813 to 1849 professor of ecclesiastical history and church government at Princeton. Dr Miller began collecting material for a history of the State of New York in 1797 and on January 4, 1798 petitioned the Legislature for leave to inspect the records in the various public offices of the State without the payment of the fees prescribed by law.[1] His petition was referred to a committee and favorably reported on January 6, when the committee brought in a bill entitled An act to encourage the writing a history of this State.[1] The bill received the support of De Witt Clinton,[2] then a member of the Assembly, and became a law on January 19, 1798.[3] Dr Miller availed himself of the privilege granted by the act, but soon found that a large number of important documents were written in the Dutch language, which, from his ignorance of that language, he could not peruse. At the next session of the Legislature he presented therefore another petition,[4] dated January 22, 1800, praying that a "Gentleman of highly respectable character and worthy of the most entire confidence," who had offered to make translations from the records, be permitted to take the records in succession to his own dwelling in Albany for the purpose of making translations and extracts. The petition was read in the Assembly on February 1,[5] and February 6-7 the Assembly and Senate passed a joint resolution,[6] authorizing James Van Ingen, clerk of the Assembly, to take the Dutch records in succession from the Secretary's office to his own dwelling for the purpose of making the required translations. So far the question of translation was entirely a private matter. It soon developed, however, that the translation involved a degree of labor and of consequent expense which it was not convenient for Dr Miller to incur, and January 22, 1801 he drew up a third petition or memorial,[7] which read in part as follows:

Your memorialist is so deeply convinced of the importance of the Records in question, in order to a complete elucidation of the early part of our history, that he is persuaded it would be extreme injustice to the State, and to himself, to think of proceeding in his plan, without becoming acquainted with their contents.

Your memorialist, therefore, respectfully prays your Honorable Body, to take such measures as to your wisdom may seem proper, for the purpose of causing a translation to be made of the abovementioned Records, in the Dutch language, or of such parts of them as may be judged useful, at the expence of the State:—which translation, after being completed, to be considered the property of the State, and subject to its disposal alone. To the accomplishment of this object, your memorialist believes the appropriation of a small sum would be abundantly adequate; and he would, with all deference, submit to your Honorable Body, whether a moderate public expenditure might not with propriety be devoted to the placing an important body of Records in such a situation as would render them subservient to the interests of the State, in other respects, than that for which the measure is immediately requested.

The petition was read in the Assembly on January 30,[1] and February 19 Mr Aaron Burr, from the committee to whom it was referred, reported:

That in their opinion immediate measures ought to be taken to procure a translation of the records of this State, now in the Secretary's office, which are written in the Dutch language; and that in order to encourage the said Samuel Miller in the prosecution of his laudable undertaking, and to facilitate his researches, the translation to be made, ought, under suitable caution, and for a limited time to be entrusted to his care for perusal.

Resolved, That this House do agree with the committee in their said report.

Ordered, That the said committee, with the exception of Mr Burr, and the addition of Mr Thompson, do prepare and bring in a bill, agreeable to said report.[2]

March 23, 1801, Mr Thompson brought in the following resolution:

Resolved, (if the Hon. Senate concur herein) That the Secretary of this state be authorized to permit James Van Ingen to take certain volumes of the records of this state, written in the Dutch language, in succession, from the Secretary's office to his own dwelling-house, in the city of Albany, for the purpose of making such translations as in the opinion of the Comptroller, Surveyor-General, and the said James Van Ingen, shall be deemed useful in aiding the Rev. Samuel Miller in collecting materials for his history of New-York, and that legislative provision shall be hereafter made for paying the expences attending such translations; and that the same shall be entrusted to the care of the said Samuel Miller for the term of two years, in order to aid him in compleating the history aforesaid; which translations shall immediately hereafter be deposited in the Secretary's office for the use of this state.[3]

The Senate concurred in this resolution the same day,[4] thereby making the first legislative provision for the translation of portions of the Dutch records at public expense. As far as can be ascertained no translations were made under this resolution and February 14, 1805 the matter came again before the Legislature, in the form of sections 5, 6 and 7 of a bill entitled An act appointing the

Deputy-Secretary of this State, clerk of the Commissioners of the Land-Office, and for other purposes,[1] which passed on April 9, 1805.[2] The sections named, which have no direct connection with the rest of the act, read as follows:

V. And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the secretary of this state, and he is hereby directed as soon as may be after the passing of this act, to cause such of the records in his office which are written in the Dutch language, and which shall be designated by the person administering the government of this state, to be translated into English, and to be transscribed in proper books to be provided for that purpose, which translations when so transcribed, shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of this state as part of the public records thereof.

VI. And be it further enacted, That the translator to be employed by virtue of this act, shall before he proceeds to execute his trust, take and subscribe an oath before the chancellor or chief justice, well, truly and faithfully according to the best of his ability to make the said translations, which oath certified by the said chancellor or chief justice, shall be filed in the secretary's office.

VII. And be it further enacted, That the comptroller shall determine the amount of compensation, to which such translator may be reasonably entitled for his services, and thereupon to draw his warrant on the treasurer for the same.

In accordance with the above provisions, James Van Ingen was chosen as translator and in April and November 1805 he gave receipts for the following Dutch records[3] from the secretary's office:

These records remained in the hands of James Van Ingen for a number of years, but no translations were made. In 1813, the provisions of the law of 1805 were reenacted as sections 8, 9 and 10 of an act entitled An act concerning the Surveyor-General and the Secretary of State, passed April 6, 1813.[1] Even then James Van Ingen appears to have made no beginning with the work of translation and it may partly be due to his delay that the history of the State planned by Dr Miller and on which he labored in a desultory way for a number of years, was never finished.[2]

In 1817, De Witt Clinton became Governor and took steps to have the Dutch records translated, a matter in which from the first he had been greatly interested. Realizing the need of another translator, he addressed himself to Francis Adrian van der Kemp, a former Dutch minister, then 65 years of age and living in quiet retirement at Olden Barneveld, now Barneveld, in Oneida county. Van der Kemp was a man of considerable attainments, who had come to this country from Holland in 1788 as a political refugee, in consequence of the leading part which he had taken in the struggle of the Patriots against the adherents of the House of Orange, which struggle ended in 1787 in the defeat of the Patriots by an army of 20,000 men sent to the aid of the Prince of Orange by the King of Prussia. He was well received in this country and enjoyed the friendship of many prominent men of the day owing to his former association with Baron Johan Derk van der Capellen, the bold liberal who first advocated the recognition of the United States by the States General of Holland. When the proposition to translate the Dutch records was made, van der Kemp so doubted his own ability that he accepted the task only upon a second offer and provided that the initial volume of his work should be critically examined by the Albany authorities and await their approval. This followed and he deemed it a duty "to run the risk" though he "dared not answer for the issue."[3] He began the laborious task of translating in February 1818 and finished it at his home in Olden Barneveld, during the second term of the administration of Gov. De Witt Clinton, on September 14, 1822.[4] These translations, which are commonly referred to as Albany Records, are at present contained in 24 folio volumes, including a total of 10,206 written pages, with an average of 180 words to the page, or a total of 1,837,080 words. They comprise, with frequent omissions, translations of the entire series of Dutch records, with the exception of the two volumes of Dutch patents, which were retained by James Van Ingen; the other volumes of Dutch records which were taken out of the Secretary's office by Van Ingen in 1805 were turned over to van der Kemp between December 1818 and January 1, 1820, when Van Ingen deposited a few loose sheets of translations.[1]

The cost of the translations to the State was $7553.25 for compensation to van der Kemp, $140.37 for stationery and binding, and $1450.58 paid to John F. Bacon and Edward Livingston, clerks of the Senate and Assembly, for indexing the translations, amounting in all to $9144.20.[2]

As to the value of the translations, it may be stated that they have long since been regarded by competent students as absolutely worthless for critical historical work. Owing to the difficulties under which van der Kemp labored, consisting chiefly in an imperfect knowledge of the English language, impaired eyesight and the urgency to complete the task during Governor Clinton's administration, the translations are filled with mistakes that destroy their value as an historical source. They are not only grossly inaccurate as to the transcription of proper names — as shown by the specimens given below — but they are also utterly misleading as regards the contents of the original documents. Not infrequently entire clauses have been omitted and others inserted which are not found in the Dutch text, in such a way as to substitute a free and often erroneous interpretation for the actual wording of the documents. Moreover, the English is crude and ungrammatical and fails to do justice to the businesslike and forceful character of many of the originals. As stated in a recent letter by Mr John H. Innes, the author of New Amsterdam and its people, who is familiar with the translations, van der Kemp, " from a sort of fatality, so to speak, seems to have been led almost constantly to the use of unusual forms of expression and of antiquated and obsolete words, even where the forms in common use approach far more closely to the Dutch idiom itself. It is true that the words he uses are such that in most cases one can guess tolerably well at his meaning, but their unusual form gives them a constantly odd and quaint, and sometimes highly ludicrous sense." If in addition it is stated that van der Kemp invariably omits the parts that are hard to decipher, it will readily be seen that the translations are in every sense unsatisfactory and a constant source of error and annoyance to the historical investigator. Instances of inaccuracy could be cited by the thousand, but the following, chosen at random, will suffice.

Van der Kemp, 1:34–35; translated from N. Y. col. mss, 1:32–33:

This day appeared before me Andries Hudde, who acknowledge to owe Gerrit Wolphertsen the sum of fifty two gl. As shown above, the records translated by van der Kemp included all but the two volumes of land patents, GG and HH, which, on account of their legal importance as the basis of real estate titles in the State, it may not have seemed advisable to send to Olden Barneveld. These two volumes remained temporarily in the custody of James Van Ingen, who at last on October 18, 1822 deposited in the Secretary's office a translation of the second part of HH covering 154 folio pages, and on September 8, 1826 a translation of the first part of HH, then marked II, consisting of 63 folio pages. The amount of compensation which Van Ingen received for this work does not appear from the Comptroller's reports, but in 1826 an item of $8.50 was paid for a Book for the translation of Dutch records,[2] which probably refers to these translations.

The only volume which then remained untranslated was that of land patents, GG, and May 7, 1839 a special act was passed for its translation, as follows:

[2] Comptroller's report, Assembly Journal, 1827, 50th session, 1:228.

CHAP. 366.

An act concerning a book of Dutch records in the office of the secretary of state.

Passed May 7, 1839.

The People of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Secretary to employ a translator.

§ 1. The secretary of state shall, as soon as conveniently may be, cause the book of record of patents in the Dutch language marked GG, remaining in his office, to be translated into English by a competent translator, and to deliver the said book to such translator for that purpose; and when such translation shall be made, the same shall be transcribed in a book to be provided for that purpose, and shall with the original be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and shall be a part of the public records of this state.

Translator to take an oath

§ 2. The translator to be employed as aforesaid, before he proceeds to execute his trust, shall take and subscribe an oath before the secretary of state, well and faithfully, according to the best of his ability, to make the said translation, which oath shall be filed in the said secretary's office.

How to be paid

§ 3. The treasurer shall pay on the warrant of the comptroller to the said translator, such sum as shall be certified by the secretary of state to be a reasonable compensation for his services in making and transcribing the said translation, and also for so much stationary as shall be necessary for the purpose aforesaid.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

The translator chosen was Rev. C. D. Westbrook; he deposited a complete translation of volume GG in the Secretary's office on July 23, 1841 and was paid $787.90 for the work.[1]

The translations of both volumes of land patents by Van Ingen and Westbrook are kept in the office of the Secretary of State. They are creditable pieces of work, though by no means free from errors in the description of the land conveyed. These errors, however, are due less to lack of knowledge on the part of the translators than to a certain ambiguity in the language of the original instruments and they can be detected only by comparing the descriptions of adjoining pieces of property in the corresponding patents and deeds of later date. These errors have apparently not always been realized and grave mistakes in the location of early landmarks have been the consequence.

In 1839, acting upon suggestions made by De Witt Clinton in 1814, the New York Historical Society presented to the Legislature a memorial[1] urging the importance of an investigation of European archives, for the purpose of procuring those materials for the illustration of the history of the State which the State's own records could not furnish, and as a result of this memorial an act was passed on May 2, 1839, entitled An act to appoint an agent to procure and transcribe documents in Europe relative to the colonial history of this State.[2] Under this act John Romeyn Brodhead was commissioned as agent on January 20, 1841. He sailed for Europe the same year and after having successively visited the archives of Holland, England and France returned to this country in the summer of 1844, with 80 volumes of transcripts which were deposited in the office of the Secretary of State. Under the authority of an act entitled An act to provide for the publication of certain documents relating to the colonial history of the State, passed March 30, 1849,[3] Dr E. B. O'Callaghan, who in 1848 had been employed by Secretary of State Christopher Morgan to prepare for publication the first volume of the Documentary history of New York, was engaged to translate such of the transcripts as were in foreign languages and to edit the entire collection. The publication was begun in 1853 under the title Documents relative to the colonial history of the State of New York, and April 12, 1856, the Legislature passed an act for its completion under the direction of the Regents of the University.[4] The set was completed in 10 quarto volumes in 1858 and in 1861 a general index was issued as volume 11.

The undertaking was followed immediately by the publication in 1861, also under the editorship of Dr O'Callaghan, of two volumes of the Journal of the legislative council of New York, 1691–1743, while between 1861 and 1863, Dr O'Callaghan prepared a Calendar of New York colonial manuscripts, indorsed Land papers, 1643–1803, and a Calendar of historical manuscripts, 1630–1801, 500 copies of each of which were ordered to be printed by resolution of the Senate, dated April 23, 1863.[1] This second calendar was published in 1865–68. It consists of four volumes, of which the first contains a list of the documents and entries in the Dutch records, mentioned at the beginning of the present report, the second volume a list of English manuscripts from 1664 to 1776, and volumes 3 and 4 transcripts of papers relating to the American Revolution. In the preface to the first volume of this calendar, O'Callaghan took occasion to point out the great value of the Dutch records, the unreliability and incompleteness of van der Kemp's translations, and the need of an entirely new translation. Acting probably upon these suggestions, Mr William H. Gleason on January 10, 1865 gave notice in the Assembly that he would at an early day ask leave to introduce a bill relative to the original laws and historical manuscripts and records in the office of the Secretary of State.[2] The bill was introduced on January 11 and on January 19 and 27 and March 10 petitions in favor of its passing were received from the Buffalo Historical Society, the New York Historical Society and Union College,[3] which petitions unfortunately are no longer among the legislative files. The bill passed on April 22, 1865, and reads in part as follows:

CHAP. 539.

An act relative to the original laws and historical manuscripts and records in the office of the Secretary of State.

Passed April 22, 1865; three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Duty of secretary of State to employ translator of Dutch manuscript records in his office

Section 1. The secretary of state is hereby authorised to employ a competent person to translate into the English language the Dutch manuscript records in the office of the said secretary; and to transcribe such translations into books to be provided for that purpose, and carefully to index the same; which books, with the said original records shall be deposited in said office, and form part of the public records of this state, and the said person thus appointed shall discharge such other duties in regard to the care, preservation and arrangement of the historical records in the said secretary's office, as the said secretary shall, from time to time prescribe.

Oath of translator, &c.

§ 3. The translator and person so employed for the purpose aforesaid, before he proceeds to execute his trust, shall take and subscribe an oath before the secretary or deputy secretary of state, well and faithfully, according to the best of his ability, to discharge the duties imposed upon him by virtue of this act, which oath shall be filed in the said secretary's office.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

Under the authority of this act Dr O'Callaghan was employed in the office of the Secretary of State as translator, or archivist, as he is sometimes styled, at a salary of $1500 a year till October 1, 1872, when the office of translator was abolished by law.[1] Dr O'Callaghan set immediately to work preparing translations of a series of Laws and ordinances of New Netherland, 1638–1674, of which 500 copies were printed in 1868 at a cost of $5280.75[2] by resolution of the Senate of April 20, 1867.[3] He then undertook to make new translations of the Dutch records in regular order, beginning with the Register of the Provincial Secretary. Four manuscript volumes of translations were completed, which are entitled as follows: Records of New Netherland, translated by authority of chapter 539, of the laws of 1865, from the original Dutch manuscripts in the office of the Secretary of State, by E. B. O'Callaghan.

v. 1 Register of the Provincial Secretary, 1638–41. 326p.
v. 2 Register of the Provincial Secretary, 1642–47. 432p.
v. 3 Register of the Provincial Secretary, 1648–57. 409p.
} bound as one volume

v. 4 Council minutes, 1638–49. 211p.

To the first three volumes there exists a printed index published in 1870; to the fourth volume there is a manuscript index, which with the translations was transferred to the State Library under chapter 120, of the laws of 1881.

[1] Laws of 1872, ch.541. From the appropriation act of 1873, laws of 1873, p.1133 it appears that O'Callaghan was actually employed till October 22, 1872, and received a compensation of $126.56 for his services from the 1st of October to that date. The Comptroller's reports show that in addition to his annual salary O'Callaghan received at different times extra compensation for special work.

[3] Senate Journal, 1867, 90:1126.

The first two volumes of translations were completed in 1868 and 1869, the third volume apparently in 1870, and the fourth volume probably not till October 22, 1872. Their cost to the State may be put down approximately at four years' salary of Dr O'Callaghan, or $6000.

These translations, both of the laws and ordinances and of the four volumes of New York colonial manuscripts, are a vast improvement on the translations of van der Kemp. They represent some of the latest work of Dr O'Callaghan, made more than 20 years after he wrote his History of New Netherland, and are therefore the result of ripe experience. Nevertheless, they are not free from errors, both of omission and commission, and possess a serious defect in that they do not strictly adhere to the spelling of proper names. Furthermore, Dr O'Callaghan has invariably substituted English equivalents for Dutch given names and names of ships, a practice which in the translation of historical documents is no longer considered admissible. The language on the whole is good, but at times unnecessarily strained, and in case of publication a complete and careful revision with the originals would be necessary.[1]

In the early part of 1876 Mr Berthold Fernow was attached to the office of the Secretary of State as translator and custodian of archives, and preparations were made for the translation and publications of other portions of the Dutch records. Mr Fernow planned a publication along the lines of local history and selected from the Dutch and English records material for three quarto volumes, respectively illustrating the history of early settlements on the Delaware and Hudson rivers and on Long Island. The volumes were issued in 1877, 1881 and 1883 as volumes 12–14 of the series of Documents relative to the colonial history of New York, at a cost of $7909 for printing and binding of volume 12,[1] of $4593.59 for volume 14,[2] and probably not less than $4000 for volume 13, the exact amount not being given in the Comptroller's report, but included in a general item for legislative printing. Mr Fernow was paid at first on the basis of an annual salary of $1200, then of $1600 and later of $1000, but appears to have been employed at irregular intervals and to have received $800 for eight months' services in 1876; $1466.66 for services in 1877; $626.67 for services in 1878; nothing in 1879; $666.66 in 1880; $1083.34 in 1881; and $250 in 1882,[3] in which year, in consequence of the transfer of the records to the State Library, he accepted a position under the Regents of the University of the State of New York.

[1] To show how much such revision is needed, it is sufficient to examine the first page of the manuscripts translations of Dr O'Callaghan setting forth the terms of a lease by Director General Kieft to Jan Jansen Damen of two parcels of land on the island of Manhattan, which Dr O'Callaghan describes as follows: "the largest of which has thus far been cultivated by the Blacks, and situate on the East of the Road, on the North of said Jan Damen, South the esplanade of the Fort, and to the East of Philip de Truy, and the smallest, situate to the North of the Company's Garden, and on the South of said Jan Damen, extending from the Road to the River," with the following note: "On the 25 April 1644, Jan Damen obtained a Patent for the above mentioned two lots of land. Book of patents GG. p.91," whereas the correct translation, agreeing with the well known location of these parcels of land, should read: "the larger of which has thus far been used by the blacks and is situated on the east of the road [Broadway], [being bounded] on the north by the said Jan Damen, on the south by the esplanade of the fort, and on the east by Philip de Truy; and the smaller situated to the north of the company's garden and to the south of the said Jan Damen, extending from the road to the river;" while the patent recorder in Book of patents GG, p.91, does not relate to the above mentioned two parcels of land, but to two other pieces of land, lying north of the first.

In these volumes 12–14 the parts that are translated from the Dutch records contain respectively 455, 394 and 556 pages, with an average of 500 words to the page or a total of 702,500 words. They may therefore be said to represent about one third of the material contained in the Dutch records. The documents selected are naturally among the most important, but by no means include everything that is historically important or necessary for a complete understanding of the events set forth. Indeed, the selections may be said to have been made somewhat at random and interesting papers that are referred to in the printed text have been omitted, even though in the manuscript volumes they are found side by side with the documents selected for publication. As an instance of this may be mentioned a letter from the directors of the West India Company to Stuyvesant, dated May 26, 1655, found in New York colonial manuscripts, volume 12, page 22, and printed on pages 321–24 of volume 14 of Documents relative to the colonial history of New York in which it is stated that the burgomasters and almshouse authorities at Amsterdam are "again sending by this ship a party of boys and girls as per enclosed list." This list is found in New York colonial manuscripts, volume 12, page 25 and contains the names of 17 children sent over, but it is not printed by Mr Fernow in connection with the letter. Another drawback of the publication is the topographical arrangement, which has led to the breaking up of a majority of the documents into several parts, which are distributed over the three volumes. The result is a series of fragments which, when pieced together, in some cases represent the entire document and in other cases do not, and which leave the person who does not have the original before him constantly in doubt as to whether he gets all there is in the document or not. The translations read smoothly and as a rule are fairly accurate, though Mr Fernow occasionally makes bad mistakes. Mr Fernow was a native of Prussian Poland; to him therefore both the Dutch and the English were acquired languages and, notwithstanding his great linguistic abilities, his knowledge is apt to fail him when it comes to anything particularly involved or technical. As an instance of remarkable inaccuracy in this last respect may be cited a ship's invoice of 1663, printed on pages 428–29 of volume 12 of Documents relative to the colonial history of New York, in which Mr Fernow gives the following items:

	DUTCH	TRANSLATION SHOULD READ
1 cask with soap	1 vat met zeegens	1 cask with drag nets
1 package of wheels	1 pack met fuycken	1 pack of hoop nets
22 powderbags	22 Cruywagens (misread Cruytwagens)	22 wheelbarrows
1 small cask of Spanish wine	1 kasge spaense Seep	1 small case of Spanish (Castile) soap
3 packages of soap	3 packjes zeeven	3 packages of sieves
1 half radishes	1 half radijzer (misread radijzen)	1 half tire iron

Other instances of error, which have been noticed incidentally but which could be greatly multiplied in number by careful comparison of the translations with the originals, are as follows:

On page 273 of the above mentioned volume 12, in a letter from Jacob Alrichs, director of the colony of New Amstel on the Delaware, Mr Fernow translates: "Yes, we know it for sure to be the opinion of our Lords Patroons, that the military should not meddle, when a certain number of citizens should be in this Colony able to protect themselves," instead of "that the military should be gradually removed when there is a sufficient number of citizens in this Colony to protect themselves."

On page 309, "I ordered to have the transmitted commands dispatched," instead of "I had the transmitted mandamus served."

On page 381, Cornelis Marssen Factor for Cornelis Marssen, factor.

Pieter Jansen Teschett for Pyeter aerssen tesselt.

On page 153 of volume 14 of Documents relative to the colonial history of New York, "common welfare in important land matters," instead of "common welfare in important affairs of state"; and "may well in time ruin this blessed and fruitful country or bring it to a sorry condition and turn the laws into public nuisances," instead of "may well in time ruin this blessed and fruitful country, or at least reduce it to a sorry condition and an object of great scandal to the heathen."

And on page 168 of the same volume, in relation to Cornelis Melyn's patroonship on Staten Island, "It seems now, that Baron Hendrick and Alexander van der Capelle have negotiated with this fellow and bought from him one half of the island without previously informing us," instead of "It seems now, that Messrs Hendrick and Alexander van der Capelle have negotiated with this patroon and bought from him a part of the island without previously informing us."[1]

[1] In order that the citation of the above errors may not give the impression that the State was especially unfortunate in the selection of its translators, it may be well to point out that equally bad mistakes are found in private publications which are generally looked upon as scholarly. In New York Historical Society, Collections, 1857, volume 8, page 17, the late Hon. Henry C. Murphy, to whom historical students are indebted for several excellent monographs and the publication of a number of rare and valuable sources of history, translates from the voyages of De Vries as follows: "we grounded upon the large shoal before Dunkirk. We fired a shot, so that our companion came to anchor. My yacht came under my lee; but we could not bear the expense of its returning . . . All of us pushing and pulling we got into four fathoms of water." This should read: "we grounded upon the Breebanck before Dunkirk. We fired a shot, so that our companion came to anchor. My yacht came under my lee, but could not stand it there on account of the surf. . . Bumping and tossing along, we got into four fathoms of water." Again, in the Vertoogh van Nieu Nederland, New York, 1854, page 78, Mr Murphy translates, speaking of the prosecuting officer, Hendrick van Dyck, "What shall we say of a man whose head is troubled, and has a screw loose, and who is powerful at home; especially as it often happens that it is hushed up, if there be any sap in the wood to close it up," which Dr O'Callaghan, in Documents relative to the colonial history of New York, volume 1, page 308, has amended as follows: "What shall we say of one whose head is a trouble to him and whose screw is loose, especially when it is surrounded by a little sap in the wood, which is no rare occurrence, as he is master at home." The correct translation, however, reads: "What shall we say of a man whose head troubles him and who is much given to rashness, especially, as not rarely happens, when he has been drinking."

Summing up the character and extent of the translations, we find that there is a translation of the greater part of the Dutch records by van der Kemp, which is so poor that it need not be considered at all; that there are manuscript translations of two volumes of land patents which fail in their most essential particular, namely correctness in the description of the land conveyed; that there is a fairly satisfactory printed translation of about 300 laws and ordinances selected from various volumes of the records; that there are manuscript translations of volumes 1–4 of the records which with comparatively little labor could be prepared for publication; and that there are printed translations in volumes 12–14 of Documents relative to the colonial history of New York which in an unsatisfactory way make available about one third of the entire material in the records.

The question arises, what is to be done with the collection as a whole, or at least with the parts that at present remain untranslated.

There is no question about the value of the records and the obligation to do everything possible that will help to preserve if not the originals, at least the contents of the documents. As Dr O'Callaghan expresses it in the preface to his calendar, "the Records of a government which thus introduced civilization, and founded Courts, Churches, Schools and similar institutions in our State, are, few will be bold enough to deny, deserving of every care and worthy of particular preservation. They are the ground work, the foundation stones of the History of the State of New York, and, if destroyed, the record evidence of its antiquity will be irreparably lost." Many records are at present in such a fragile condition that even the most careful handling may injure them and render it impossible to make a perfect copy, while through fire or otherwise they are liable to be destroyed at any time. The constant flow of inquiries relating to the Dutch records and the requests for copies and translations, which take up a good share of the archivist's time, show that there is considerable interest in the papers. Therefore, for reasons of public interest and economy, as well as safety, there is good ground for undertaking the publication of the records at the earliest moment. The only question is, how shall it be done?

Three ways suggest themselves: (1) to publish translations of the documents which heretofore have not been printed by the State, with references in their proper chronologic place to the existing printed translation of the other documents; (2) to publish new translations of the entire body of records, without reference to the existing translations; (3) to publish all the material in Dutch, with translations on opposite pages.

The first plan is the least expensive. The publication would take about five octavo volumes of 800 pages each, which, with the present facilities in the archivist's office, might be issued in about 10 years. Owing however to the unreliability and the scattered condition of the existing translations, such a publication would leave much to be desired. It would fail to give the records the necessary continuity and oblige students to resort to several earlier State publications, which are unsatisfactory and in some cases hard to procure. In short, it would be little more than a makeshift, which would be considered unworthy of the value of the earliest public records of the State and very soon require their republication in more connected form.

The second plan allows for more systematic treatment of the records and for the correction of the errors which are found in the existing translations. It is a great improvement on the first plan, but after all, with considerable outlay, fails to give the original text and substitutes an interpretation, which is not all that scholars have a right to expect.

The third plan has all the advantages of the second and in addition, by giving the Dutch text, makes it more worth while to reprint in the way of translation so much material that in less satisfactory form is already available.

The State under the direction of the present State Historian has undertaken or is about to undertake the publication of two important series of public records, covering the proceedings of the English Colonial Council from 1668 and of the State Legislature from 1777, which will be issued in accordance with the best practice in historical editing. It is important that the publication of the corresponding records for the Dutch period, if undertaken by the State Library, shall not suffer by comparison, but set equally high standards as regards accuracy and scientific arrangement.

Modern scholarship regards the translation of historical documents as merely editorial work and demands that the original text be given as well as the translation, in order that competent persons may critically study the records for themselves. There are in and outside of the State many persons who can read and understand a printed Dutch text, but who are not sufficiently expert in the grammatical forms of the language and in the handwriting and contractions of the period to make much out of the original manuscript. In the interest of such persons the Dutch text should be given as well as the translation. Moreover, the publication of the Van Rensselaer Bowier manuscripts has in Holland attracted attention to the fact that the early Dutch settlements in this country are worthy of careful study. For the sake of the benefit which the elucidation of the early history of the State may derive from the study of the records by Dutch historians — who look at events from a different point of view and who have the advantage of a detailed knowledge of the contemporary history of their own country — it seems important to give such scholars the necessary material in its original form and in their own language, instead of through the medium of a foreign tongue. Finally, and this is perhaps the most important reason for printing the Dutch text as well as the translation, the printing of the documents in their original form is, properly speaking, the only means of preserving for all time the authentic information contained in them.

There is no denying that the editing of the entire body of Dutch records in the original language and in translation is a big undertaking, which needs to be carefully planned if the work is to proceed with proper speed. The publication would make about 15 volumes of 800 pages each. With the help of an expert copyist, enough material could probably be prepared for one volume a year, so that the undertaking would be completed in 15 years.

In consideration of the advantages set forth above, I earnestly recommend that the plan of printing the entire Dutch text as well as the translation be adopted.

Respectfully yours

A. J. F. VAN LAER

DEAR SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith and to recommend for publication a second, revised and corrected edition of the list of Medical serials, first printed in 1905. The original edition has been widely used by physicians and libraries in this State and indeed in others, to learn the resources of our medical collection before sending or coming to Albany, and its revision is urged by the Advisory Council of the Medical department of the State Library.

A subject index of the periodicals listed has been added.

PREFATORY NOTE

This list includes all serials both current and noncurrent in the Medical department of the New York State Library and is divided into three sections: (1) periodicals; (2) transactions and reports of medical societies; (3) public health reports and vital statistics. The arrangement is alphabetic under each. Entries are under present or last form of title with present place of publication, giving volume numbers with years covered by volumes now in the library. When there are so many odd numbers and volumes that it is impracticable to specify each one, a note saying "imperfect" has been added. Numbers at the extreme right of the page, with letters following each entry are call numbers of the serial. This list is followed by a classified subject list of the current periodicals and society transactions, giving brief title and place of publication.

Public health reports and vital statistics including yearly, monthly and weekly reports are alphabeted under name of country, state or town. This list includes only reports currently received.

The bibliography on medical jurisprudence has been compiled in response to frequent requests on the part of both physicians and lawyers for references on this subject.

We earnestly request the help of physicians in completing our periodical list by sending odd numbers and volumes even though they would seem to be of little value, as they may be of great service to us in filling gaps in incomplete sets.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MEDICAL JURISPRUDENCE AND RELATED TOPICS

William Burt Cook, Jr

PREFATORY NOTE

This bibliography aims to include the titles of books and periodical articles relating to medical jurisprudence and kindred subjects that are in the New York State Library. All individual books have been noted, many analyzed and sufficient bibliographic detail furnished to serve as a guide to the user. Medical periodicals have not been analyzed or noted: the list of medical serials printed herewith may serve as a guide to the collections of the library, and The Index Medicus with the very full and closely classified catalogue of the Surgeon General's office library furnish adequate guides to the individual articles.

The class and book numbers of all books and periodicals belonging to the New York State Library have been noted; where numbers have not been assigned, it will be understood that the book or periodical is one belonging to the Law library. Where the library owns more than one copy the fact has been noted.

Bibliographies of each topic have been appended where available.

Where the title of a book is followed by the date alone, with no further bibliographic detail, it indicates that the review there noted was deemed of sufficient importance to warrant its entry, although the library did not possess the book reviewed.

The following is an alphabetic list of the topics under which the titles are classified.

PREFATORY NOTE

To the Librarian

This list of 1289 books selected from 10,901 published in 1909 is submitted to librarians to obtain opinions respecting the best 50 books of 1909 for a VILLAGE LIBRARY. If you will take part in this selection please indicate your choice by marking this list and adding any that you prefer from the annual summary in the Publishers' Weekly of January 29, 1910, to make 50 titles in all. Write your name, library and address in the margin and send the list so marked to New York State Library, Albany, N. Y., by May 14, 1910. A summary of results will be published in New York Libraries and a copy of the later annotated list of 250 titles definitely recommended to smaller libraries by the State Library, will be sent to all who aid by returning the present list checked.

Recommendations should not be made merely on an author's general reputation. No one should vote for a book of which he has not personal knowledge. We would rather have votes for a dozen books you really know, than for 50 which you know only by reputation or hearsay.

The immediate purpose of this list is to offer an annual summary of books best adapted for public library purchase. It should have an even greater permanent value as a supplement to the catalogues and lists issued by the American Library Association, as a trustworthy guide for buying in all subjects and, in reference and bibliographic work, for compiling lists for reading and study. Time and pains are not spared in its preparation. Its compilers have small sympathy with that incontinent book selection which can not await the test of time, even a little time. This list should have special value because it is not made until all the year's output of books is before us with the advantage of perspective thus secured. No important books should be overlooked, and you are earnestly requested to add any omitted titles which you think should be included. The aim is to include all books to which the smaller libraries should have attention called and to admit nothing which has not a value in meeting some probable need. This eliminates many very valuable, scholarly books which would interest only the special student, who will naturally depend on the college or larger public library; but it is thought well to include many books which the smaller library would not buy as a matter of course, yet might find of high value in meeting particular demands. This, therefore, must not be mistaken for a list of titles recommended for purchase by small libraries: it is only a list from which to make selections.

The list of new editions, changed titles, etc. for several years appended to the Tentative selection is discontinued with this annual issue. The A. L. A. Booklist, which was doing similar work having undertaken to strengthen that section, it seemed better that the New York State Library turn over to it material of this kind, with the hope that the combination in a single periodical will prove more convenient for libraries than the continued publication of two similar yet never identical lists.

It has been from the first the policy to include only the more popular type of book dealing with technical subjects, not from any failure to appreciate the importance of advanced technical works, but because few small libraries could undertake to supply them, and also in recognition of the fact that such recommendations should come from specialists in various lines or from librarians giving constant and careful attention to technical literature. The list entitled Technical Books of 1908: a Selection, first issued last year by Pratt Institute Free Library, Brooklyn, and sent free on application, met the need admirably, and it is with much satisfaction that attention is called to the second issue of this annual publication as a supplement to the New York State Library Best Books.

A SELECTION FROM THE

PREFATORY NOTE

To the Librarian:

This is an annotated list of 250 books published in 1909, selected by the book board of the New York State Library and recommended to the public libraries of the State. To aid in choosing small collections of new books three classes are indicated: books marked a, of which there are 20, are suggested to libraries which must confine their additions within narrow limits; 30 others marked b are also proposed to libraries that can buy 50 books; and 50 marked c may be added to a and b to make up 100 books. The remaining 150, including some reference books and a few more costly publications, are worthy careful consideration by libraries that can buy more than 100 books and by those wishing to enlarge resources in special subjects. Many of the unmarked works are of the highest merit.

It is of course impossible for any board to determine which 100 or 200 books are absolutely the best; still less could it make a selection which would fit the needs of every small library in the State. Books marked c may be a in value in certain cases. The best general advice may, and sometimes should, be rejected in view of actual needs, and the librarian should of course be better able to determine such needs than a distant board of advisers. It is thought best to inform the smaller libraries about some books which would be of high practical value to them, though probably too expensive to be bought from the ordinary fund. Special circumstances may sometimes justify buying such a work at the sacrifice of several cheaper ones. Occasionally, too, some generous friend or local club expresses a wish to make a town library a substantial gift. If the librarian can make prompt and definite suggestions it is an advantage to the community and the satisfaction of the benefactor is materially increased.

We can not too strongly emphasize the advice which we have for several years quoted in full from the Journal of New Jersey Libraries, October 1903: Do not buy subscription books; avoid books issued in parts; ask advice before purchasing expensive reprints.

> Finest Orations, Noblest Essays, Royal Flim Flams, Huge Anthologies, and the like all come to the secondhand man. Get them of him, if you must. In a small library they are generally almost useless. In subscription books, cases like this are not uncommon. Maspero wrote several large and learned volumes, in French, on Egypt and Chaldea. They were translated and published in three or four volumes in England, costing libraries in this country about $5 each. An American publisher reprints them in 12 small volumes with a few additional colored cuts, on heavier paper and in larger type and offers them through agents for $84 — and libraries buy them!
> Do not buy "sets" or complete editions of authors. Buy the volumes you need and as you need them. A complete set always includes several volumes you do not need. Specify the edition you wish of standard books when you can, unless you find a bookseller able and willing to select them wisely for you.

While this list has been prepared with special reference to smaller public libraries it will also be of much service to schools. Not all the books listed, however, are recommended for school use. There are some books in fiction which have not enough positive value either as literature or as a spur to historical study to justify their purchase for a school, yet which serve a legitimate purpose in the public library by providing wholesome entertainment for a very different class of readers. All titles under the heading "Juvenile" are recommended for those school libraries which undertake to provide wholesome entertainment as well as useful information.

In accordance with the statement in the preface of the Tentative selection, only the more popular type of book dealing with technical subjects has been recommended here. Libraries in need of more advanced technical literature will find the annual list prepared by the applied science department of Pratt Institute Free Library, Brooklyn, entitled Technical Books of 1909, sent free on application, a most valuable aid.

This list, like its predecessors since 1897, has been prepared under the general direction of Martha T. Wheeler of the State Library staff.

CLASSIFIED LIST

The source of a critical note is indicated, if taken from a review, whether quoted exactly or slightly condensed. Additional references are given to the best reviews.

Decimal classification numbers, as used in the State Library, and Library of Congress printed catalogue card serial numbers are added, in the left margin, for convenience of libraries using them.

Abbreviations: n is used for net and the sign / for shillings; e. g. 12/6 means 12s 6d.

REFERENCE BOOKS

028.5 b Arnold, G. W. comp. A mother's list of books for children. McClurg $1

9-35844 Carefully selected, annotated list of 515 titles grouped according to age, from 2 to 14 years, and subdivided by classes. Originally prepared for home use. Gives publisher and price.

Dial, 48:281; Lit. Digest, 39:1015; Nation, 89:538; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:690, Nov. 6, '09.

028.5 Children's Catalog; a guide to the best reading for young people. 2 pt in 1 v. pt 1, Author, title and subject catalog of 3000 books; pt 2, Author and subject index to St Nicholas, volumes 28 to 36 and analytical subject references to over 500 books cataloged in pt 1; comp. by M. E. Potter and others. H. W. Wilson $6

10-4603 Including 3000 titles, it is impossible that this should be a best guide to the small buyer, but it is useful as a check list and part 2, sold separately at $4n is specially valuable to those who have St Nicholas sets.

Nation, 90:144.

220.3 Hastings, James, ed. Dictionary of the Bible. Scribner $5 n

9-3371 Not an abridgment of author's larger work in 5 v. Intended primarily for laymen, it embodies results of modern research in signed articles by 105 contributors. Small, clear type, four maps. Jacobus's Standard Bible dictionary (Funk $6; indexed 50c 9-2531 extra) meets creditably an identical purpose with somewhat less full and scholarly treatment, and has illustrations and larger type.

Amer. Jour. of Theol. 13:273; Biblical World, 48:283; Dial, 48:149; Nation, 89:102; Outlook, 93:600.

336.24 b Phelps, E. M. comp. Selected articles on the income tax, with special reference to graduation and exemption. (Debaters' handbook ser.) H. W. Wilson $1

10-5274 Sixteen-page selected bibliography of books, pamphlets and magazine articles, sufficiently annotated to show whether negative or W9-336 affirmative, followed by reprints from the most valuable articles cited. Other books in the series practically identical in plan are 10-35330 Fanning's on Capital punishment (343.2) and on Election of U. S. senators, (324.73); Phelps's on Initiative and referendum, 10-7318 (321.4); and Robbins's on Commission plan of municipal government (352).

371.89 Schauffler, R. H. ed. Arbor day; its history, observance, spirit and significance. (Our Amer. holidays) Moffat $1n

9-29849 Useful addition to anthologies already published in this series on Thanksgiving, Christmas and Lincoln's birthday. Contains well chosen prose and poetic selections, adapted to school use, grouped under appropriate headings.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:5, Jan. 1, '10.

630.3 Bailey, L. H. ed. Cyclopedia of American agriculture. 4v. v. 4, Farm and community.
Macmillan $5 n ea.

7-8529 This valuable and comprehensive work is now completed: v. 1, Farms; v. 2, Crops; v. 3, Animals; v. 4, Farm and community, which brings together for the first time, a large mass of historical, economic and sociological material by specialists. Profusely illustrated with halftones and cuts in text. For note on earlier volumes and plan see Best Books, 1907.
v. 4, Nation, 89:18; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:268, Ap. 24, '09; Science, 53:444.

808.8 Woolley, E. C. The mechanics of writing.
Heath $1

9-28296 Compendium of rules regarding manuscript — arrangement, spelling, the compounding of words, abbreviations, the representation of numbers, syllabication, the use of capitals, the use of italics, punctuation and paragraphing. Subtitle
Unusually clear, compact and convenient for reference. Well indexed. Supplements the author's Handbook of composition.

ETHICS

172.1 b Bryce, James. The hindrances to good citizenship. (Yale lectures on the Responsibilities of citizenship) Yale Univ. $1.15 n

9-30390 These are indolence, private self-interest and blind party spirit. The author analyzes them earnestly but dispassionately and is not hopeless of remedy. Suggestive rather than dogmatic.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:17, Jan. 8, '10; Rev. of Rev. 41:127; Survey, 23:745.

174.4 Yale University. Sheffield Scientific School. Morals in modern business. (Page lecture, 1908)
Yale Univ. $1.25 n

9-12090 Six lectures by business men of large experience, attempting to formulate a modern code of legal morality adapted to business methods, which differ so radically from those of a generation ago as to require a readjustment of ideas and standards.
A. L. A. Booklist
Nation, 88:333; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:369, June 12, '09.

220 a Clarke, W. N. Sixty years with the Bible: a record of experience. Scribner $1.25 n

9-26003 Frankly personal narrative of author's attitude toward the Bible as student, pastor and teacher, describing his gradually changing conceptions through the influence of modern scholarship, and his unfailing reverence and faith.

Amer. Jour. of Theol. 14:302; Examiner, 87:1320, Nov. 4, '09; Nation, 89:578.

230 Bowne, B. P. Studies in Christianity. Houghton $1.50 n

9-7107 Keen, incisive and reverent essays which endeavor to clarify in the light of the new theology, popular conceptions of the fundamental doctrines of Christianity. Author late professor of philosophy, Boston University.

Acad. 77:585; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:322, May 22, '09.

231.7 b Gordon, G. A. Religion and miracle. Houghton $1.30 n

9-27433 Five lectures setting forth the conviction that neither historical Christianity nor the value of the message of Jesus is dependent on belief in miracles.

Amer. Jour. of Theol. 14:271; Nation, 90:143.

232 Knox, G. W. The Gospel of Jesus the Son of God; an interpretation for the modern man. (Modern religious problems) Houghton 50c

9-28489 Clear and reverent restatement of the universal and fundamental elements in the gospel of Jesus for those "earnest men and women who are not satisfied with traditional forms of worship, traditional theology, nor traditional Christian experience."

A. L. A. Booklist

7-36975 This series of little monographs in which E. F. Scott's The fourth gospel (226.5), B. W. Bacon's The founding of the church
9-28488 (270.1) and W. D. Hyde's Sin and its forgiveness (233.2) have also appeared this year (1909), aims to present the "assured 9-29362 results of modern scholarship on matters most immediately connected with religious faith."

The tone and spirit are distinctly evangelical in the best sense of the word, and a widespread reading can do naught but good.

Biblical World, 35:72

260 c Eucken, Rudolf. Christianity and the new idealism; tr. by L. J. & W. R. B. Gibson. (Lib. of living thought) Harper 75c n

W9-322 Serious, abstract but inspiring study of present religious needs and tendencies, showing the necessity for the continuance of Christianity, but regenerated to answer the demands of modern life.

Independent, 68:417.

261 c Thompson, C. B. The churches and the wage earners: a study of the cause and cure of their separation. Scribner $1 n

9-6498 An earnest study of the extent, causes and results of the alienation of the working man from organized religion; the inability of socialism to cope with the matter and the true remedy for it in the socialization of the churches. Bibliography.

Amer. Jour. of Theol. 13:654; Annals of Amer. Acad. 34:431; Cath. World, 89:398; Jour. of Polit. Econ. 17:545; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:144, Mar. 13, '09; Rev. of Rev. 39:640; Survey, 22:478, 855, 23:61.

268 Dawson, G. E. The child and his religion.
Univ. of Chic. 75c n

9-28188 Four papers and addresses with the common aim of showing that it is wise to follow the natural instincts and interests of the child in religious as well as in secular education. Chapter on child's interest in the Bible most suggestive. Valuable to parents and Sunday school teachers.

Lit. Digest, 39:776.

289.9 Paget, Stephen. The faith and works of Christian Science. Macmillan $1.25 n

9-10964 Genial but unsparing exposure of fallacies, inconsistencies and dangers, by a distinguished London surgeon. Assembles illustrative cases from both Christian Science and physicians' records.

9-29857 The origin and development of Christian Science are set forth in Georgine Milmine's Life of Mary Baker G. Eddy (Doubleday $2 n 922.89), an unsympathetic but dispassionate narrative consisting rather of a marshaling of facts, supported by quotations from writings, than of their interpretation. Reprinted from McClure's Magazine with some revisions and additions. For a 8-24841 favorable biography of Mrs Eddy see Mrs S. W. O'Brien's Life of Mary Baker Eddy (Concord $3 922.89).

301 Henderson, C. R. Social duties from the Christian point of view. (Constructive Bible studies)
Univ. of Chic. $1.25

9-8935 Discusses concisely and from a broadly human aspect, problems of the family, neglected children, workingmen, public health, corporations, charities, business etc. Admirable in spirit and should stimulate to practical service. Topics for discussion and brief bibliography conclude each chapter. Primarily intended for use in adult Sunday school and Y. M. C. A. classes.

Amer. Jour. of Sociol. 15:119; Biblical World, 48:359.

301 Peabody, F. G. The approach to the social question; an introduction to the study of social ethics.
Macmillan $1.25 n

9-29834 After a broad and sympathetic testing of philosophy, social science, economics and ethics as solutions to the problem of social betterment, author concludes that practical religion alone leads the way to the ideal social adjustment.

The significance of the book lies in its definite leading from social service to social religion. Survey 23:748

Annals of Amer. Acad. 35:458; Cath. World, 90:816; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:40, Jan. 22, '10.

304 c Laughlin, J. L. Latter-day problems. Scribner $1.50 n

9-28275 Six of the 10 essays apply economic principles to present day theories or agencies for improving the condition of the laboring classes; three discuss banking questions and one the valuation of railways. Clear and untechnical.

Dial, 48:203; Outlook, 93:875.

324.3 c Sumner, H. L. Equal suffrage. Harper $2 n

9-29195 Conscientious study of the political, social and economic influence of equal suffrage in Colorado, and of the state of public opinion, based on an investigation made for the Collegiate Equal Suffrage League of New York State. Author's conclusions favor woman's suffrage.

Independent, 67:1147; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:133, Mar. 12,'10.

325.251 Coolidge, M. E. B. R. Chinese immigration. (Amer. public problems) Holt $1.75 n

9-23245 A systematic, comprehensive study, founded on thorough research, of Chinese immigration to California down to 1906 and of the federal and state exclusion laws and their results.

Annals of Amer. Acad. 34:617; Nation, 89:574; Rev. of Rev. 40:511.

325.73 Steiner, E. A. The immigrant tide; its ebb and flow. Revell $1.50 n

9-26638 Discusses popularly and optimistically the reflex influences exerted upon the social, economic and national life of America and Europe by Italian, Jewish and Slavic immigrants; illustrated by entertaining anecdotes obtained from personal observation. 18 halftones.

Rev. of Rev. 40:759.

331.2 Lewis, F. W. State insurance: a social and industrial need. Houghton $1.25 n

9-9834 An argument for compulsory state insurance of workingmen in the United States against accident and old age, with analysis of provisions made in Europe. Clear and popular in treatment.

9-3310 Henderson's Industrial insurance in the United States (Univ. of Chicago, $2 n 368) is more extensive and better adapted to students. First published in German in 1907 and now brought to date by author. Treats of extent and kinds of life and accident insurance in United States and gives summary of European laws. No index.

Lewis, Annals of Amer. Acad. 34:606; Economic Bul. 2:161; Jour. of Polit. Econ. 17:650; Nation, 89:188. Henderson, Annals of Amer. Acad. 34:207; Economic Bul. 2:55; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:83, Feb. 13. '09.

331.4 Abbott, Edith. Women in industry; a study in American economic history. Appleton $2 n

9-30886 Thorough, readable study of women as a factor in American economic history, based on an examination of the five industries employing them in greatest numbers (cotton, boot and shoe, cigar, clothing and printing). Appendixes on Child labor in America before 1870, Women's wages in the cotton mills, etc. and bibliography.

9-31893 Largely published in the Journal of Political Economy. Women and the trades, Pittsburg, 1907–8, by E. B. Butler (Russell Sage Foundation Pub.; the Pittsburg Survey, Charities Pub.

Committee $1.50 n) represents the results of an investigation of the conditions under which 22,000 women work in 400 establishments.

Accurate description, thorough and careful observation, and keenly sympathetic yet judicial estimates of the economic and human factors of the problem. Survey, 23:511

Abbott, Dial, 48:360; Survey, 23.513. Butler, Dial, 48:359.

331.8 a Addams, Jane. The spirit of youth and the city streets. Macmillan $1.25 n

9-29194 Interprets sympathetically the instinct of youth for play and adventure and points out the responsibility resting upon cities to provide proper places of amusement.

Annals of Amer. Acad. 35:247; Amer. Jour. of Sociol. 15:550; Current Lit. 48:297; Dial, 48:23; Nation, 90:17.

331.8 Lincoln, J. T. The city of the dinner-pail. Houghton $1.25 n

9-26312 Essays on the labor situation by a Fall River manufacturer, who discusses the factory system, the influence of machinery and the meaning of unionism, and pleads for a better understanding between employer and employed. Appeared in Atlantic and Outlook.

Dial, 47:337; Engin. News, 62: sup. Oct. 14, '09, p. 49.

331.8 b Tolman, W. H. Social engineering: a record of things done by American industrialists employing upwards of one and one-half millions of people. McGraw $2 n

9-6279 A summary of what is being done in the way of organized welfare work by business firms and the extent to which it does and does not tend to improve relations between employer and employee.

Elec. World, 53:581; Engin. Digest, 5:541; Engin. News, 61: sup. Ap. 15, '09. p. 51; Engin. Record, 59:278; Lit. Digest, 38:857.

338 American Academy of Political and Social Science. Conservation of natural resources. (Annals of Amer. Acad. of Polit. and Soc. Sci.) Amer. Acad. of Polit. and Soc. Sci., pap. $1

9-14081 Papers by specialists on the present extent and future importance of the forests, water power, land resources and minerals of the United States, and on their legitimate use by present owners and the changes desirable in protective laws.

351.1 Foltz, E. B. K. The federal civil service as a career. Putnam $1.50 n

9-7065 Useful manual, by a government employee. Chapters on government organization, the merit system, preparation, examinations, salaries, women in government service, the college graduate in public life, etc.

Annals of Amer. Acad. 34:181; Economic Bul. 2:276; Engin. Digest, 5:542; Independent, 67:91; Jour. of Polit. Econ. 17:653; Nation, 89:99; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:274, May 1, '09.

362.7 c Reeder, R. R. How two hundred children live and learn. Charities Pub. Com. $1.25

tage system. Valuable to the responsible citizen, and especially to teachers and social or religious workers. Illustrations from photographs supplement text.

Cath. World, 90:686; Lit. Digest, 40:242; Rev. of Rev. 41:256; Survey, 23:733.

364 b George, W. R. The Junior Republic: its history and ideals. Appleton $1.50 n

9-31449 An interesting, unassuming account of the evolution and methods of the Junior Republic, by its founder. Records mistakes as well as successes and gives many anecdotes of individual boys.

Dial, 48:126; Independent, 68:320; Nation, 90:377; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:15, Jan. 8, '10; Outlook, 94:41; Survey, 23:734.

380 Johnson, E. R. Elements of transportation; a discussion of steam railroad, electric railway, and ocean and inland water transportation. Appleton $1.50 n

9-26313 Aims to describe each transportation agent, study its services and relation to the public and the extent to which government regulation is desirable. In textbook style but of general interest. Largely condensed from his American railway transportation and Ocean and inland water transportation, but containing supplementary chapters on the Panama canal, Electric transportation, etc.

Economic Bul. 2:360; Nation, 90:42.

385 c Fagan, J. O. Labor and the railroads. Houghton $1 n

9-28733 Vigorous essays on the strained relations between railroad corporations and organized labor; by the author of Confessions of a railway signalman. Advocates publicity as to business methods and condemns the "schedule" insisted on by organized labor because it limits power to secure efficiency and public safety.

Engin. News, 62: sup. Dec. 16, '09, p. 62; Lit. Digest, 40:25; Nation, 90:215; Outlook, 94:90; Survey, 23:440.

EDUCATION

371 b McMurry, F. M. How to study and teaching how to study. Houghton $1.25 n

9-24930 A clear and logical analysis of the nature of study, resolving it into eight principal factors and examining each in turn in relation to children. Fuller and of more general application than L. B.
9-24269 Earhart's Teaching children to study (Riverside educ. monographs, Houghton 60c) which covers much the same ground but is supplementary rather than identical, applying especially to elementary schools and giving in some cases more concrete examples.

Earhart, Educ. R. 39:102; Elem. Sch. Teacher, 10:204.

372.1 c Key, Ellen. The century of the child. Putnam $1.50 n

9-5891 Brilliant arraignment of social and educational institutions, pleading for the child's freedom, individuality and protection. The opening paper will repel by radical and heretical views on marriage and the family, but should not prevent the reading of the following though-provoking chapters, written from profound sympathy and long experience. First published in Sweden, now translated from the German.

Dial, 46:325; Nation, 89:75; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:128, Mar. 6, '09; Survey, 22:680.

374 Parsons, Frank. Choosing a vocation. Houghton $1 n
9-14718 Based on the methods and experiences of the Vocation Bureau in Boston. Specially addressed to those engaged in assisting young persons into suitable employment, but also highly suggestive to the seekers themselves.
Cath. World, 90:114; Engin. News, 62: sup. Oct. 14, '09, p. 35; Independent, 67:257; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:400, June 26, '09.

607 Davenport, Eugene. Education for efficiency. Heath $1
9-24932 Forceful statement of the demand, incident to modern conditions of life, for the greater prominence of industrial education, with practical suggestions for introducing agricultural courses into high and normal schools.
One of the most adequate discussions of general high school problems that has yet appeared. Educational Rev. 39:100

CUSTOMS AND FOLKLORE

See also Children's books, p. 42-43

394 c Book of Christmas. Macmillan $1.25 n
9-27107 A delightful and useful anthology of prose and verse, ancient and modern, relating to Christmas. Illustrated from drawings by G. W. Edwards and 12 halftones from paintings. Chapters on New Year and Twelfth Night
Dial, 47:466; North Amer. R. 190:844; Outlook, 93:788.

LANGUAGE

421.4 c Lounsbury, T. R. English spelling and spelling reform. Harper $1.25 n
9-26304 Spirited and witty defense of spelling reform, pointing out difficulties and waste from present inconsistencies and basing arguments for change on common sense and the history of English orthography. Based on Confessions of a spelling reformer, Atlantic Monthly, June 1907.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:656, Oct. 23, '09.

428.6 Mintz, F. S. The new American citizen: a reader for foreigners. Macmillan 50c n
9-17995 A series of reading lessons for adults studying English, giving in simple language a sketch history of the United States and description of its present conditions and government. Illustrated.
9-10149 O'Brien's English for foreigners (Houghton, 50c n 428.2), somewhat similar in aim, is more primerlike and undertakes to familiarize with business methods and words essential in daily life.

NATURAL SCIENCE

See also Children's books, p. 42

523.6 Chambers, G. F. The story of the comets, simply told for general readers. Oxford Univ. (6/) $2
W9-342 Rather full and fairly popular presentation of facts as to composition, movements and history of comets, with chapter on their recognition in poetry and history, tables of statistics and brief bibliography. Based on chapter in his Handbook of astronomy.
10-8983 Fully illustrated. Elson's Comets, their origin, nature and history, 1910, Sturgis 50c n), brief and extremely popular, will serve very well those entirely unacquainted with astronomy.

Chambers, Astrophys. Jour. 31:92; Ath. 1909, 2:398; Sat. R. 109:275; Spec. 103:817.

523.8 c Clarke, E. C. Astronomy from a dipper; with charts by the author. Houghton 60c n

9-28291 An engaging little book of simple charts enabling one who knows only the Dipper to identify the most important stars. The accompanying explanations are brief but have room for humor. Olcott's
9-27584 In starland with a three-inch telescope (Putnam $1 n 523) is a handbook for more advanced amateurs. It provides a series of charts of the constellations arranged by season, and of the moon. Compact explanations show where to look and what to look for, with data concerning the planets.

Chicago Post, May 20, 1910, p. 6; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:671, Oct. 30, '09.

533.6 b Rotch, A. L. The conquest of the air; or, the advent of aërial navigation. Moffat $1 n

9-25965 Short, concise account, at once popular and scientific, of history, present conditions and outlook of aerial navigation, prefaced by an important chapter on the atmosphere as affecting aeronautics, based on author's meteorological observations. Illustrated. Aerial navi-
W9-306 gation of to-day by C. C. Turner (Lippincott $1.50 n) is an interesting nontechnical survey of history, principles and progress of ballooning and mechanical flight, including discussion of social effects, military and naval aeronautics, aerial law, descriptions of typical machines and airships and glossaries of French and 9-35017 English terms. Fully illustrated. The boys' book of airships by Harry Delacombe (Stokes $2) treats of balloons and ballooning in war and sport, of airships, kites, gliders and aeroplanes. Popular and fairly up to date (cDec. 1909), it leaves much to be desired in literary style and shows signs of nervous excitement (e. g. p. 108). Written to interest older English boys in aeronautics as a profession. Well illustrated but the cover is an outrage on the 9-5179 eyes. Sir H. S. Maxim's Artificial and natural flight (Macmillan $1.75 n) describes author's experimental work with screws and supporting aeroplanes, including observations on machinery and principles and instructive chapters on air currents
9-31008 and the flight of birds and kites. Fully illustrated. A. P. Morgan's How to build a 20-foot biplane glider (Model lib. Spon 50c) gives practical directions for making a machine of the type developed by Octave Chanute, costing in raw materials from $10 to $15. Fully illustrated by diagrams.

Rotch, Spec. 103:607. Turner, Nation, 90:145; Spec. 103:718. Delacombe, Lit. Digest, 40:238; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:62, Feb. 5, '10. Maxim, Engin. News, 61: sup. Mar. 18, '09, p. 27; Nation, 88:634; Nature, 80:222; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:57, Jan. 30, '09; Science, 53.282.

540 Jenks, Tudor. Chemistry for young people. Stokes $1.50 n

9-31434 Comparatively simple statement, more general than a textbook, of the history and principles of chemistry. For beginners, but too difficult for a child not already somewhat informed. Philip's
W9-331 Romance of modern chemistry (Lippincott $1.50 n), an English book, is less a systematic explanation of principles than a description of the wonderful applications of chemical principles and forces to modern life.

Philip, Ath. 1909, 2:498; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:764, Dec. 4, '09; Science, 53:886.

553.8 c Wodiska, Julius. A book of precious stones. Putnam $2.50 n

9-30640 Information on the nature, origin and value of the principal precious and semiprecious stones, with historical, artistic, legendary and commercial data and many illustrations, useful for amateur and general readers.

Nation, 90:297; Spec. 104:306.

560.973 Sternberg, C. H. The life of a fossil hunter. (Amer. nature ser.) Holt $1.60 n

9-5110 Graphic story of an enthusiastic veteran fossil hunter's experiences in Kansas, Texas, Oregon etc. Of first interest to scientists, but so popular in style and full of adventure as to attract the general reader.

Ath. 1909, 1:732; Dial, 46:191; Nation, 88:492; Nature, 82:36.

590 c Packard, Winthrop. Wild pastures. Small $1.20 n

9-16426 Graceful essays celebrating the quiet joys of New England pasture life in summer. They reveal the genuine nature lover, and are worthy to stand beside the work of Burroughs, Bradford Torrey and Dallas Lore Sharp. A. L. A. Booklist

9-29596 Of similar delicate quality is his Wildwood ways (Small $1.20 n) describing nature in winter in this region. Pen and ink drawings by Charles Copeland.

Dial, 47:76.

591.5 c Hagenbeck, Carl. Beasts and men; being Carl Hagenbeck's experiences for half a century among wild animals. Longmans (12/6 n) $3.50 n

Agr. 10-237 The veteran naturalist and showman tells interesting experiences in collecting, taming, training and acclimatizing wild animals and describes original experiments with ostriches in his zoological park at Stellingen, Germany. Numerous halftones.

Ath. 1910, 1:45; Nature, 82:247; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:15, Jan. 1, '10; Spec. 104:303.

595.79 b McCook, H. C. Ant communities and how they are governed; a study in natural civics. Harper $2 n

9-27978 Fascinating study of ant life, comparing their communal activities and aims — home-building, securing of food supplies, protection from enemies, etc.— with the social behavior of man. Based on over 30 years' observation.

Dial, 48:125; Lit. Digest, 39:964; Nation, 90:441; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:806, Dec. 18, '09; Outlook, 93:830; Rev. of Rev. 41:255; Spec. 104:154.

USEFUL ARTS

See also Children's books, p. 42-43

626.9 c Cornish, Vaughan. The Panama canal and its makers. Little $1.50 n

9-35588 Concise, impartial account by an English geographer who visited the canal in 1907 and again in 1908. He discusses not only what is being done but the history of the enterprise, sanitation, labor question, cost and probable commercial results. Map, diagrams and many halftones.

Acad. 76:921; Engin. News, 61: sup. June 17, '09, p. 69; Nation, 88:485; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:486, Aug. 14, '09.

627.1 Mathews, J. L. Remaking the Mississippi. Houghton $1.75 n

9-14201 Popular, nontechnical description of what has been done for the improvement of the Mississippi and its tributaries, with rather sanguine survey of possibilities for future work and the advantages which would result. Many halftones.

Dial, 47:49; Engin. News, 62: sup. Sept. 16, '09, p. 21; Nation, 89:74.

641 c Hill, Mrs J. M. Cooking for two: a handbook for young housekeepers. Little $1.50 n

9-14525 Recipes, reasonable in cost and definite in directions, grouped according to food values. Attention is called to the fact that the doubling of quantities provides for four or five people. Nicely illustrated from photographs. Menus for a week in each month. Index.

657 Garrison, E. E. Accounting every business man should know. Doubleday $1.20 n

9-28547 Concise, well reasoned exposition, founded on experience, intended to give the average man a clear conception of the fundamental principles and purposes of the science of accounting.

9-8816 More suited to the business man than the student. Better for reference, being fuller, less simple, more academic, is Hatfield's Modern accounting (Appleton $1.75 n), an able discussion of principles rather than technic, based on the German work of J. F.

8-31984 Schaer. If the library has Cole's excellent Accounts: their construction and interpretation for business men and students (Houghton, 1908, $2) neither of these may be needed, though they would be valuable as supplements.

Garrison, Nation, 89:657. Hatfield, Economic Bul. 2:235; Jour. of Polit. Econ. 17:647; Nation, 88:584; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:289, May 8, '09.

659 Deland, L. F. Imagination in business. Harper 50c n

9-28100 Demonstrates practical value of imagination in advertising, solution of business problems, and creating new business; illustrated by concrete examples drawn from 20 years' personal experience as expert adviser to business houses. Enlarged from an Atlantic Monthly paper.

684 a Brigham, Louise. Box furniture: how to make a hundred useful articles for the home. Century $1.60 n

9-14202 Directions for making 100 useful pieces of furniture from ordinary packing boxes. Good illustrations and simple instructions. Could be used by boys and has stood practical tests by amateurs.

Independent, 67:257; Lit. Digest, 39:207; Nation, 89:312; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:356, June 5, '09; School R. 17:725.

684 c Selden, F. H. Elementary cabinetwork for manual training classes. Rand $1.25

9-28711 Clearly written, fully illustrated, practical handbook for manual training schools or self-instruction. Pt 1 deals with general principles; pt 2, problems of actual construction; pt 3, special tools. Supplement to author's Elementary woodwork and other books,

9-29860 and takes for granted such knowledge as they impart. Bond's

9-29860 Handy man's work-shop and laboratory (Munn $2 604) is more miscellaneous in content, consisting of ingenious suggestions from professionals and amateurs in electrical, mechanical and other lines of work. Amply illustrated. Compiled from contributions to the Scientific American.

PUBLIC AND PERSONAL HEALTH

See also Children's books, p. 43

178 Williams, H. S. Alcohol: how it affects the individual, the community, and the race.

Century 50c n

9-18388 Concise, unimpassioned argument, based on scientific research, against use of alcohol in any form, in three papers, two of which appeared in McClure's. Statistical details in appendix. By a specialist in nervous diseases.

Independent, 67:934; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:468, July 31, '09.

612.6 c Latimer, Caroline. Girl and woman. Appleton $2 n

9-30650 A much needed book, dealing clearly and with sufficient fulness with the facts of sex as well as with general hygiene and physiological matters. Superior to most similar attempts in its freedom from the sentimental and emotional. Author a physician. Though primarily intended for parents it may be given safely to girls on occasion.

612.61 c Hall, W. S. From youth into manhood.

Y. M. C. A. Press 50c

9-25276 Decidedly a "best book" for the adolescent boy in need of direct instruction in sexual physiology and hygiene. Dignified, free from exaggeration, sentimentality and morbid suggestion, and commendably brief.

613.8 b Call, A. P. Nerves and common sense.

Little $1.25 n

9-35851 Tells simply and practically how, by lessening the nervous resistance to little annoyances and obsessions, women may strengthen health and character. Mainly reprinted from Ladies'

9-3555 Home Journal. Self-help for nervous women (Lippincott, $1 n 616.8) by Dr J. K. Mitchell, a prominent nerve specialist and son of Dr S. Weir Mitchell, is an enlargement of short talks on economy in nervous expenditure printed in Harper's Bazar, 1901. The suggestions are lucid and indicate the limits beyond which self-help becomes futile and a physician necessary. A helpful little book for those readers who "do everything 50 times, 49

9-10655 times in their minds and once actually," is A talk on relaxation by A. K. Fallows, in the useful Making the best of things ser. (McClurg 35c n).

Call, Nation, 90:216. Mitchell, Nation, 89:82; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:176, Mar. 27, '09.

613.9 Saleeby, C. W. Parenthood and race culture: an outline of eugenics. (Cassell 7/6 n) Moffat $2.50 n

9-13927 Valuable and readable work on eugenics, based on the theory that conditions of parenthood are the ruling factors in determining the future of nations. Discusses principles and practice and social, psychological and physiological problems.

Chicago Medical Record, 31:722; Dial, 48:125; Independent, 67:1147; Nation, 90:357; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:590, Oct. 9, '09; Public Health, 23:25.

614 Allen, W. H. Civics and health. (Efficient citizen ser.) Ginn $1.25

9-5261 Popular handbook of practical hygiene in relation to school, community and home, urging recognition of public responsibility to secure health of citizens. Based on study of New York school children. Illustrated.

Amer. Jour. of Sociol. 15:561; Annals of Amer. Acad. 34:195; Educ. R. 38:315; Engin. News, 61: sup. Ap. 15, '09, p. 53; Nation, 88:579; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:386, June 19, '09; Survey, 22:536.

614.542 Knopf, S. A. Tuberculosis a preventable and curable disease. Moffat $2 n

9-17599 Optimistic view by an authority, valuable to layman and physician. Discusses infection and hygiene, sanatorium treatment at home, duties of physicians, health authorities, educators, employers, the press, people at large, etc. and emphasizes importance and methods of open-air treatment. 115 illustrations cover methods of prevention and cure. Another readable and adequate 9-24474 book on the subject by a tuberculosis specialist is Otis's The great white plague (Crowell $1 n) which is concerned with causes, symptoms and treatment and reviews public effort for extermination at home and abroad.

Knopf, Medical Record, 76:369; Nation, 90:357; Science, 53:447; Survey, 22:698. Otis, Nation, 90:357; Survey, 23:247.

616 b Hutchinson, Woods. Preventable diseases. Houghton $1.50 n

Bacon, Mrs J. D. (Daskam), "Ingraham Lovell," pseud. Margarita's soul: the romantic recollections of a man of fifty. Lane $1.50

9–26806 Tale of a modern Undine who does not come into contact with civilization and its complexities until she reaches womanhood. Ignorant of the use of knife and fork or of moral standards, she keeps husband and friends in a state of mingled amazement, exasperation and adoration. Style sometimes suggests De Morgan without his masterly skill in marshaling irrelevances.
Acad. 78:155; Ath. 1910, 1:245; Bookman, 30:384.

Barclay, Mrs F. L. The rosary. Putnam $1.35 n

9–29767 Emotional love story of a plain but fine-souled woman and an artist who is a worshiper of beauty, members of upper class English society. Improbable in plot, too sweet and sentimental and making considerable sensuous appeal, but relieved by sincerity and high ideals.
Dial, 48:242; Spec. 104:136.

b Bell, J. J. Oh! Christina! Revell 60c n

9–8994 Christina is a precocious, fun-loving Scotch street Arab, transplanted to the village home of a refined spinster aunt. Her slangy expressions and reckless attempts at managing both her aunt's store and love affair provide comedy.
Ath. 1909, 1:528; Nation, 88:607.

Bennett, Arnold. The old wives' tale. Doran $1.50 n

W9–196 A dispassioned study of the lives of two sisters, the main background being an English manufacturing town. Shows wonderful mastery of realistic detail and unusual psychological insight. Appeared in England in 1907 as the Grim smile of the Five Towns.
Bookman, 30:186; Dial, 47:236; Nation, 89:356; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:498, Aug. 21, '09.

a Bryant, Margaret. Christopher Hibbault: roadmaker. Duffield $1.50

9–35333 A story of peculiar charm and originality, following the fortunes of a poor English boy who, adopted by a man of wealth, realizes his ambition to make good country roads. There is a pretty romance, but the main interest lies in spiritual and practical relations.
Bookman, 29:404; Nation, 88:418; Spec. 102:64.

c Cameron, Margaret, (Mrs H. C. Lewis). The involuntary chaperon. Harper $1.50

9–26953 A travel story told in entertaining letters which rehearse the love affairs of two attractive women, together with their South American sight-seeing.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:691, Nov. 6, '09; Sat. R. 109:698.

a Crawford, F. M. The white sister. Macmillan $1.50

9–10790 A story of modern Rome and of a girl who, convinced that her lover is dead, becomes a nun and takes her final vows only to find him escaped from a living death and demanding the fulfilment of her engagement to him. In spite of the plot, has not the characteristics of melodrama.

Daviess, M. T. Miss Selina Lue and the soap-box babies. Bobbs-Merrill $1 9–26670 A cheery little sketch of life in a southern village and of a large-hearted old maid who mothers the inhabitants and their babies and helps on a love story.

N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:624, Oct. 23, '09.

a De Morgan, W. F. It never can happen again. Holt $1.75

9–28954 Story of modern English life, developing with all the psychological care of the author's earlier novels and even greater wealth of detail, two almost distinct plots: the pathetic career of a blind beggar and his little daughter and a middle-aged author's complicated entanglements, hinging on the deceased wife's sister bill.
Dial, 47:384; Nation, 89:532; Outlook, 93:829.

Egan, M. F. The wiles of Sexton Maginnis. Century $1.50

9–7142 Love affairs and other human relations in an Irish American parish provide constant opportunities for the interferences of Maginnis, the priest's factotum, the tool of an awe-inspiring mother in law, and a genial "liar in the interests of truth."
Cath. World, 89:253; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:246, Ap. 17, '09; Outlook, 92:20.

Freeman, Mrs M. E. (Wilkins). The winning lady. Harper $1.25

9–27999 Eleven short stories of New England life, showing admirable constructive skill in building with slight materials. All but two appeared in Harper's Magazine and Harper's Bazar.
Lit. Digest, 40:152; Nation, 90:36; Spec. 103:1107.

Gale, Zona. Friendship Village love stories. Macmillan $1.50

9–29428 Delicate, frankly sentimental short stories of a Wisconsin village, held together by a thread of narrative.
Nation, 90:37; Outlook, 93:875.

Gibbon, Perceval. Salvator. Doubleday $1.50

9–8998 Story of love and politics in England and Portuguese East Africa. The hero, with visions of reforming Mozambique, incites rebellion and is implcated in intrigues.
Bookman, 29:646; Nation, 89:37; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:302, May 15, '09.

b Glasgow, E. A. G. Romance of a plain man. Macmillan $1.50

9–12083 Hero relates the story of his rise from the ranks, his marriage and absorption in business. The distinction and charm depend upon the excellent characterization and intimate picture of Richmond society after the war.
Atlantic, 104:682; Nation, 89:37; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:402, June 26, '09.

Glaspell, Susan. The glory of the conquered: the story of a great love. Stokes $1.50

9-6277 Story of a Chicago professor suddenly stricken with blindness and of his artist wife, who demonstrates that fate can not wholly conquer the dauntless spirit.
Bookman, 29:317; Dial, 47:183; Nation, 99:489; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:145, Mar. 13, '09.

c Grant, Robert. The Chippendales. Scribner $1.50

9-9472 Study of the process of transforming traditional, cultured Boston into a modern industrial center in which lowered esthetic, ethical and intellectual ideals prevail. Though long and rather laborious, there is much human interest.
Bookman, 29:309; Dial, 46:371; Nation, 88:363.

Hall, E. C. pseud. (Mrs L. C. Obenchain). The land of long ago. Little $1.50

9-24960 Nine human stories comprising further reminiscences of "Aunt Jane of Kentucky," with which are intermingled her shrewd comments on modern social life. Reprinted from the Cosmopolitan.
N. Y. Times 14:626, Oct. 22, '09; Outlook, 93:276.

c Harris, J. C. The bishop and the boogerman. Doubleday $1 n

9-3878 Delightfully whimsical story of an imaginative little southern girl who initiates into her realm of "make-believe," her grown-up friends, black and white.
Ath. 1909, 1:403; Nation, 88:171; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:103, Feb. 20, '09.

Hewlett, M. H. Open country: a comedy with a sting. Scribner $1.50

Bookman, 30:263; Dial, 47:237; Nation, 89:305.

Hopkins, W. J. Old Harbor. Houghton $1.35 n

9-28703 Deliberate story of some unusual events and their effect on a small circle in a sleepy old New England seaport. Lifelike character portrayal, an atmosphere of reality and a simple style give charm and distinction.
Acad. 78:275; Nation, 90:163; Outlook (English), 25:636.

c King, Basil. The inner shrine: a novel of to-day. Harper $1.50

9-12616 A young Frenchwoman whose thoughtless flirtations have caused the ruin and death of her husband, comes to New York to redeem herself by supporting her mother in law and enters upon her real love story there. Clever and dramatic. Published in Harper's Magazine.
Atlantic, 104:681; Dial, 46:370; Nation, 88:489; Putnam, 6:493.

Kipling, Rudyard. Actions and reactions. (Outward bound ed.) Doubleday $1.50

9-26138 An habitation enforced; Garm, a hostage (good dog story); The mother hive; With the night mail (airships of the future);

A deal in cotton; The puzzler; Little foxes; The house surgeon (ghost story).

Ath. 1909, 2:453; Nation, 89:460; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:670, Oct. 30, '09; Sat. R. 108: sup. Oct. 16, '09, p. 3; Spec. 103:564.

c Lane, Mrs E. M. Katrine. Harper $1.50

9-7828 Romance of a southerner who loves but is too proud to marry a charming but poor Irish girl. Less successful than author's Nancy Stair, but careful depiction of the Irish temperament, a well constructed plot and a fine, radiant spirit contribute distinction. Scene, North Carolina and Paris.

Atlantic, 103:703; Bookman, 29:318; Independent, 66:760; Nation, 88:515; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:192, Ap. 3, '09.

Lee, Jennette (Mrs G. S. Lee). Simeon Tetlow's shadow. Century $1.50

9-4193 An improbable but pleasant story of a temporarily broken-down railroad magnate not only helped through a business crisis but morally regenerated by the devotion of a subordinate. No love story.

Nation, 88:443; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:146, Mar. 13, '09, 14:376, June 12, '09; Outlook, 92:21.

Lincoln, J. C. Keziah Coffin. Appleton $1.50

9-24450 The plot of this double love story turns on the feud between the Regulars and Come Outers, religious sects in a Cape Cod village. Author interprets local character and events through the shrewd comments of Keziah Coffin, housekeeper to the young Regular minister. A. L. A. Booklist

N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:751, Oct. 27, '09.

Lindsey, William. The severed mantle. Houghton $1.35 n; reinforced $1.45 n

9-27996 Romance of Provence in the time of the troubadours. Though the hero has many "doughty encounters and sentimental conquests" the book makes its appeal through its skilful and accurate picture of the courts of love and its happy translations of Provençal lyrics rather than through the human drama.

Bookman, 30:514; Nation, 89:573; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:622, Oct. 22, '09; Outlook (English) 25:674.

a Locke, W. J. Septimus. Lane $1.50

9-562 Quaintly humorous story of the unusual circumstances in which a wholly unpractical, erratic but high minded inventor becomes involved, through his love for one woman, his compassion for another and the neglect of his own interests.

Atlantic, 103:711; Bookman, 28:594; Dial, 46:263; Nation, 88:117.

b MacGowan, Alice. The wiving of Lance Cleaverage. Putnam $1.35 n

9-27261 Elementally human, almost tragic love story of the Tennessee mountains, faithful to the life of the mountaineers and alive to the beauty of the setting. First published in Putnam's.

Nation, 89:600.

b Marks, Jeanette. Through Welsh doorways. Houghton $1.10 n

9-7949 Eleven short stories of delicate workmanship, mainly reprinted from magazines. They treat sympathetically of humorous and touching incidents in the lives of quaint Welsh country folk.

Bookman, 29:403; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:216, Ap. 10, '09; Outlook, 92:20.

Miller, Mrs A. D. Less than kin. Holt $1.25

9–14451 Well managed and entertaining comedy. The hero, a daring young soldier of fortune from South America, poses temporarily as son in an aristocratic New York family and as cousin to a piquant young woman.

Nation, 89:186; Putnam's, 7:70.

b Moffett, Cleveland. Through the wall. Appleton $1.50

9–28041 A capital detective story of complicated plot and well sustained interest. Scene laid in Paris.

N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:721, Nov. 20, '09.

a Montgomery, L. M. Anne of Avonlea. Page $1.50

9–22941 Sequel to Anne of Green Gables. The heroine is 17 and more dignified, teaching school and founding a village improvement society, but there are other children to get into entertaining scrapes. Interesting to girls.

Bookman, 30:152; Nation, 89:212; Spec. 103:1002.

c Oldmeadow, E. J. Antonio. Century $1.30 n

9–19188 Strong and delicately wrought story of a saintly Portuguese monk of the early 19th century, who becomes a vine grower and wine maker in order to buy back his suppressed Benedictine monastery, and whose trials of flesh and spirit culminate in his love for a beautiful English girl.

Atlantic, 104:686; Bookman, 29:644; Dial, 47:181.

b Page, T. N. John Marvel, assistant. Scribner $1.50

9–28122 The common interests of three young men of a northern town — a lawyer from the South, a Christian preacher and a Jewish socialist — in a civic reform movement, and their love for the daughter of a magnate, give unity to a rambling and serious but interesting and stimulating story. Reprinted from Scribner's Magazine.

Bookman, 30:514; Dial, 47:386; Nation, 89:541.

Page, W. H. "Nicholas Worth," pseud. The southerner. Doubleday $1.20 fixed 9–26438 Counted a novel only in deference to the author's declaration. Narrates a southern man's efforts to bring better social conditions to pass through a fight for free schools, free speech and the burial of dead issues. Most of it published in Atlantic Monthly.

Dial, 47:386; Nation, 89:511.

Parker, Sir Gilbert. Northern Lights. Harper $1.50

9–24321 Seventeen vigorous and romantic stories of life in the Canadian northwest as it was and as it is.

Nation, 89:488; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:607, Oct. 16, '09; Outlook, 93:317; Sat. R. 108:445.

c Porter, Gene (Stratton) (Mrs C. D. Porter). A girl of the Limberlost. Doubleday $1.50

9–35787 A dauntless, sweet-hearted girl, thwarted by an embittered mother, earns her way through high school by collecting rare butterflies, and enters upon a pretty romance. Improbable in some coincidences and situations, but bracing, high in ideals, and full of sympathy with outdoor life.

Bookman, 31:77; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:501, Aug. 21, '09.

Quiller-Couch, A. T. "Q," pseud. True Tilda. Scribner $1.50

9-35790 A precocious little circus waif rescues a boy from an orphan asylum and pilots him through a succession of remarkable adventures in her efforts to find him a father. Whimsically humorous, peopled with Dickensian characters and full of the charm of the unexpected.

Dial, 47:237; Nation, 89:329; Sat. R. 108:386; Spec. 103:650.

Rice, Mrs A. C. (Hegan). Mr Opp. Century $1

9-8574 Amusing and pathetic character study of a little man in an Ohio river hamlet, self-important and futile but with the moral qualities of a hero.

Ath. 1909, 1:612; Bookman, 29:412; Nation, 89:17; Spec. 103:209.

Richards, M. E. Zandrie. Century $1.50

9-24236 Naïve love story of an impulsive, convent-bred girl, ignorant of life, who strives to serve and be a comrade to her hero, crippled by a fall from his horse at the convent gates.

Bookman, 30:281; Nation, 89:306; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:584, Oct. 2, '09.

Robins, Elizabeth (Mrs G. R. Parkes), "C. E. Raimond," pseud. The Florentine frame. Moffat $1.50

9-28705 Skilful handling of a delicate theme — the three-cornered love affair of a prominent New York woman, her lively 17 year old daughter, and a rising dramatist, the mother's junior by 10 years. Story is set in an atmosphere of culture and good breeding and humorous situations offset strain and poignancy.

Bookman, 30:386; Dial, 48:244; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:741, Nov. 27, '09; Sat. R. 108:699.

Snaith, J. C. Araminta. Moffat $1.50

9-4191 Delicious comedy of manners recounting in exuberant vein the London social successes of a feather-brained country girl who bears a striking resemblance to a Gainsborough portrait.

Atlantic, 103:702; Bookman, 29:315; Dial, 46:368; Nation, 88:337; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:134, Mar. 6, '09; Spec. 102:504.

Waller, M. E. A year out of life. Appleton $1.50

9-8571 An American girl's romance with a German author whose novels she translates; concerned with the heroine's complex emotions aroused by an intense Americanism, the winning and gripping character of the novelist's letters and the repelling realism and agnosticism of his philosophy.

Bookman, 29:404; Nation, 88:632; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:279, May 1, '09.

a Ward, Mrs E. S. (Phelps). The oath of allegiance, and other stories. Houghton $1.25·n

9-35852 Short stories, often somber and always with an undernote of pathos. Yet despite their suggestion of wistful sadness, the characters are drawn with sureness and strength and the situations are realistic. Free from the morbid tone of some of author's recent fiction.

Nation, 89:487.

Weyman, S. J. The wild geese. Doubleday $1.50

9–4487 Hero, a gentleman-adventurer of a new type, brave but cautious and conscientious, undertakes to subdue an 18th century Jacobite uprising and a beautiful, high spirited young rebel.

Dial, 47:47; Nation, 88:443; Sat. R. 106:207; Spec. 101:269.

White, E. O. The Wares of Edgefield.

Houghton $1.25 n

Nation, 89:434; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:687, Nov. 6, '09.

b White, W. A. A certain rich man. Macmillan $1.50

9–18720 Portrayal, in the ruminating style of the early Victorians, of the evolution of a humble, imaginative Kansas boy into a hard, unscrupulous captain of industry and multimillionaire. The background — the half century's growth of a typical Kansas town — mirrors the developing character of the entire country.

Dial, 47:180; Forum, 42:285; Nation, 89:163; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:462, July 31, '09; Outlook, 92:921.

Wiggin, Mrs K. D. (Smith) (Mrs George Riggs). Susanna and Sue.

Houghton $1.50 n; reinforced, $1.60 n

9–27270 A pretty, quiet story depicting the life of a Maine Shaker settlement through the eyes of a little girl and her mother who became temporary residents there. The overelaborate dress makes it rather too expensive for libraries.

Dial, 47:463; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:694, Nov. 6, '09; Spec. 103:1003.

Wright, Mrs M. O. "Barbara," pseud. Poppea of the post-office. Macmillan $1.50

9–18947 Story of a foundling adopted by a New England village postmaster near close of Civil War. The most conventional of author's stories and familiar in plot, but will appeal through its vivid portrayal of provincial characters, wholesome and sentimental treatment and pretty love story.

Dial, 47:183; Nation, 89:278; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:477, Aug. 7, '09.

Young, F. E. M. Chip. Lane $1.50

10–35851 A woman-hating Englishman, drinking himself to death on a South African farm, is reclaimed by his young overseer who turns out to be a girl. Reveals a rough life and dangerous situations but is clean and morally inspiring. Author evidently knows the country.

Ath. 1909, 1:436; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:354, June 5, '09; North Amer. R. 190:268.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS

292 c Hutchinson, W. M. L. Orpheus with his lute: stories of the world's springtime. Longmans $1.40 n

W10–85 The story of Orpheus and Eurydice, with other tales from Greek mythology interwoven, related with so much dignity of thought and poetry of expression that older readers as well as children will be attracted. Also of unusual literary excellence
9–14517 and covering but little of the same ground is Buckley's Children of the dawn (Stokes $1.50), which retells charmingly 11 Greek stories, following the originals more closely than is usual.

Hutchinson, Cath. World, 91:107; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:16, Jan. 8, '10. Buckley, Ath. 1908, 2:642; Sat. R. 106: sup. Dec. 12, '08, p. 9; Spec. 101:809.

353.7 Codd, M. J. With Evans to the Pacific. Flanagan 60c

9–26010 Twenty-seven short Sioux myths, fables and fairy stories, simply and acceptably related for children. Abbie Farwell
9–26012 Brown's Tales of the red children (Appleton $1) contains 11 Canadian Indian stories prettily told and happily illustrated.
Eastman, N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:807, Dec. 18, '09.

398.2 Lansing, M. F. Life in the greenwood. (Open road lib. of juvenile lit.) Ginn 35c

9–24323 Stories of Robin Hood and other famous outlaws, with quotations from the old ballads. Much shorter and simpler than Pyle's Merry adventures of Robin Hood. Simple and fitting illustrations.

581.5 Fultz, F. M. The fly-aways and other seed travelers. Pub. Sch. Pub. Co. 60c

9–27983 Tells simply and colloquially how different types of seeds are adapted to make their way by flying, jumping, skating etc. Occasional quoted verses and many excellent illustrations from photographs make it attractive.

582 Rogers, J. E. Trees that every child should know: easy tree studies for all seasons of the year. Doubleday $1.20 n

9–28057 Simple, interesting descriptions of familiar American trees and the means of identifying them, adapted to children of 12 or more. Its usefulness would be much increased by additional plates as excellent as the 47 provided.

617.1 Gulick, Mrs C. E. V. Emergencies. (Gulick hygiene ser.) Ginn 40c

9–16997 Teaches children, clearly and simply, how to render first aid to the injured and also how many accidents may be avoided. Based on a careful study of accidents common to children. Includes questions for the teacher. Adequately illustrated.

9–15214 In the same series and for slightly older children is The body at work by Mrs F. G. Jewett (50c 612) which discusses circulation, digestion, nutrition, respiration etc. showing how obedience to the laws which govern bodily function and structure will re-9–2627 sult in increased physical efficiency. Illustrated. Mrs Jewett's excellent Control of body and mind, same series, (50c 613) is rather advanced for the children's room.
Gulick, School R. 18:435; Science, 54:785.

621 a Adams, J. H. Harper's machinery book for boys. (Practical books for boys) Harper $1.75

9–10506 A working handbook for older boys. Clear and easily followed explanations of mechanical principles, uses of power, machines of various types, tools and processes. Good diagrams and a dictionary of mechanical terms.

9–28712 Bond's Scientific American boy at school (Munn $2 796) is similar in aim, but more popularly presented in story form and deals mainly with practical processes in building boats, dams, bridges, surveying, sounding, signaling, kite photography, etc.
Adams, Engin. News, 62: sup. July 15, '09, p. 7; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:709, Nov. 13, '09.

716 Duncan, Frances. When mother lets us garden: a book for little folk who want to make gardens and don't know how. Moffat 75c n

790 c Bancroft, J. H. Games for the playground, home, school and gymnasium. Macmillan $1.50 n

9–31961 A compilation involving much original research, by the assistant director of physical training in the New York city schools. Contains over 400 games, of all countries, with music, diagrams and pictures where necessary, classified and alphabetic indexes and introductory history and explanation. Though primarily for the teacher will be a treasury of entertainment for children.
N. Y. Times Sat. R. 15:110, Feb. 26, '10; Survey, 23:740.

796 Beard, D. C. The boy pioneers; sons of Daniel Boone. Scribner $2 n

9–28484 An American book with purpose similar to that of Baden-Powell's Boy scouts, described in Finnemore's Wolf patrol (see Best Books, 1908, p. 41). Gives full directions for organizing, making costumes, fort, camp, furniture, totem pole, prairie schooner, bobsled, snowshoes etc. and for celebrating special days.
Nation, 89:598.

891.55 Renninger, E. D. The story of Rustem and other Persian hero tales from Firdusi. Scribner $1.50 n

9–26015 Stories very successfully adapted from the various English versions of Firdusi and showing decided dramatic quality and well sustained atmosphere. Especially good for story-telling. Illustrations unsatisfactory.

914.5 c McDonald, Mrs E. B. & Dalrymple, Julia. Rafael in Italy. (Little people everywhere) Little 60c

9–24951 9–24953 9–24952 9–24950 One of a new series in which four of the 12 books promised are now ready. This and Kathleen in Ireland (914.15), Manuel in Mexico (917.2) and Umé San in Japan (914.5), by the same althors, are well written and give in simple, entertaining story form considerable information about the countries and people. They appeal to younger readers than the Peeps at many lands, and are of more uniform excellence, more attractive in make-up and for slightly older children than Our little cousin series. Each has a colored frontispiece and eight or nine halftones.

914.95 Browne, E. A. Greece. (Peeps at many lands) Macmillan 75c n

W9–335 A first-hand description of modern Greece, with a summary of history and geography as well as personal experiences and accounts of the currant industry. One of the best of the series

W9–265 but not very childlike in style. In this series Mockler-Ferryman's Norway (914.81) offers a sympathetic and truthful account of the scenery and natural history of that country, the occupations, national customs, and some of the fairy tales told to children.

W10–32 Sidgwick's Germany (914.3) is largely a retelling of facts from her delightful Home life in Germany, with emphasis on child life. Part is in story form. Maps and 12 colored plates in each volume of series.

8–20729 See also note on Mrs Hinkson's Ireland, under Loomis, p. 25.

917.8 Roosevelt, Theodore. Stories of the great West. Century, 60c n

9–16906 Ten pictures of frontier and ranch life, reprinted as a whole or somewhat condensed by omissions from Hero tales, Winning of the West, and Ranch life and the hunting trail. Illustrated.

970.1 Catlin, George. The boy's Catlin; my life among the Indians; ed. with a biographical sketch by Mary Gay Humphreys. Scribner $1.50 n

9–25173 The most interesting parts of Catlin's two volume Letters and notes on the manners, customs and condition of the North American Indians condensed and arranged in chronological order. 16 illustrations from author's drawings.
Lit. Digest, 39:1016; Nation, 89:539.

BIOGRAPHY FOR CHILDREN

920.02 Faris, J. T. Winning their way: boys who learned self-help. Stokes $1.50

9–24692 Short, rather graphic sketches of 48 men who achieved success as inventors, scientists, explorers, soldiers, captains of industry, religious workers, etc. Includes about 20 names new to children's biography. The eight illustrations, though not very well
W9–326 drawn, have a power to catch the child's interest. Mrs Lang's Red book of heroes (Longmans $1.60 n) contains 12 longer and more romantic biographies representing greater variety of country and period, ranging from Hannibal to Florence Nightingale. In illustrations and binding similar to the Lang Fairy books.

Faris, N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:583, Oct. 2, '09. Lang, Lit. Digest, 39:1020; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:709, Nov. 13, '09; Outlook, 93:601; Spec. 103:718.

920.02 Holland, R. S. Historic boyhoods. Jacobs $1.50 n

9–28239 Twenty-one quite successful sketches of the boy life of Columbus, Michael Angelo, Peter the Great, Daniel Boone, Nelson, Robert Fulton, Scott, Ericsson, Bismarck etc. The closing paragraphs sum up the after life very briefly. Appeared in part in St Nicholas.

N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:807, Dec. 18, '09.

923.17 Grant. Nicolay, Helen. Boys' life of Ulysses S. Grant. Century $1.50

9–26306 Admirably written in simple, direct and interesting style, without the condescension or effort that mars so many biographies for young people. Based on Personal memoirs supplemented by various biographies and histories. Illustrated.

923.17 b Lincoln. Moores, C. W. Life of Abraham Lincoln, for boys and girls.

Houghton 60c n; Riverside literature ser. 25c n

9–1383 Without being written down, tells the story of Lincoln's life, character and achievements in an easy, graphic way, readily followed by children from 10 or 12 up. The printed page is attractive but the "patriotic" cover is hardly a success.

923.642 Nightingale. Richards, Mrs L. E. (Howe). Florence Nightingale, the Angel of the Crimea.

Appleton $1.25 n

9–25804 Vivid and sympathetic account, marred only by an occasional bit of patronage toward the children, of the career of this noble woman. A welcome addition to inspirational biographies for older children.

928.13 a Alcott. Moses, Belle. Louisa May Alcott, dreamer and worker: a story of achievement.

Appleton $1.25 n

9–26974 Catches much of Miss Alcott's buoyant spirit and brave personality, and pictures her home life and its relation to her stories, quoting largely from her journals and letters. Will interest younger readers, not yet attracted by Mrs Cheney's standard biography.

Independent, 67:1364.

CHILDREN'S STORIES

Barbour, R. H. Double play: a story of school and baseball. Appleton $1.50

9–25638 School story, rather better than its predecessors in the Forward pass series, and though not the author's best work, to be commended for general wholesomeness and freedom from the priggish. His Captain Chub also, while easily criticized, is an encouraging advance in a series which has hitherto fallen below his best standards.

c Brown, A. F. John of the woods. Houghton $1

9–28265 A charming, poetic story, which teaches brotherly love without preaching, of a boy tumbler who escapes from cruel masters and lives in the forest with a hermit, making friends with the wild beasts.

Lit. Digest, 39:1016, North Amer. R. 190:844.

Defoe, Daniel. The life and strange surprising adventures of Robinson Crusoe; illus. by E. Boyd Smith. Houghton $1.50 n

9–28151 An edition to rejoice in. Excellent in type and paper, bound in compliance with A. L. A. specifications, in an appropriately decorated cover, with 12 colored plates and 29 chapter headings in line drawing which simply and effectively illustrate the text.

Dimock, A. W. Dick in the Everglades. (Boy explorer ser.) Stokes $1.50

9–24266 Adventures of two boys' fishing, shooting and canoeing in southern Florida. As a story rather crude and marred by bits of slang and sentimentality, but informing in its accounts of wild life and natural features. Based on author's own experiences and illustrated from photographs.

Du Bois, M. C. The lass of the Silver Sword. Century $1.50

9–26142 Boarding school and Adirondack camp life furnish the background for a group of girls of the Order of the Silver Sword, which binds them to self-control, kindness and courtesy. Wholesome and showing considerable freshness, but somewhat spoiled by overcrowding of incidents and the sensational introduction of a villain.

Ellis, K. R. The Wide Awake girls in Winsted. (Wide Awake girls ser.) Little $1.50

9–25975 Story of a reunion of the four Wide Awake girls in a Wisconsin village where they establish a library and have pleasant social times. As good if not better than its predecessor.

a Irwin, L. G. Secret of old Thunderhead. Holt $1.50

9–26808 Summer visit of a New York city boy and girl to their cousins on a Vermont farm. The daily life is wholesome and entertaining and a "lost treasure" episode is not sensationally handled.

a Morley, M. W. Donkey John of the Toy Valley. McClurg $1.25

c Rolt-Wheeler, Francis. The boy with the U. S. Survey. (U. S. service ser.) Lothrop $1.50

Engin. Digest, 6:431; N. Y. Times Sat. R. 14:669, Oct. 30, '09, 14:785, Dec. 11, '09.

b Singmaster, Elsie. When Sarah saved the day. Houghton $1

9-27449 Well written, dramatic story of a plucky little Pennsylvania German orphan who undertakes to keep her family together and save the farm from the grasp of an avaricious uncle. Faithful to the life and speech of the locality.

Wyss, J. D. von. The Swiss family Robinson; with illus. by Louis Rhead and an introd. by W. D. Howells. Harper $1.50 9-30111 Very attractive edition, save that the cover design proves ugly; small octavo, not too bulky to be carried about, clear, well spaced type, opaque paper of pleasant tint and many sympathetic and well executed illustrations.

c Zollinger, Gulielma, pseud. (W. Z. Gladwin). A boy's ride. McClurg $1.50

9-24698 A story of fine flavor and spirit, the plot turning on King John's jealousy of his barons and the striking resemblance between a friendless boy and a nobleman's son.
